OREWORD

Out of the turmoil of changing forms, out of the flux and flow of new songs, new voices, out of the welter and hurry of a university, tuned to the pace of America, we seek to draw forth a description which will be a permanent and immutable memory

RESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We, of the University of Washington, are the heirs of a noble past and the builders of a noble future. The courage and the daring of the pioneer carved our state from wilderness. A courage and daring akin to theirs, and animated by fine intelligence, alone can build a University worthy of our heritage. With reverence for the past, we must resolutely face the future.

EDICATION

TO EDMOND S. MEANY

He has stood among us like a tall fir among the generation of trees, and stored with all the richness of which the earth is capable, has not spared tongue or pen in our services. The score of years which have passed since last these pages paid formal tribute to Professor Meany serve only to increase the respect and reverence with which we dedicate to him

Review of Season

IT has been a great year for Washington and for Earl Campbell, the graduate manager. Mr. Campbell is a man of parts. He is a great hunter, an artist, and a financier.

First, he went hunting and bagged Jimmy Phelan of Purdue to coach Washington's football teams.

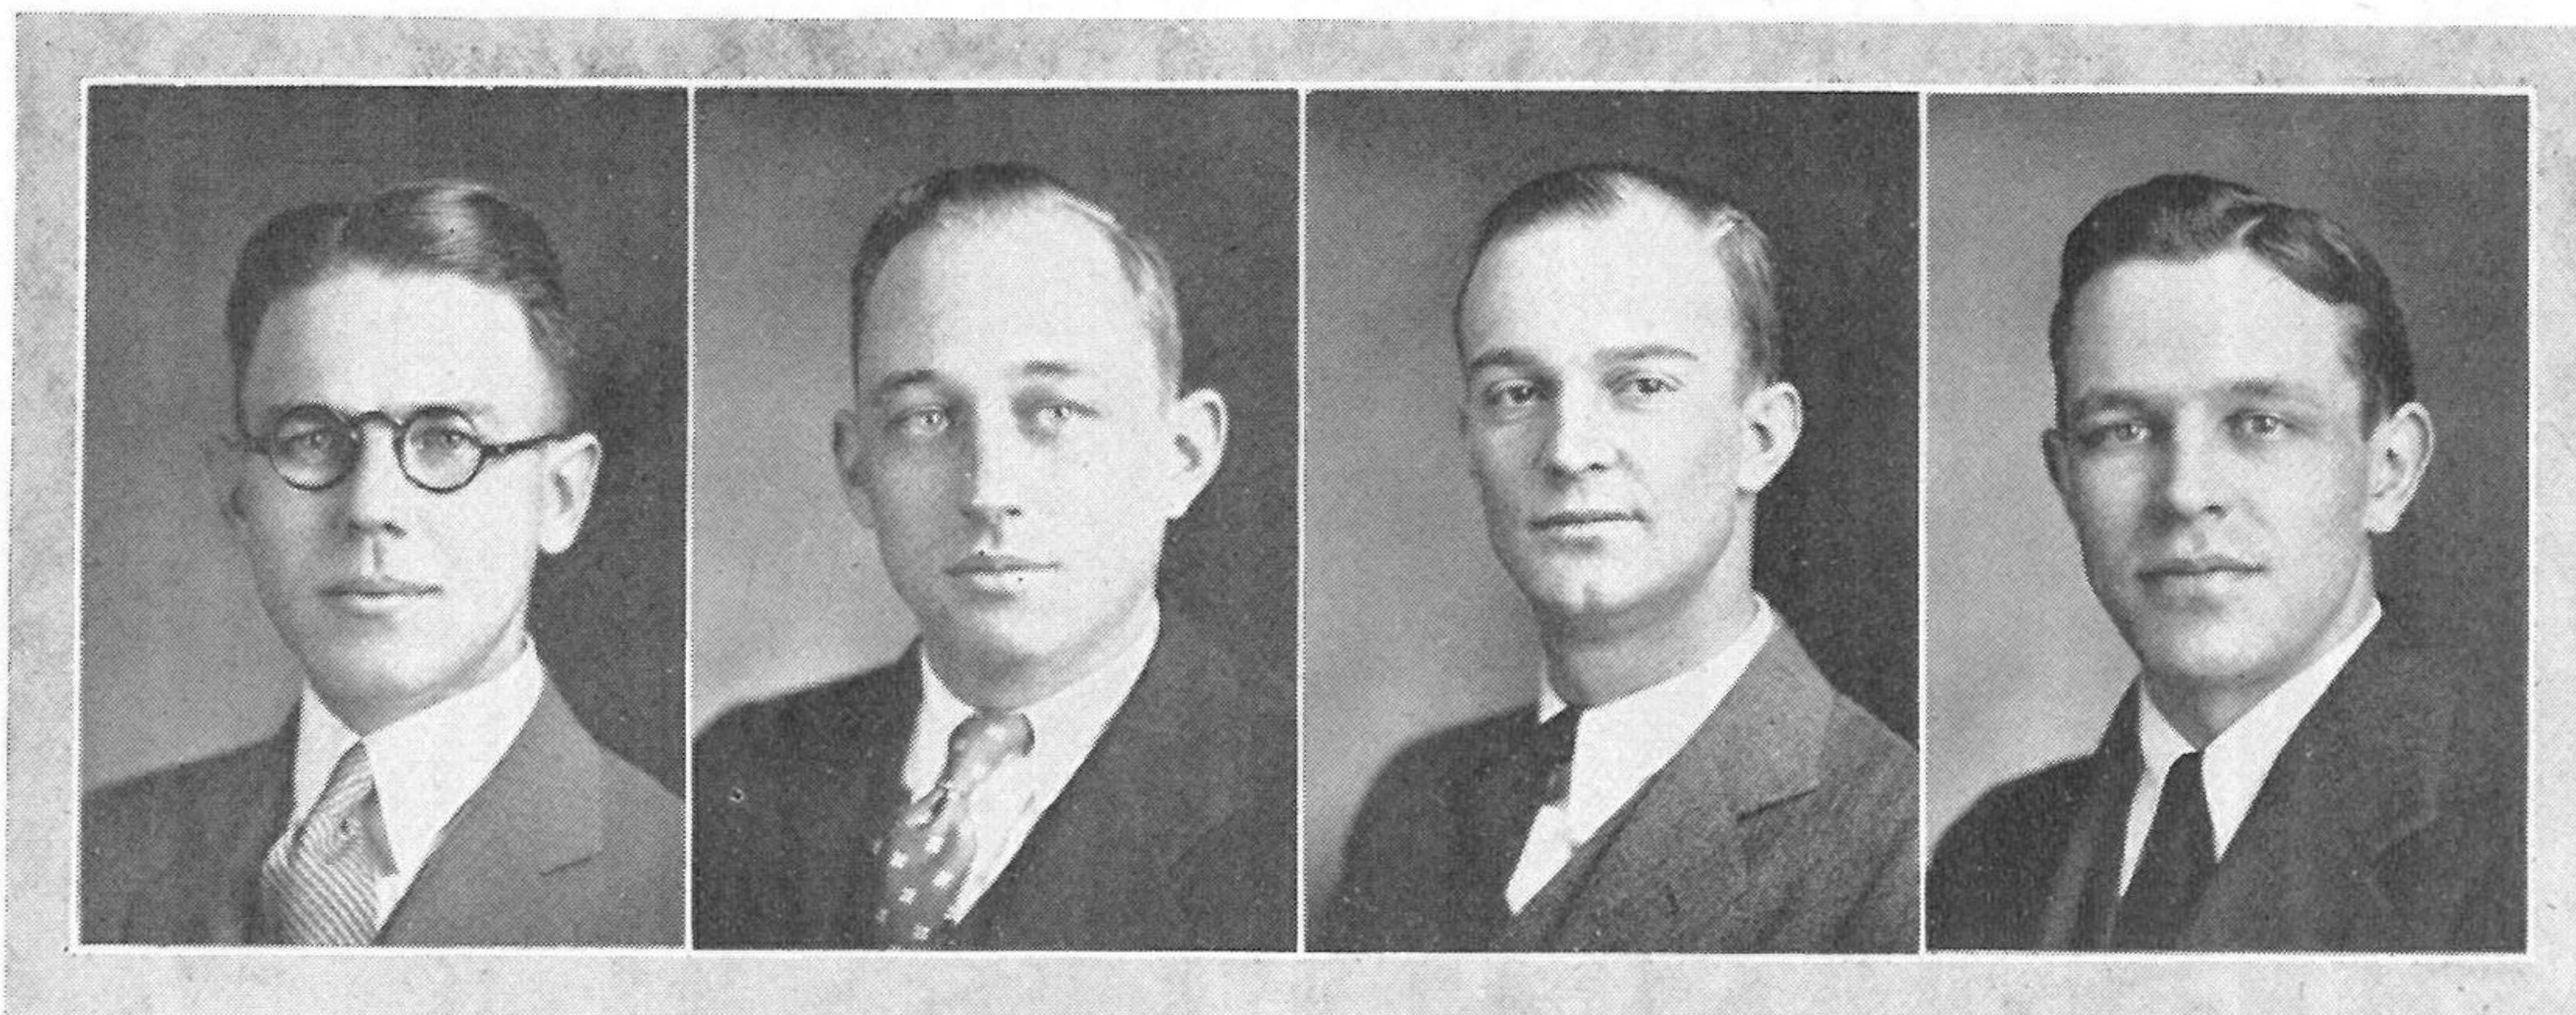

Next, he turned his attention to financial matters. He saw to the floating of a $150,000 bond issue to cover the student body indebtedness. Feeling that that wasn't enough, the A. S. U. W. bought the property north of the Book Store on University Way. During the summer the Book Store will be enlarged and improved inside, although the new property will not be used for several years.

The artistic effect of the athletic facilities next attracted the graduate manager's attention. Plans were made and put into effect for several more practice fields for the grid men. The Stadium was covered with green turf to soften the football men's falls and cut down their laundry bills. Last, but not least, the track around the field is to be resurfaced with brilliant red cinders in place of the old black ones, and a white cement curb is to be built to keep the runners from infringing on the rights of Phelan's men.

Yes, it has been a good year for Washington and for Earl Campbell.

BOARD OF REGENTS

PROBABLY there is no student in the University of Washington who has not heard of the Board of Regents, but very few are acquainted with the personnel of this body. This group of seven men, organized within itself into committees, has final decision in all matters of concern to the University as an institution.

A. H. B. Jordan, a paper pulp manufacturer of the City of Everett, is president of the Board; James V. Paterson, a retired ship builder residing in Seattle, vice-president; and Paul H. Johns, president and general manager of the City Lumber Company in Tacoma, is secretary. Other members of the Board of Regents are: J. D. Farrell, president of the Seattle Lighting Company; Roscoe A. Balch, office manager of the F. M. Rothrock Company of Spokane; J. M. Perry, head of the J. M. Perry and Company Cold Storage business in Yakima; and Joseph E. Lease, a retired banker of Centralia.

Plans were completed by the Board during the year for the Orrin Bennett Johnson Biology Hall. The various committees formed by the Board work in conjunction with President M. Lyle Spencer, who puts into execution the measures passed by the Board of Regents.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

DAVID THOMPSON, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, was born in Orrillia, Ontario, in Canada, February 21, 1871. He was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1892, and for the next three years he attended the University of Chicago. From 1899 to 1902 he was assistant Latin instructor at the same university. In 1902 he became professor of Latin at the University of Washington. He held that position until 1908 when he was granted a two years' leave of absence to study at the University of Munich. When he returned to Washington, in 1917, he became Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

IN the College of Liberal Arts, special recognition has been given to Professor Charles E. Martin in the political science department. Granted a leave of absence for the autumn and winter quarters, he served as visiting professor in the Orient under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment of International Peace.

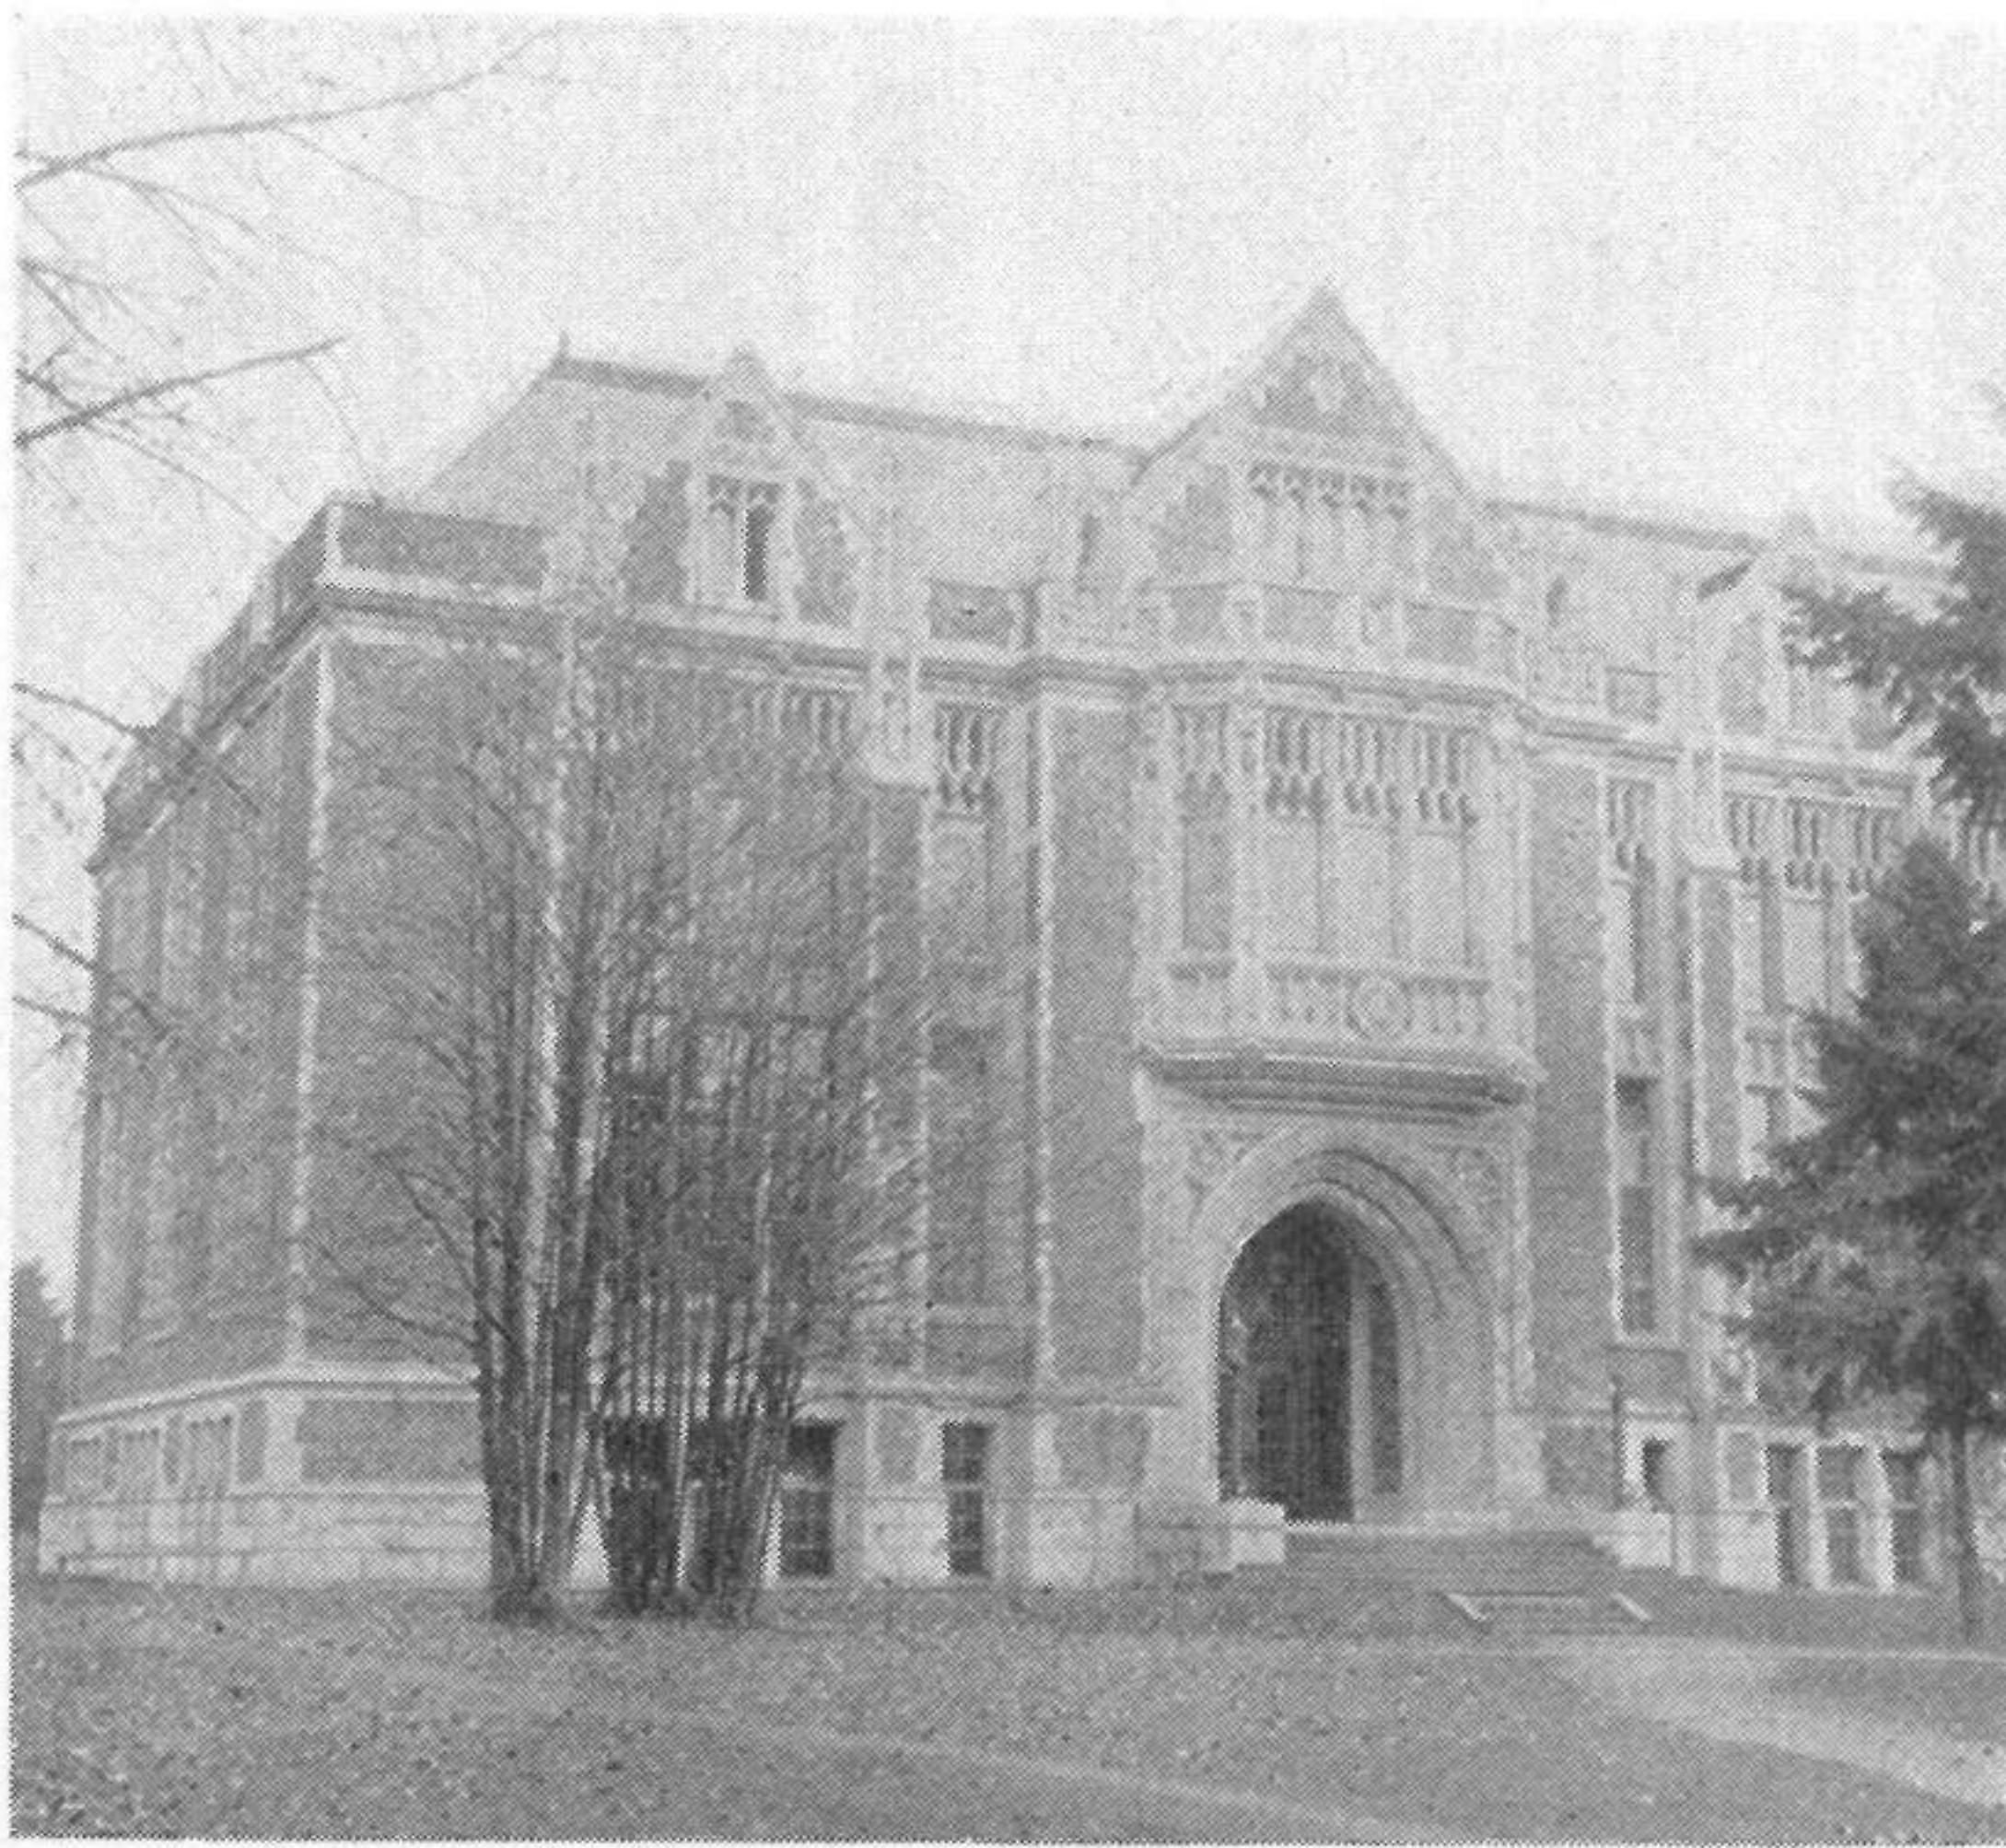

Withdrawals in this college number three; five professors have leaves of absence; and two new members have been added to the teaching staff. While Professor Edmond S. Meany was recovering from an automobile accident, his son, Edmond S. Meany, Jr., substituted for him in the history department.

Dean Glen

Education Hall

COLLEGE OF FINE ARTS

IRVING M. GLEN, Dean of the College of Fine Arts, was born in Brooklyn, New York, on February 14, 1871. He received his education at the School of Elocution and Oration and the Elwood School of Music, both in San Jose, California. From 1894 to 1896 he attended the John Hopkins University, and in 1897 he received his A. M. degree at the University of Oregon. He was professor of English and Latin at Linfield College during the academic year 1896. In 1901 he returned to the University of Oregon to become Dean of the School of Music. Since 1915 Dean Glen has served as Dean of the College of Fine Arts at the University of Washington.

OUTSTANDING credit has been granted this year to two members of the music department in the College of Fine Arts. Mrs. Francis Newenham, instructor of public school music, was named president of the Northwest Music Supervisors' Conference, and Charles W. Lawrence, professor of music, used as the music score in the mid-winter concert, his own master's thesis.

John Ashby Conway is at present the head of the dramatic arts department, succeeding Professor Lovejoy, who has accepted a position at Columbia University. Four other professors have been added to the faculty, and one man, Professor Ambrose Patterson, has a leave of absence to study and travel in Europe.

Dean Cox

Commerce Hall

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

WILLIAM E. COX, Dean of the College of Business Administration, was born April 5, 1887 in Van Buren, Arkansas. Receiving his B. A. degree in 1909 and his M. A. the next year from the University of Texas, Dean Cox has done graduate work at Stanford, Chicago, California, and Harvard during the years 1911 to 1917. He is national president of Beta Alpha Psi, national accounting fraternity, and a member of five other commercial honoraries. He is the author of Cost Accounting for Retail Fuel Dealers, which was published by the University of Washington Press in 1920. Dean Cox came to the University in 1919 and has been Dean of the College of Business Administration since 1926.

IN response to the widespread interest in common stocks as investment media, a course in The Stock Exchange has been introduced into the curriculum of the College of Business Administration. There are three new members on the staff of instructors: Donald H. Mackenzie, Harold M. Haas, and B. O. Wheeler. Dr. Howard H. Preston and Professor Theresa S. McMahon have returned after a year's leave of absence.

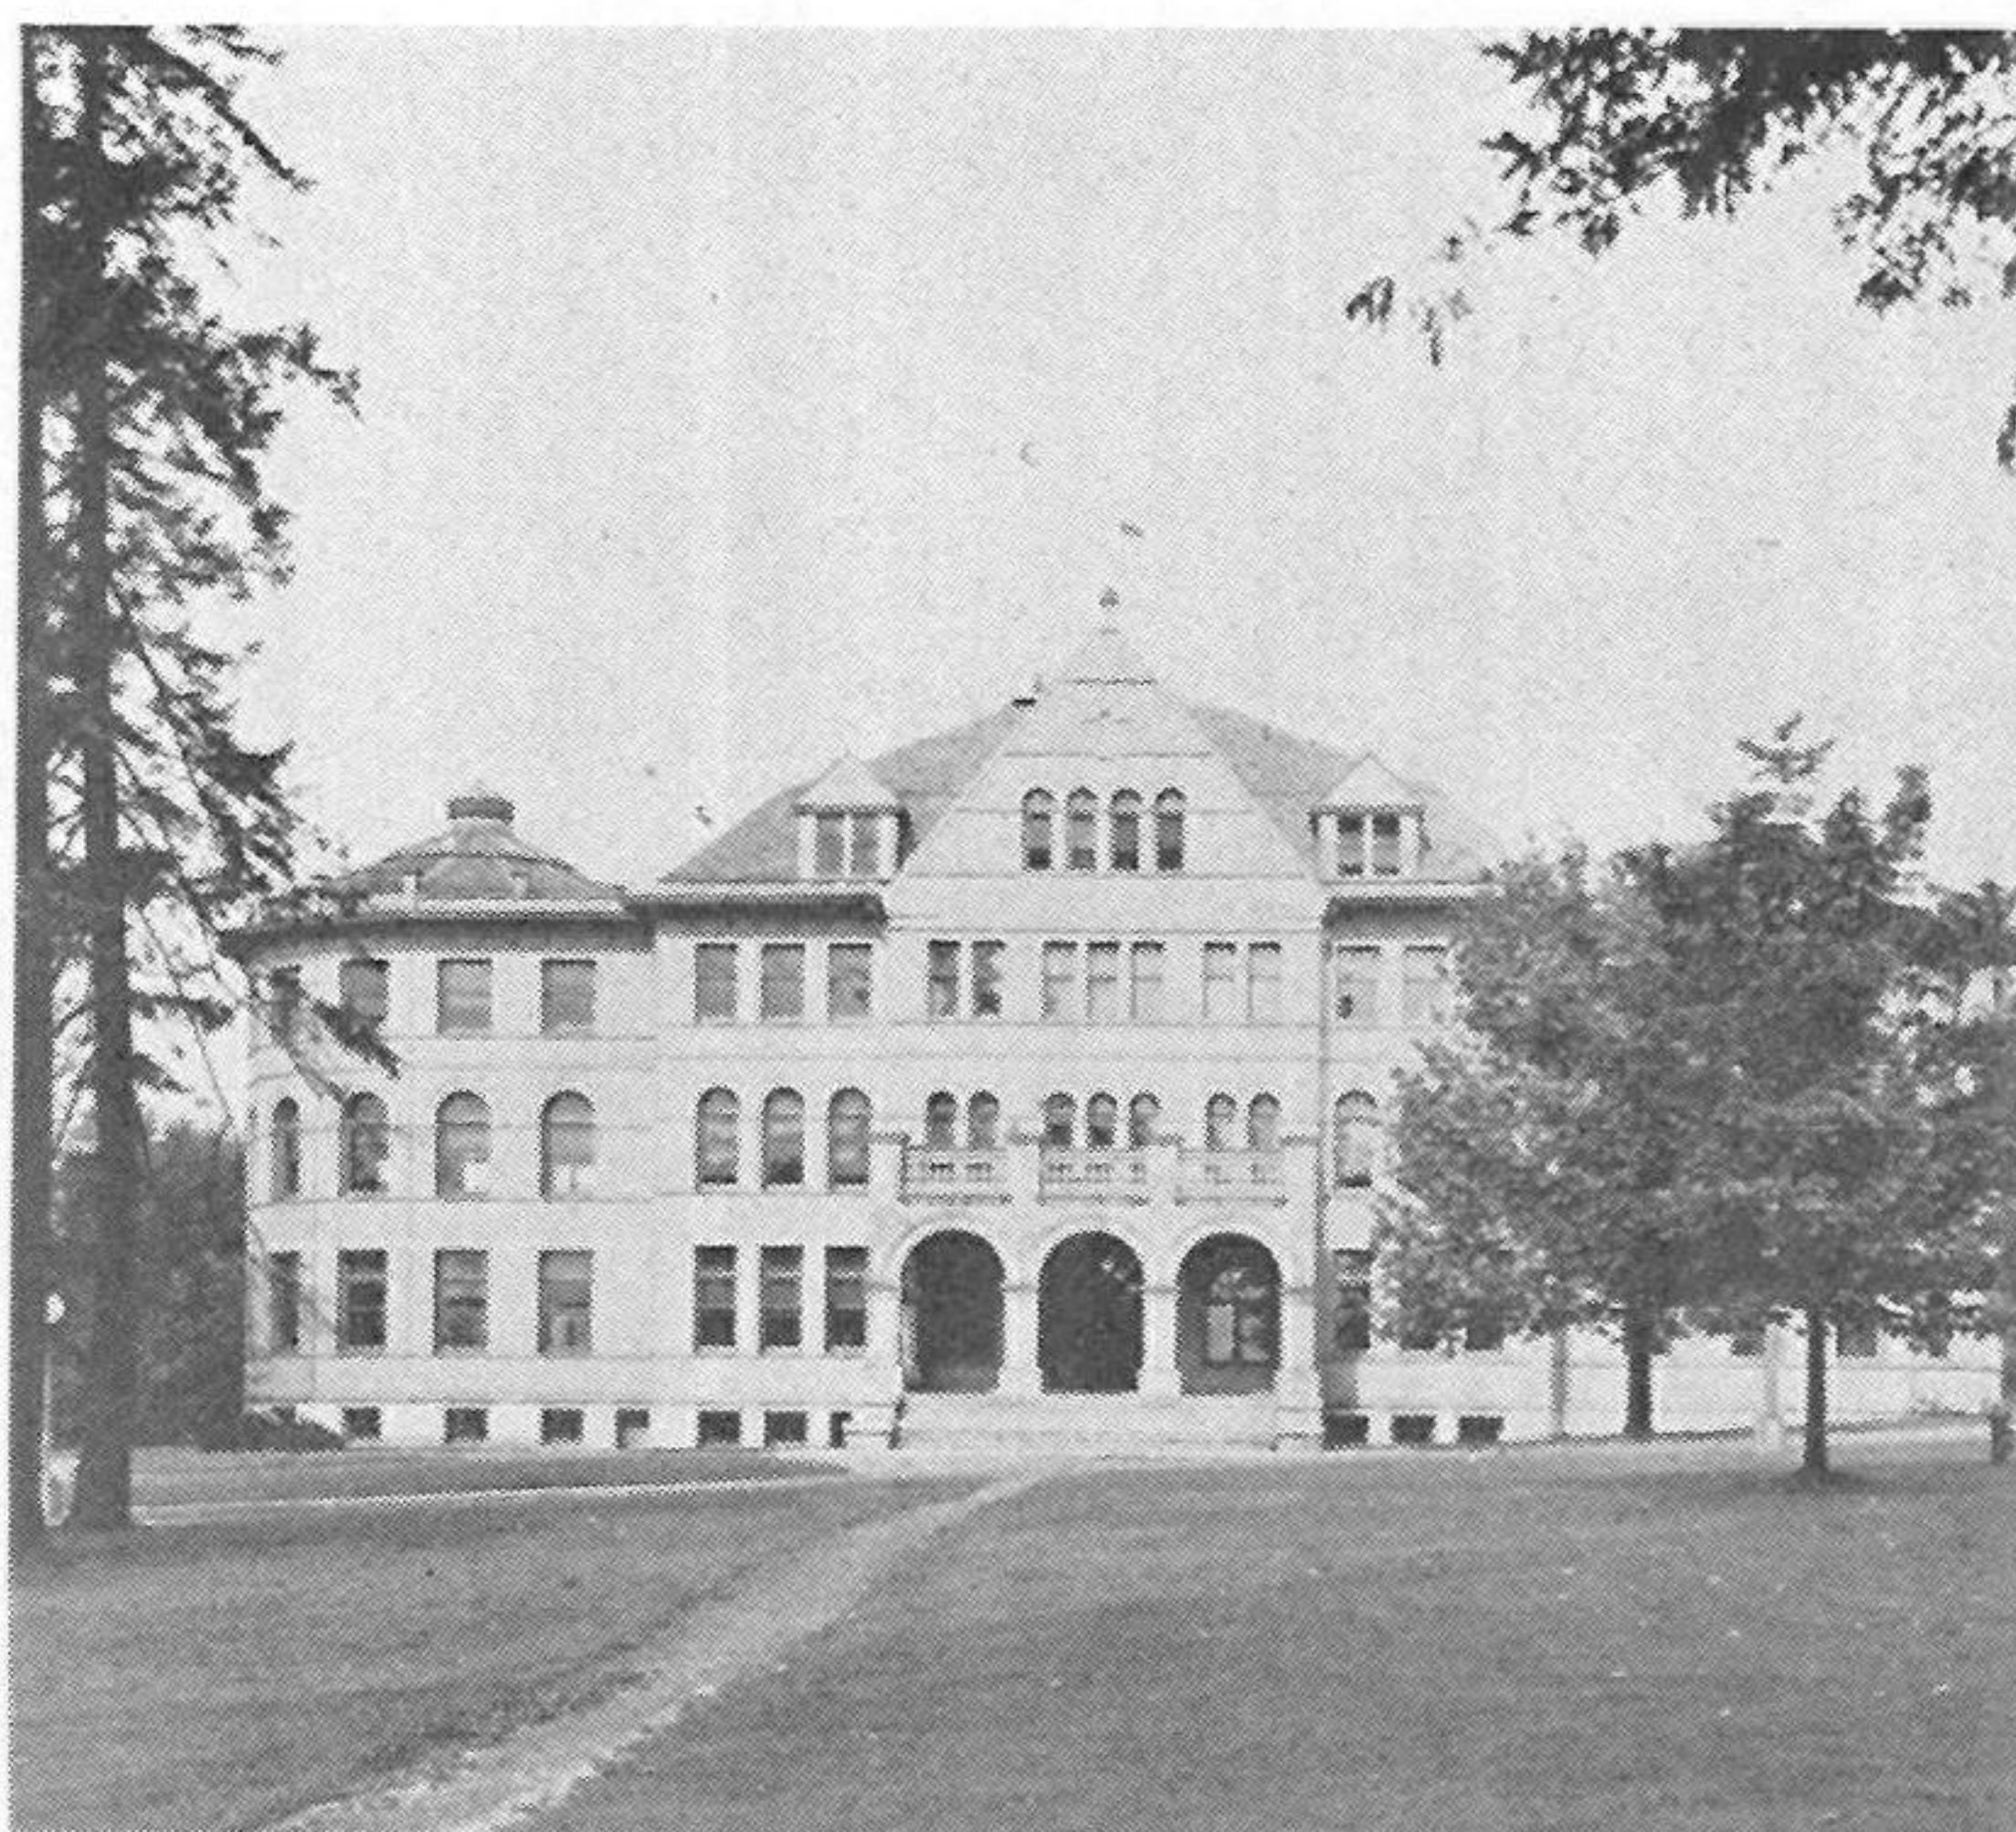

The Washington chapter of Gamma Epsilon Pi, women's national commerce honorary, won the cup which is awarded annually to the chapter having the highest scholarship throughout the United States.

Dean Landes

Science Hall

COLLEGE OF SCIENCE

HENRY LANDES, Dean of the College of Science, was born in Carroll, Indiana, on December 22, 1867. In 1892 he received his A. B. at the University of Indiana, and in 1893 he received an A. B. and an A. M. at Harvard University. He was made professor of geology at the University of Washington in 1895. In the school year 1914-1915 Dean Landes served as the acting president of this university, and since 1921 he has been Dean of the College of Science here. Dean Landes was also the State Geologist of Washington from 1901 to 1921.

NEXT year the College of Science will have as its official headquarters the new Orrin Bennett Johnson building, the biology hall, instead of the now famous Science building.

During the last year there have been many changes made in the faculty of this college. In the military science department alone, there are six new instructors, and four former members of the faculty have withdrawn. Fifteen professors have been added to the faculty in the other departments, with three others withdrawn and one on a leave of absence.

Dean Tyler

Engineering Hall

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

RICHARD G. TYLER, Dean of the College of Engineering, was born October 16, 1885, in Georgetown, Texas. He comes to the University of Washington from the position of engineer of Paris, Texas, and assistant of several other Texas cities. Dean Tyler succeeds Dr. C. E. Magnusson, who resigned to do research work, as Dean of the College of Engineering. He has been affiliated with the University of Texas; Dean of the Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical College; and associate professor of sanitary engineering in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dean Tyler is a member of the American Society for Civil Engineers, the Acacia fraternity, and Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Tau, engineering honoraries.

THE new department of aeronautical engineering has met with success. Construction was begun on the aeronautical building last summer, after the second house in the legislative body had approved the appropriation for equipment. The building is to be named after Daniel Guggenheim, who furnished money for its construction.

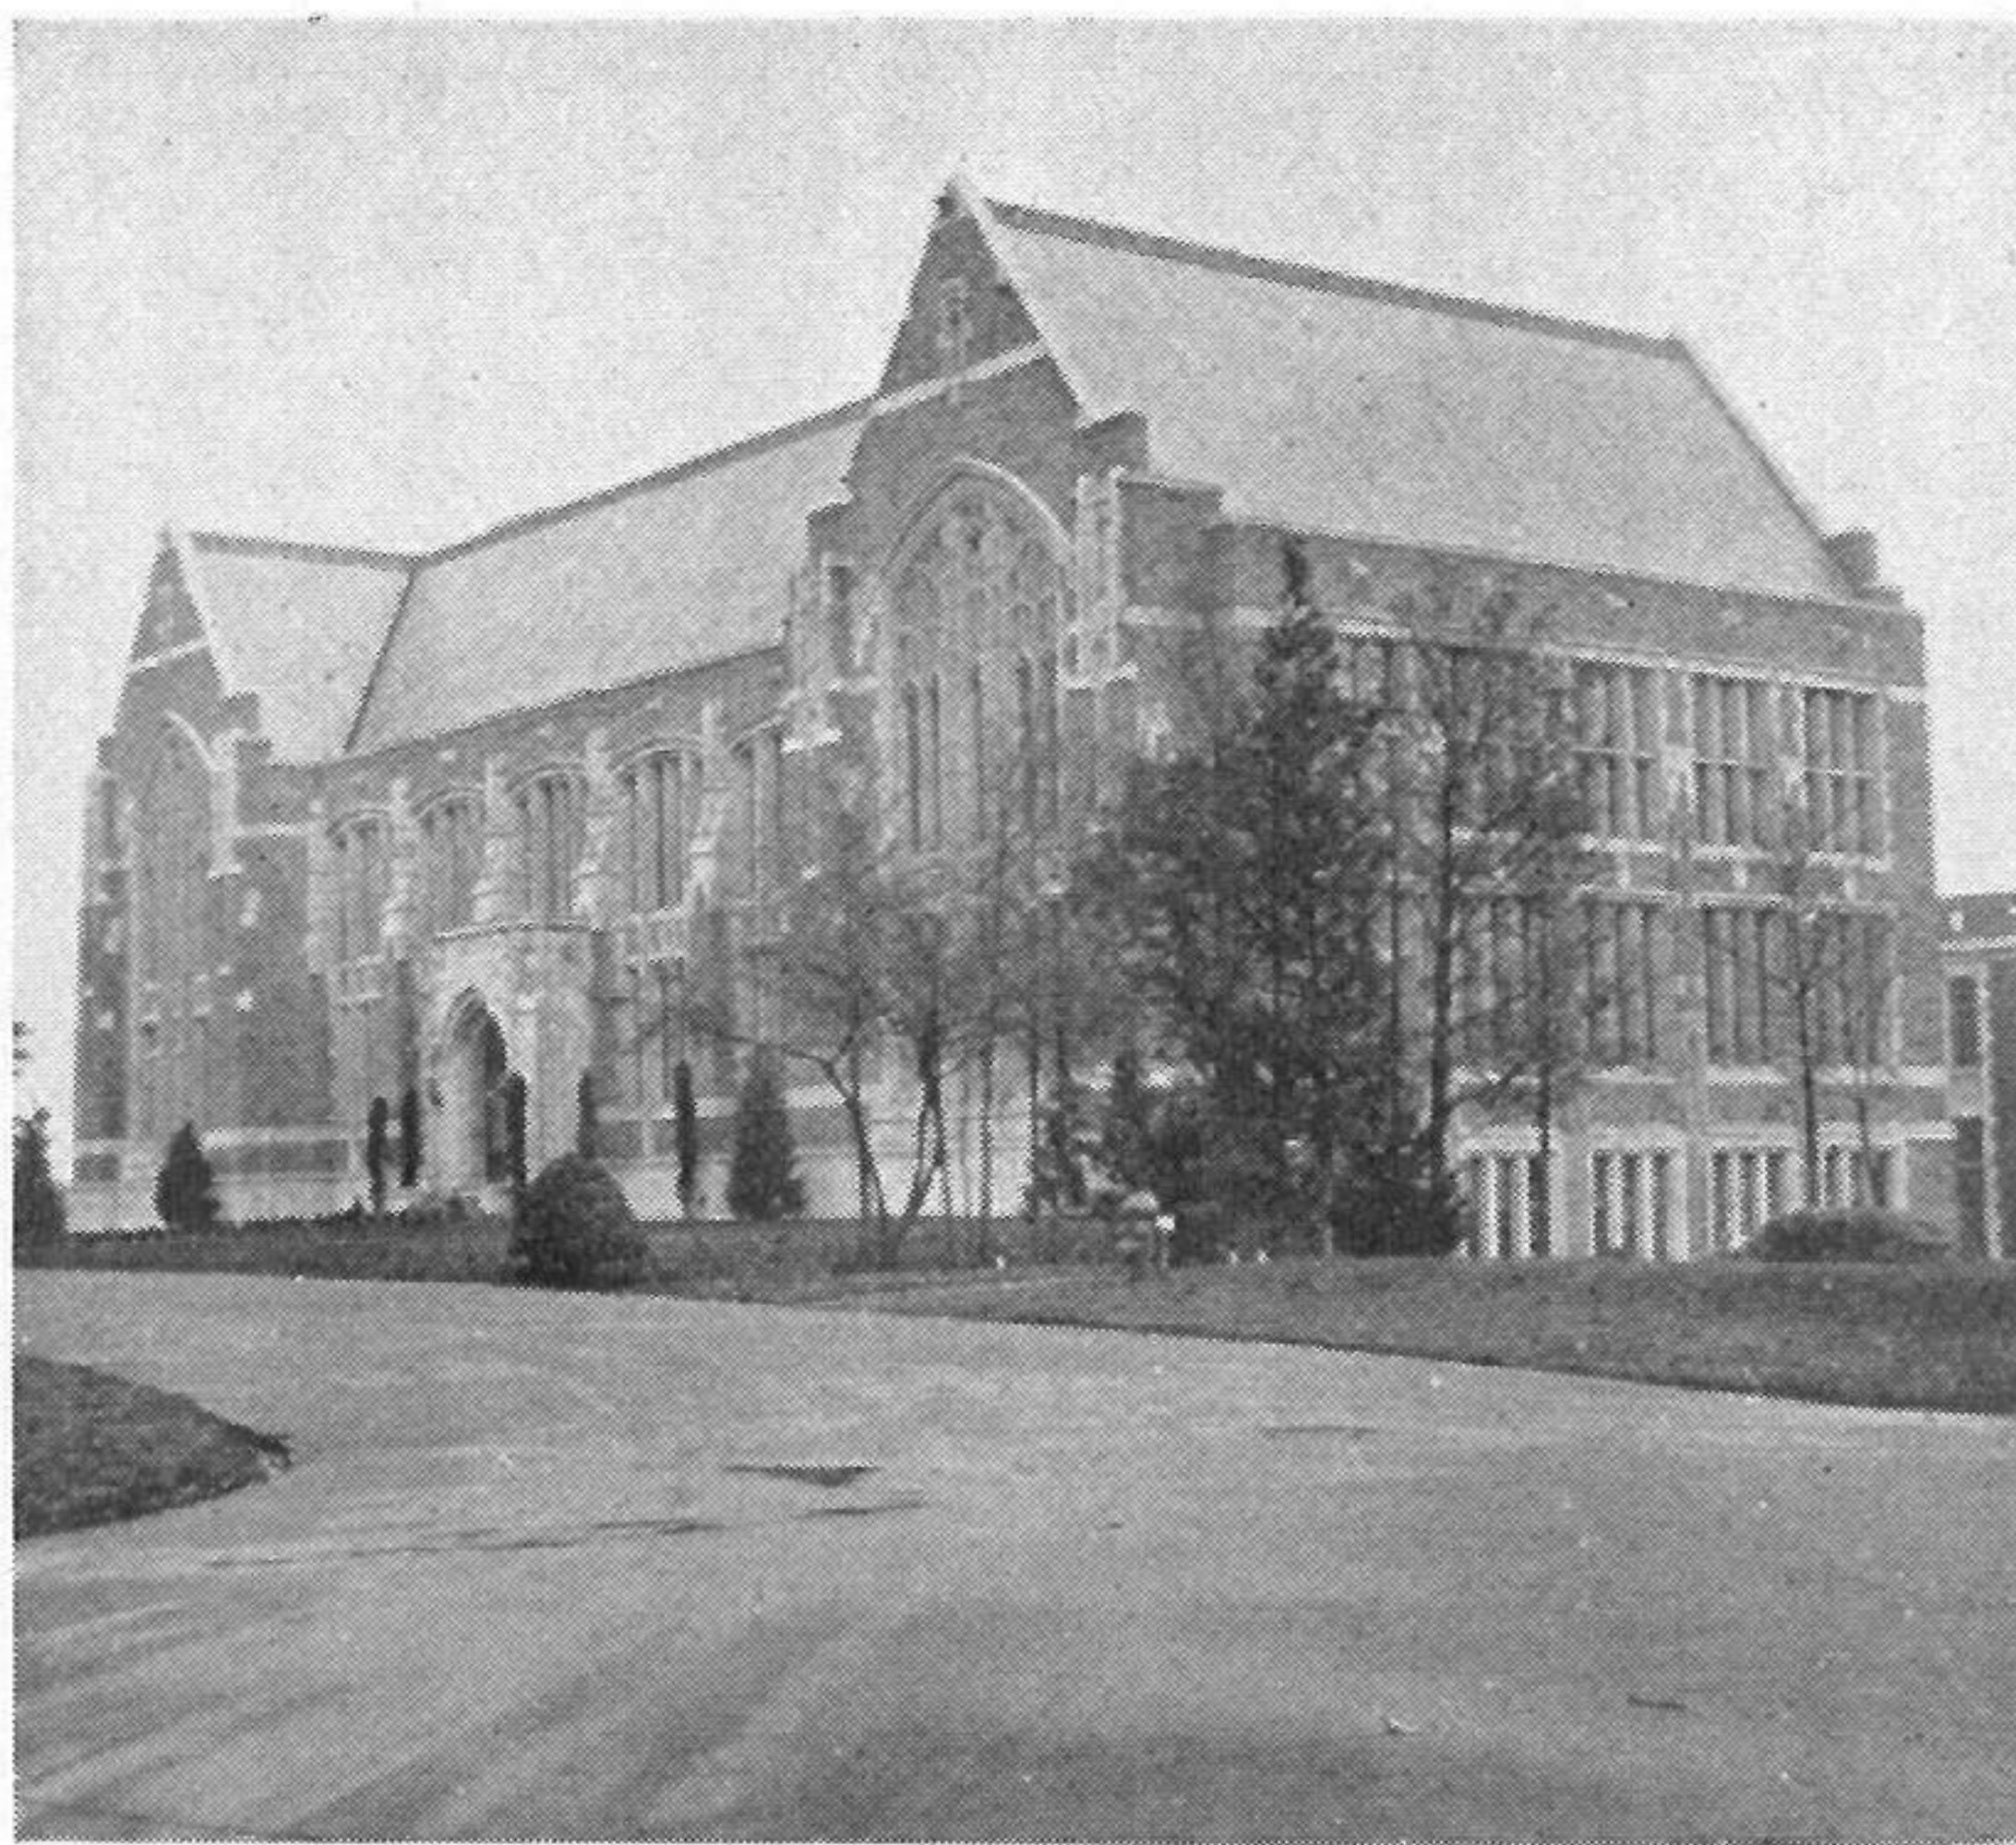

There are four new instructors in the College of Engineering: F. Eastman, R. Brown, S. R. Tymstra, and Sergius Sergen. Besides the bulletins regularly published by the engineering experiment station, several books and bulletins have been published by the faculty.

Dean Winkenwerder

Anderson Hall

COLLEGE OF FORESTRY

HUGO WINKENWERDER, Dean of the College of Forestry, was born March 16, 1858, in Watertown, Wisconsin. After receiving his B. S. degree from the University of Wisconsin and his Masters from the Yale School of Forestry, for four years he was an instructor in Sheboygan High School. He was then placed in charge of education in the United States Forest Service. In 1909 he left his assistant professorship in Colorado College to accept a similar position here, and was promoted to the office of Dean of the College of Forestry in 1912. Dean Winkenwerder was recently elected president of the Washington State Forestry conference, and is a member of the National Forest Policy committee.

A GIFT of $50,000 which was recently received by the Forestry School from Mrs. Agnes H. Anderson has been made a trust fund, the income of which will be chiefly used for graduate research fellowships. Another very valuable movement is being made whereby the entire Sophomore class in forestry is taken during spring quarter to the pack forests for field instruction.

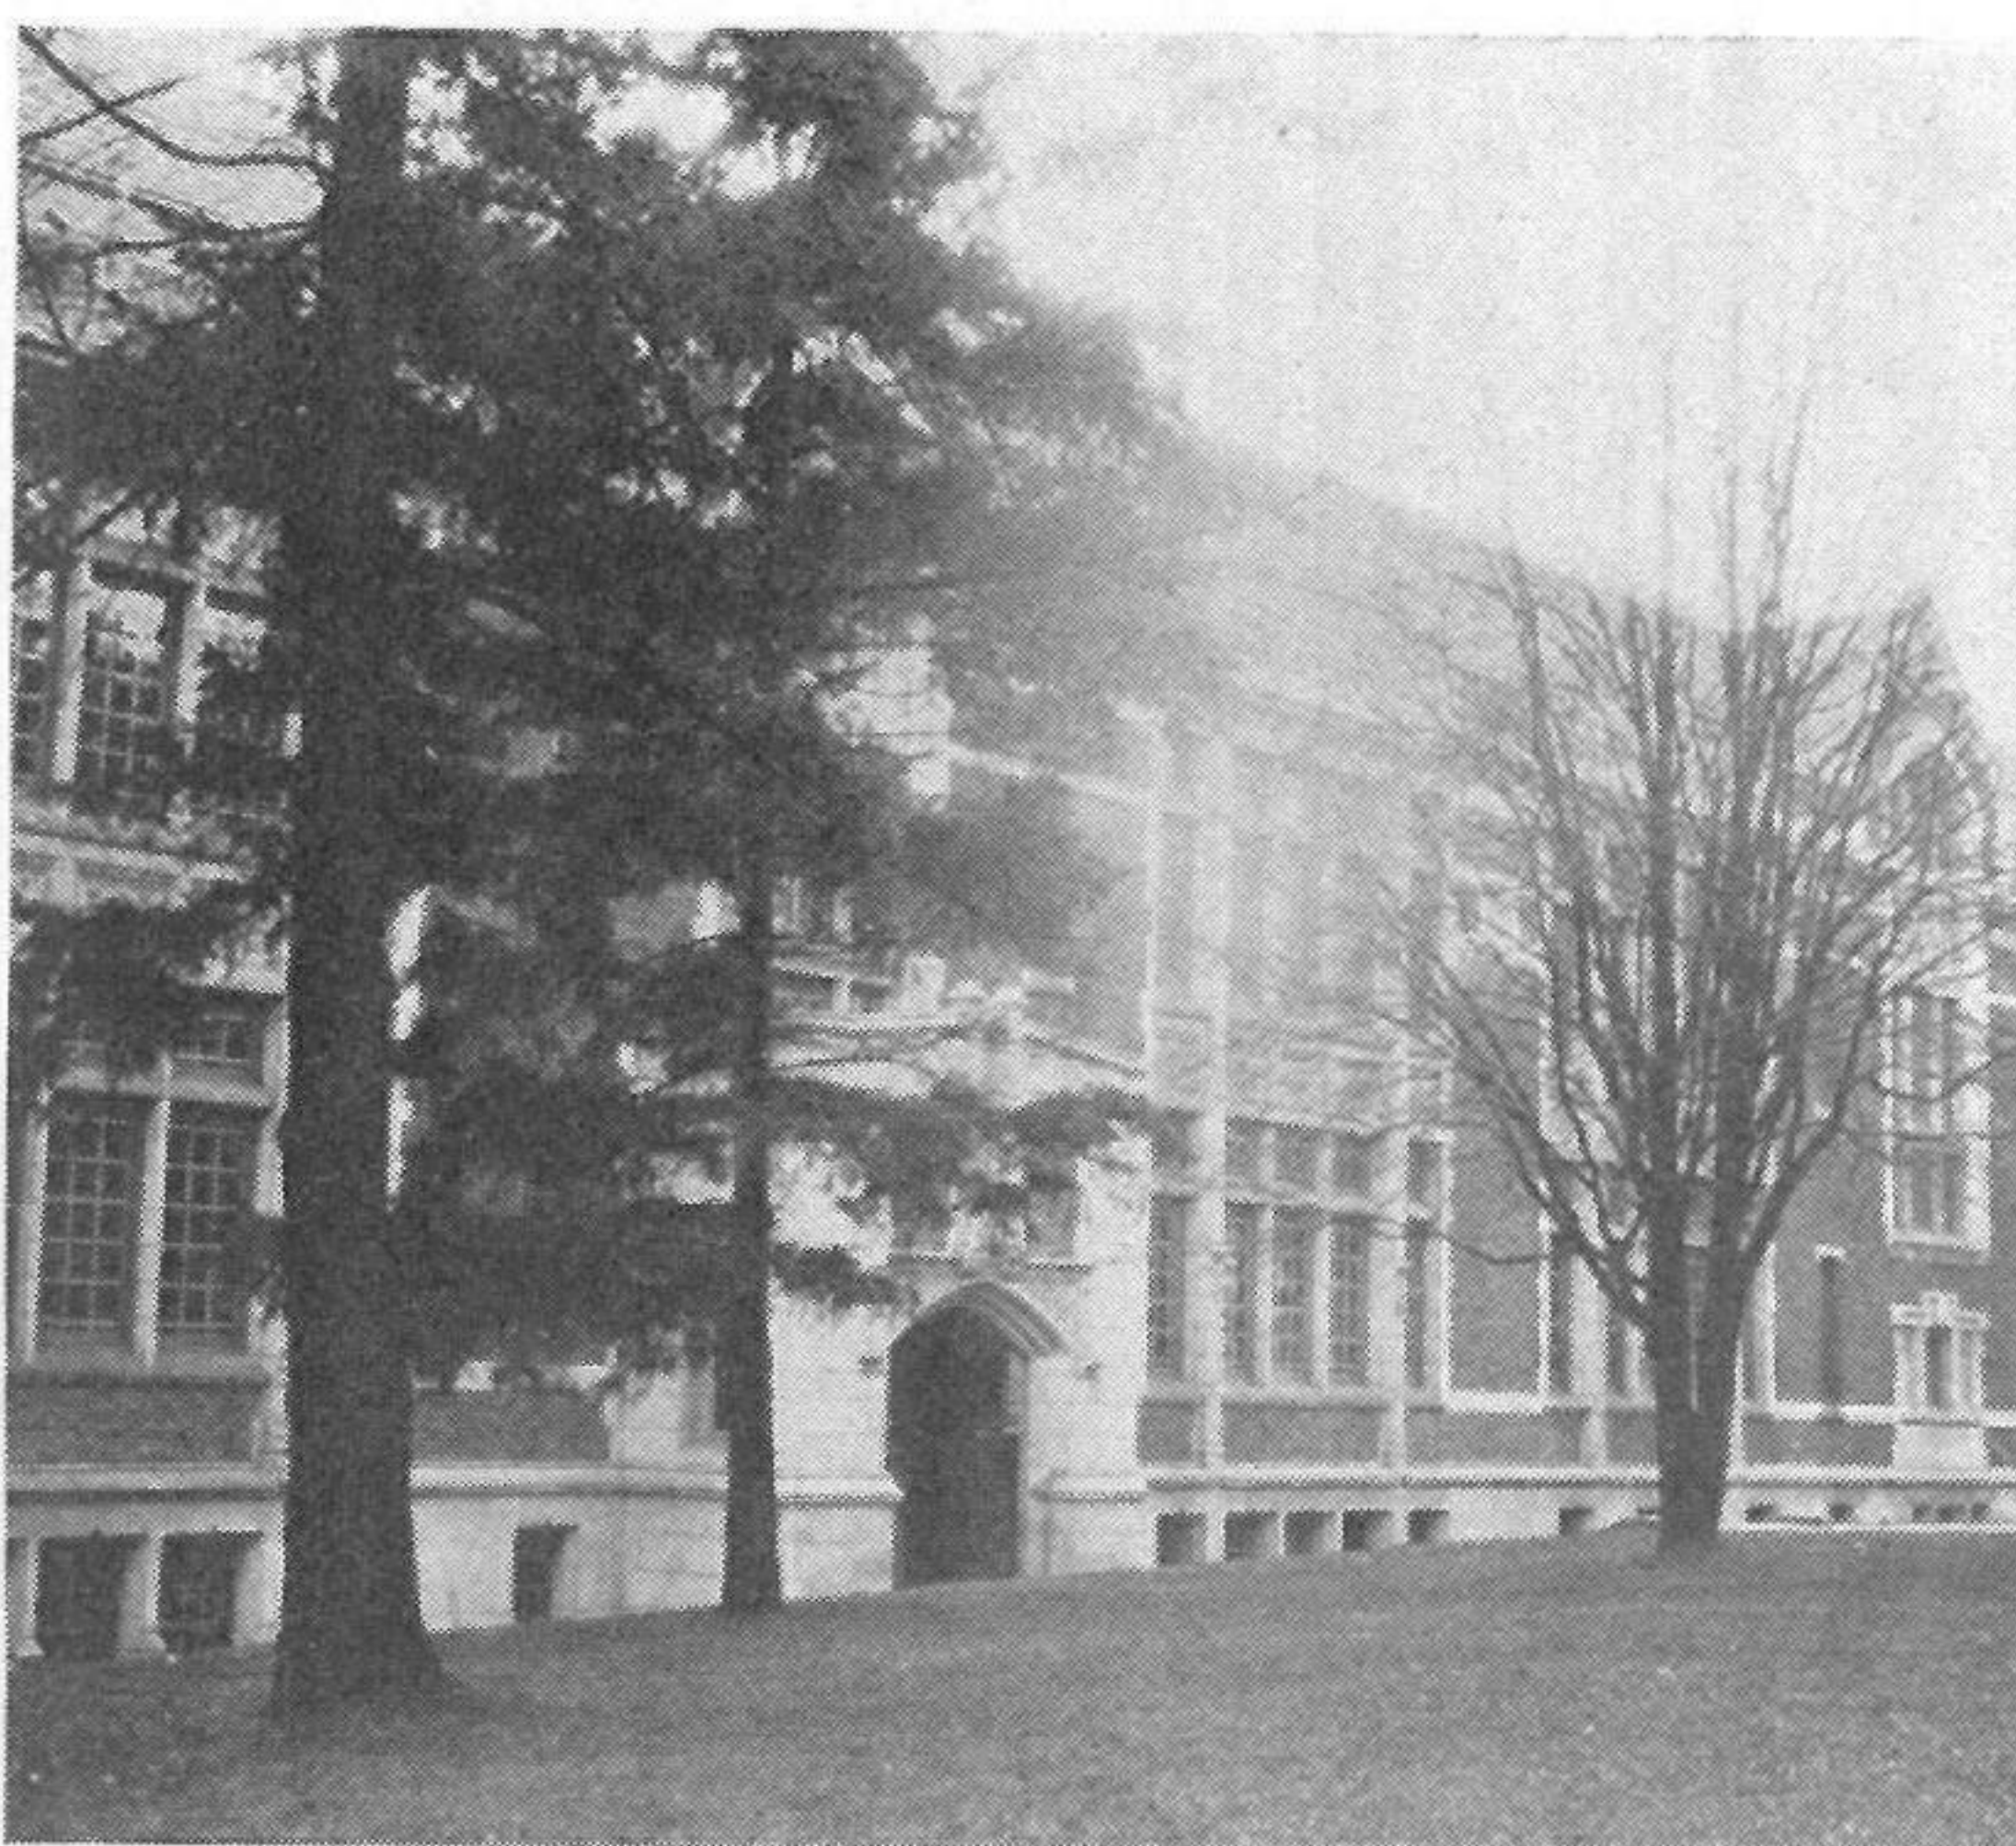

Dean Winkenwerder was reelected president of the Washington State Forestry Conference this year. The conference, held in the fall quarter, was attended by about seventy students of the College of Forestry.

Dean McKenzie

Commerce Hall

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

VERNON McKENZIE, who has been Dean of the School of Journalism for a year, received his B. A. degree at the University of Toronto, and his M. A. at Harvard University. From 1923 to 1925 he was lecturer in charge of the University of Toronto Journalistic Extension Course. Several projects were promoted by Dean McKenzie during his first year here. The practice of having a well-known newspaper man instruct classes for one quarter, and the practice of sending two sets of two students—during Easter vacation—over the State of Washington, to publish various weeklies, were the new innovations. Dean McKenzie was associated with a number of newspapers before coming to the University of Washington.

TWO new courses have been added to the curriculum of the School of Journalism. Journalism 125 and Journalism 225, dealing with the principles of journalism, and problems of journalism, respectively, are the new courses. Edwin Wintermute, formerly on the staff of the Providence, Rhode Island, Journal, and Ruth Stewart, a teaching fellow for the spring quarter, were the two new members of the Journalism school faculty.

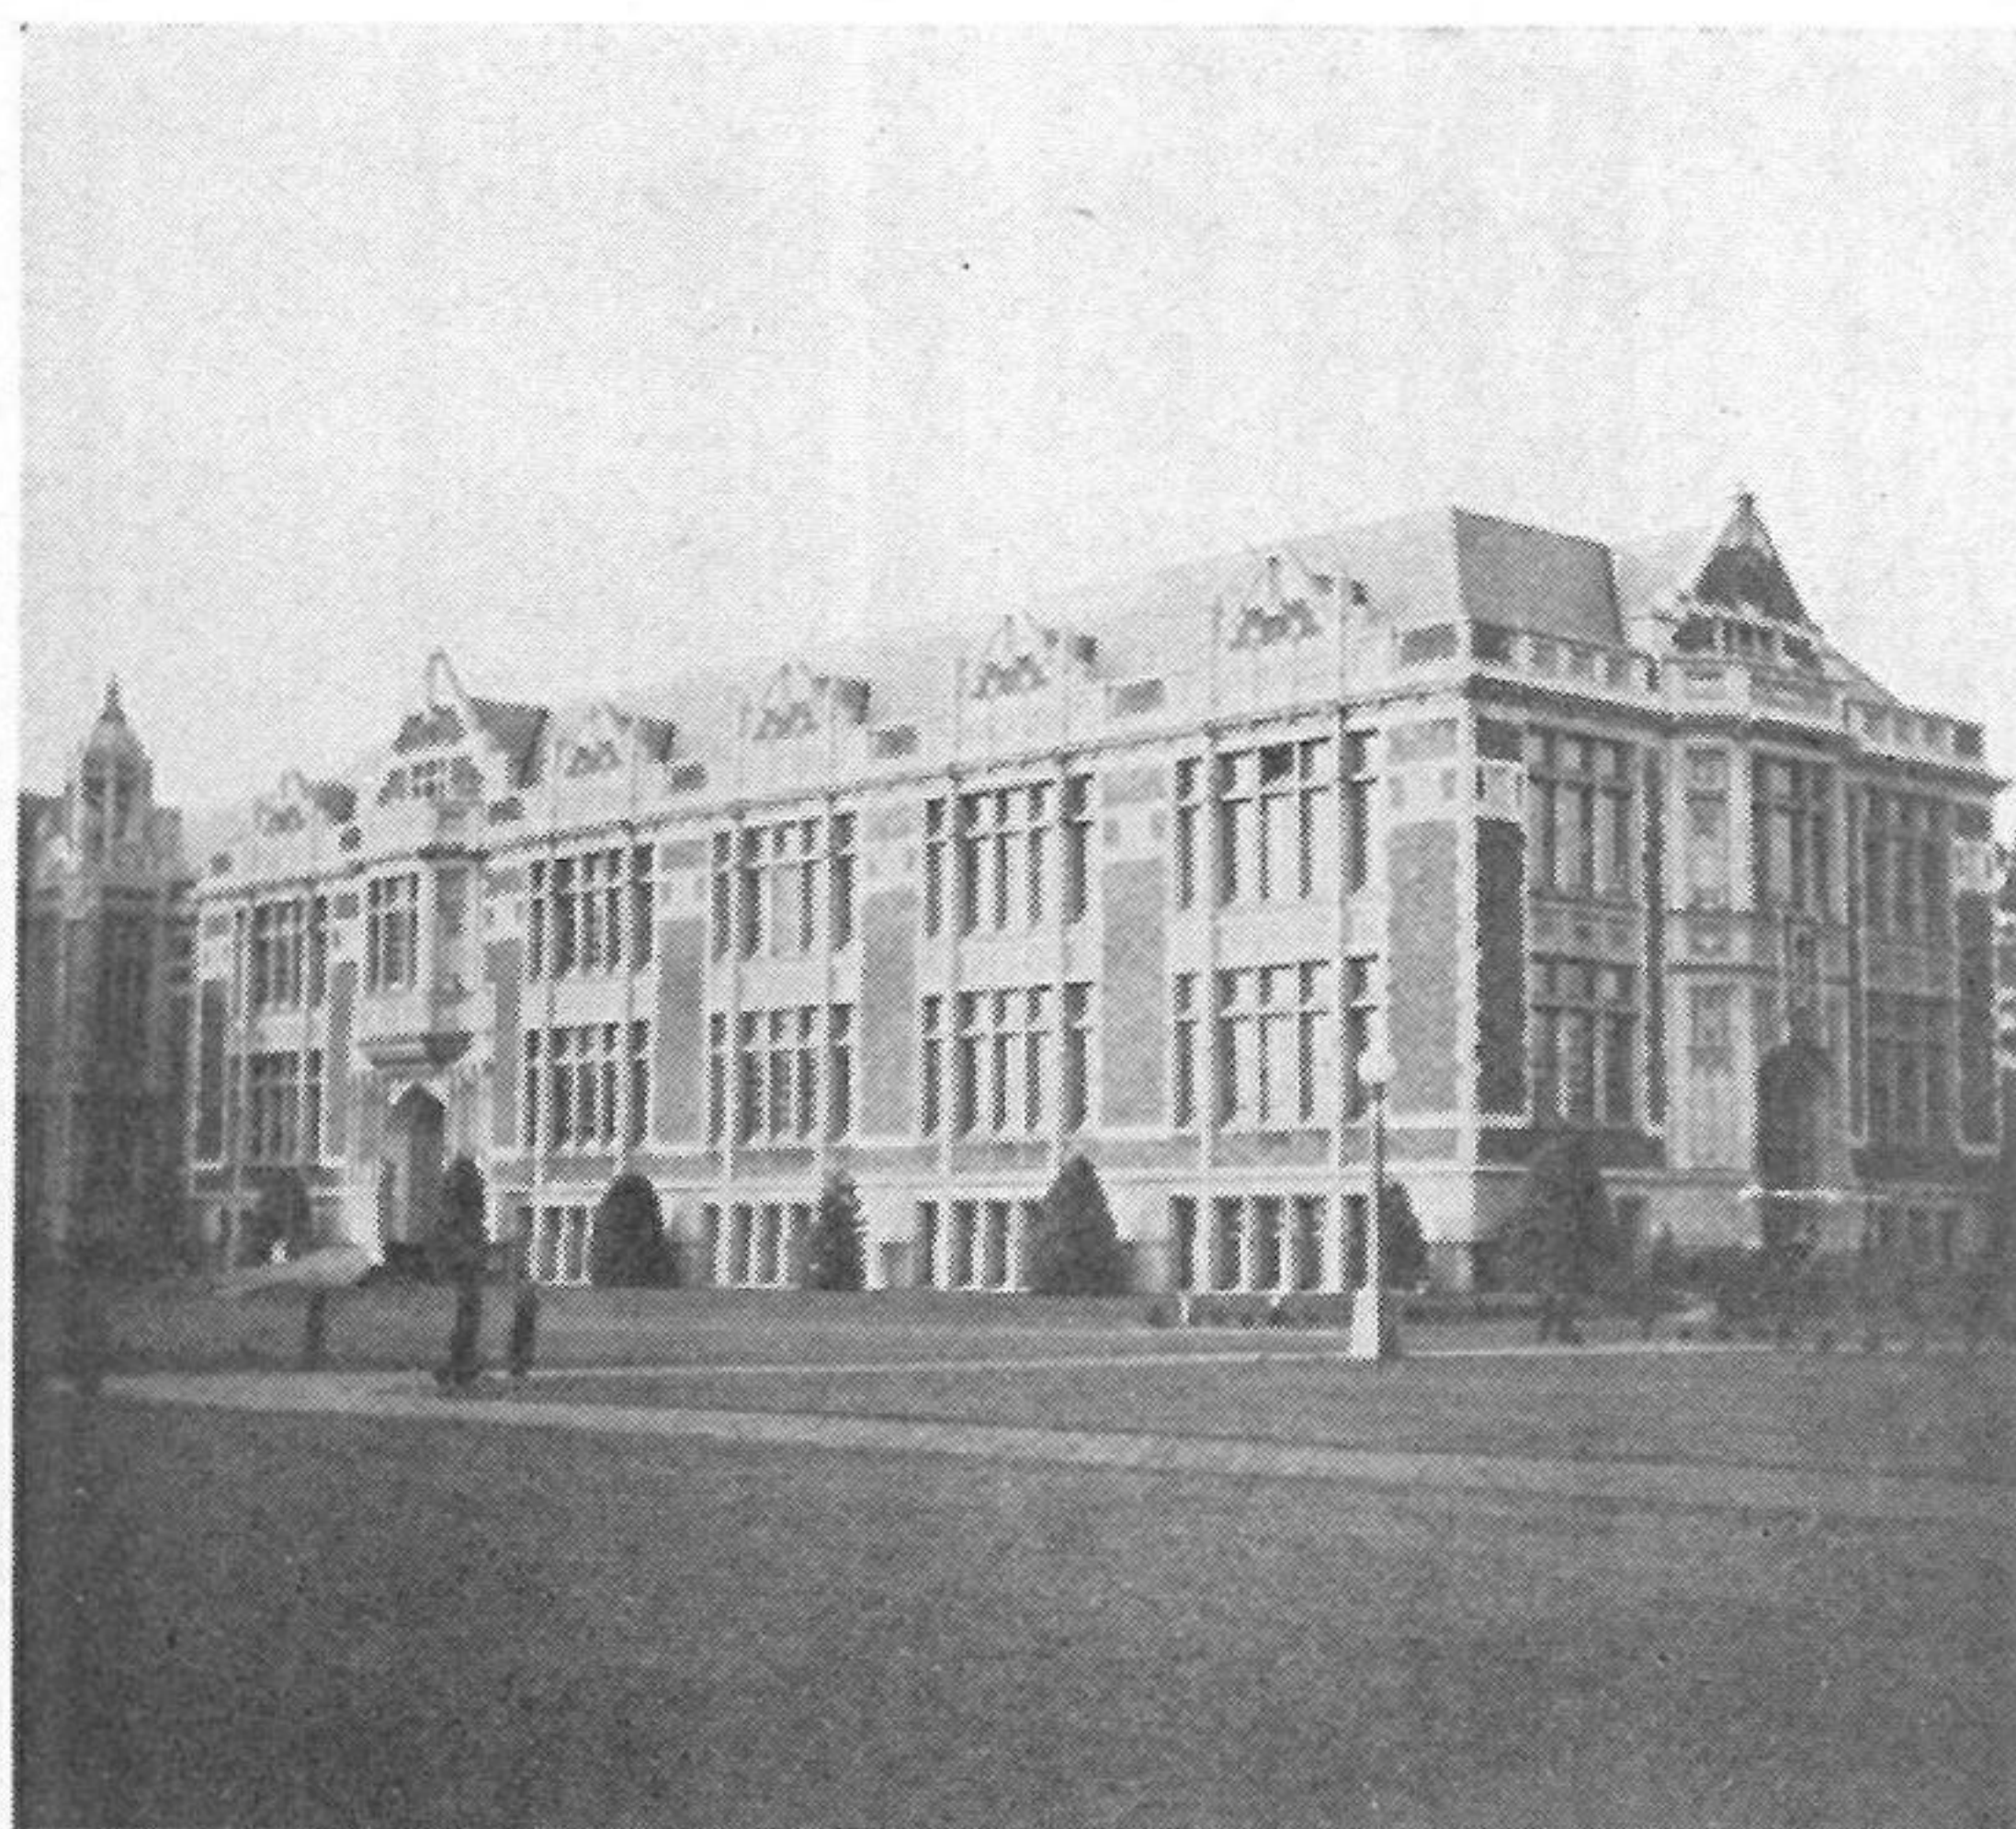

Dean McKenzie, Professor R. W. Jones, Byron Christian, Tom Barnhart, and several students have written numerous articles and short stories for publication.

Dean Schweppe

SCHOOL OF LAW

ALFRED JOHN SCHWEPPE, Dean and professor of Law, was born in 1895, in New Ulm, Minnesota. In 1916 he received his bachelor's degree and in 1917 his master's from the University of Wisconsin. He was made a doctor of laws at the University of Minnesota in 1922. He served as a part-time instructor in both these universities. From 1922 to 1926 he practiced law in Seattle, first with the firm Tanner and Garvin, and then with Long and Schweppe. He is a member of the Seattle and the Washington bar associations. Dean Schweppe was a lecturer on law at the University from 1923 to 1926 and has served as the Dean of the School of Law since that time.

TO take the place left vacant at the resignation of Professor Clark P. Bissett, Vivian M. Carkeek has been appointed as the only new member of the Law school faculty. The school enrollment has increased this year to 258 students.

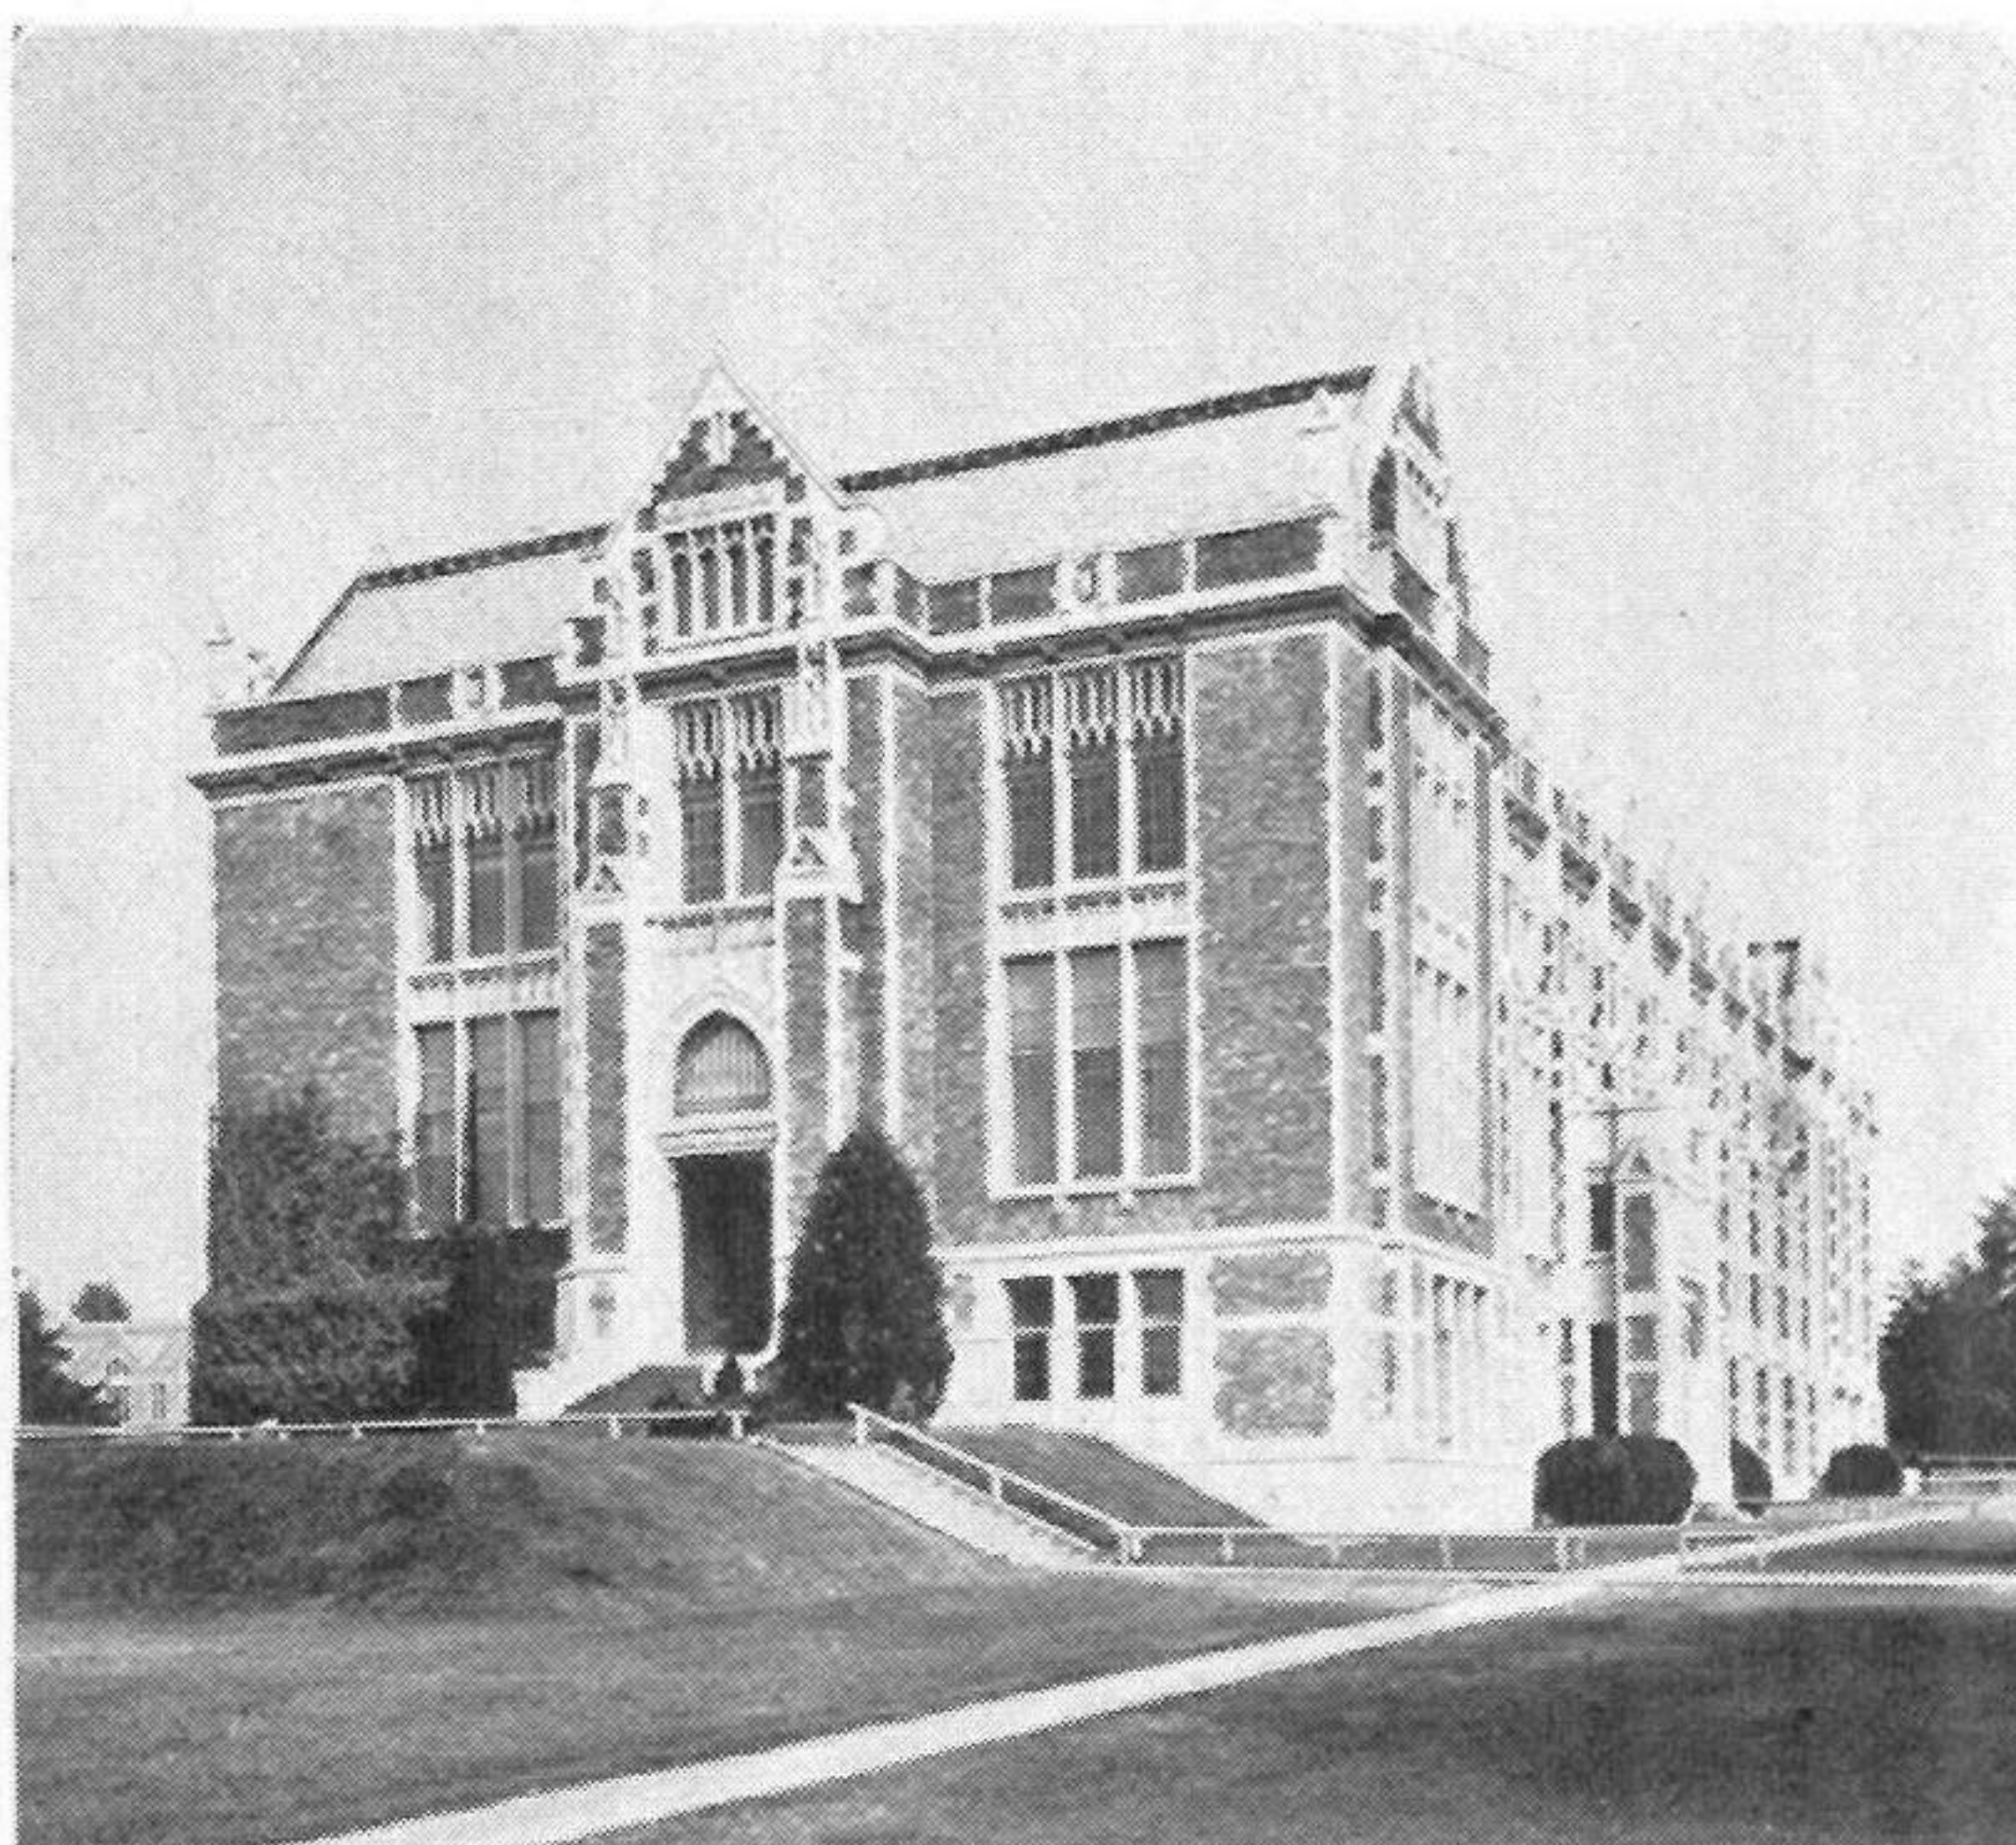

Because of his scholarship, personality and professional ability, the name of J. Gordon Gose was engraved on the Phi Alpha Delta plaque which hangs in the Law Library. Herald O'Neill, a Senior in the University this year, was student editor of the Washington Law Review this term.

Dean Uhl

Education Hall

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

WILLIS UHL, Dean of the School of Education was born April 22, 1885, in Angola, Indiana. Taking his B. A. degree from Northwestern University in 1911 and his doctor's degree from the University of Chicago ten years later, he was for four years professor of education at Northwestern University. Since that time he has been acting associate professor of education at both the University of Wisconsin and at Yale. Dr. Uhl has been Dean of the School of Education at the University of Washington since 1928. He is a member of the National Society for the Study of Education and is the author of many articles on elementary and secondary education.

GREAT recent advancement in the School of Education is exemplified by the closer affiliation of the education courses with the Seattle public schools. The amount of practice teaching for students in the department has been increased by fifty per cent. Plans are being made to increase affiliations much more by the recent adoption of the "Follow-up" movement. By this plan students who have been graduated will be watched in their future work, and a definite record kept of their progress in succeeding positions.

Dean Roberts

Mines Laboratory

COLLEGE OF MINES

MILNOR ROBERTS, Dean of the College of Mines, was born in New York, in 1877. Dean Roberts was educated at Hartford, Connecticut, Cutler Academy at Colorado Springs, and Stanford University. He was an instructor at Stanford for two years while carrying on graduate studies in mining and geology. In 1901 he came to Washington as Dean of the College of Mines. He has frequently served as an officer in local and national engineering societies and on semi-public committees in Seattle. Dean Roberts represented the University in the establishment in 1910 of the Mine Safety Station of the United States Bureau of Mines, followed in 1916 by the Northwest Experiment Station.

AS the University has developed, Dean Roberts has designed and equipped four successive laboratories for mining and metallurgy, the new Mines Laboratory and its equipment having cost a third of a million dollars.

The instruction for mature mining men now takes the form of a Mining Institute, which is held each January for one week, drawing an attendance of more than one hundred. The College of Mines has the most strategic situation of any in America as regards the availability of mines, metallurgical works, ceramic plants for study, and the field of opportunities for graduates.

Dean Cobb

Fisheries Building

COLLEGE OF FISHERIES

JOHN NATHAN COBB, Dean of the College of Fisheries, was born in Oxford, New Jersey, on the twentieth of February, in 1860. From 1886 until 1890 he gained experience as a newspaper reporter and editor. As field agent he served the United States Bureau of Fisheries from 1895 until 1904; he was also assistant Alaska salmon agent with the same bureau. During the years 1913 to 1917 Dean Cobb was the editor of the magazine, the Pacific Fisherman. He has been with the University since March, 1919, and has served in his present capacity, as Dean of the College of Fisheries, since that time.

Leonard P. SCHULTZ, ichthyologist, is the only new member of the faculty of the College of Fisheries. Professor Schultz comes to the University of Washington from the University of Michigan.

"The Curing of Fishery Products," a text book by Norman Davies, and the fourth edition of "Fishery Products" by Dean Cobb, constitute the books written and published by members of the fishery staff.

The Washington College of Fisheries is the only one outside of Japan and China that treats all branches of Fisheries; and by right uses of fishery resources promotes interest in the state and United States.

Dean Johnson

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

CHARLES WILLIS JOHNSON, Dean of the College of Pharmacy, was born in 1873, at Concord, Indiana. In 1900 he received a B. S. degree and in 1903 his doctor's, from the University of Michigan. Prior to coming to Washington, Dean Johnson acted as instructor of chemistry at the University of Michigan, and also at the University of Iowa. He has been at Washington since 1903, serving first as assistant professor of chemistry and in 1904 as professor of pharmacy and Dean of the College of Pharmacy. Dean Johnson is state chemist, and supervises in a special laboratory the analysis of foods and drugs under the statutes. He is assisted in this work by Louis Fischer and Mrs. McCormic Mehan.

THE College of Pharmacy is next year taking a great forward step in educational standards in that the old three-year course is to be abandoned. No longer will a student in pharmacy be able to get registration papers to practice the profession in this state without having attended school for the full baccalaureate time, because the state law requires graduation as necessary for obtaining a license. The change to this new basis has made necessary a radical revision of the present curricula.

Dean Johnson is now on an extended leave of absence, and Dr. E. V. Lynn is acting as dean and state chemist until his return.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

FREDERICK MORGAN PADELFORD, Dean of the Graduate School, was born in Haverhill, Massachusetts, February 27, 1875. His boyhood was spent in Calais, Maine. He received his bachelor's degree at Colby College in 1896 and proceeded at once to Yale, where he took the doctorate in 1899. From 1899 to 1901 he taught English at the University of Idaho, and in 1901 he came to the University of Washington. Dean Padelford is now completing his twenty-ninth year of service at this institution. In 1920 he became Dean of the Graduate School, and in 1925, assistant dean of faculties. For the last several years, his publications have largely concerned the poetry of Edmund Spenser, but as a scholar, Dean Padelford is best known for his researches in 16th century English literature.

WITH an enrollment of more than 500, exclusive of the summer attendance, the Graduate School has assumed an important place in the world of higher education. The number of students being trained for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, which is the highest academic degree, is constantly increasing and the candidates are distributed over many departments.

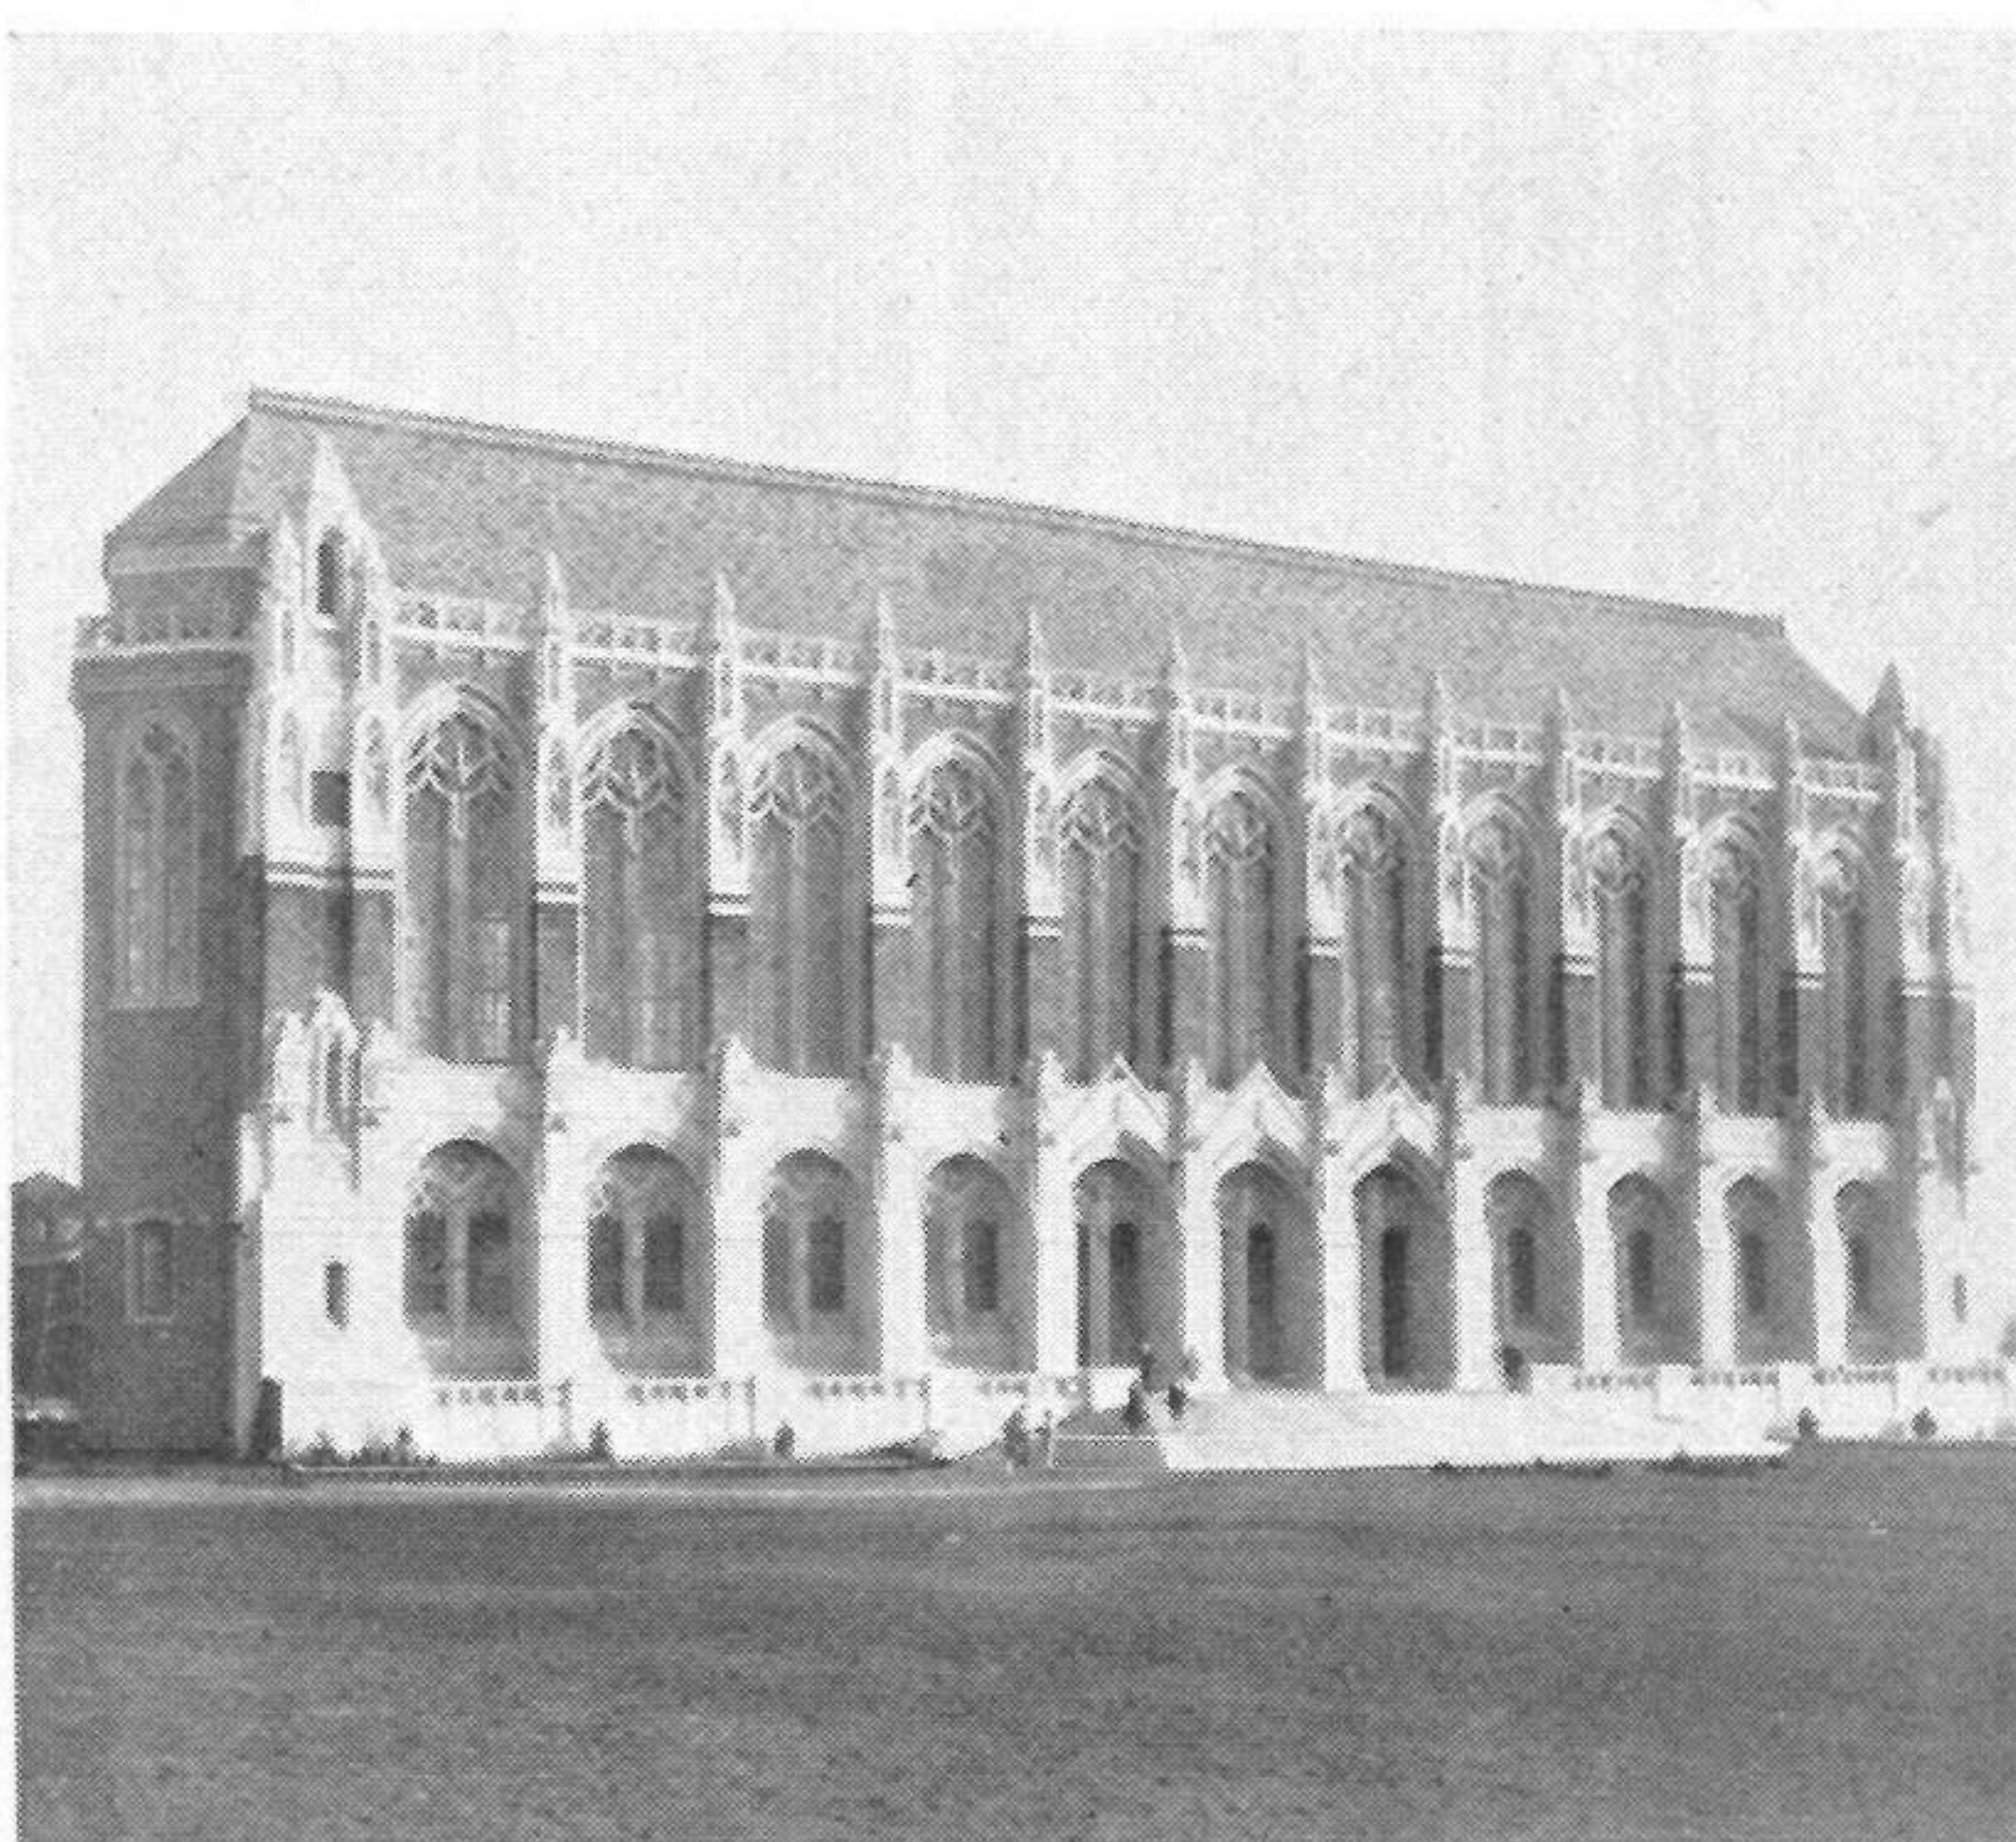

The Graduate Club which was organized last year, and the Graduate Council which represents the different schools and colleges on the campus that are concerned with graduate work, have been very active during the year.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARY SCIENCE

WILLIAM ELMER HENRY, Dean of the Library School, was born in Connersville, Indiana. He was graduated from the Indiana State Normal School at Terre Haute in 1885. Having received his A. B. and A. M. degrees at the University of Indiana in 1891 and 1892, he did post-graduate work at the University of Chicago. Dean Henry held a fellowship in English from 1894 until 1895 at the University of Indiana. He was principal of Peru High School, and head of the English department at Franklin College in Indiana from 1895 until 1897. Serving at Washington since 1906, Dean Henry was made Dean of the School of Library Science in 1926.

TO stress children's work, several new courses concerning that subject have been added to the curriculum of the Library School; and Mrs. Marie Alfonso, who was formerly head of the University Catalog department, is now giving her full time to the Library School as assistant professor of Library Science.

During the last year Dean Henry has written two new pamphlets entitled "Why a Public Library?" and "Quality of Teaching in Library Schools." Siri Andrews, assistant professor of Library Science, has translated "Olaf, Lofoten Fisherman" from the Norwegian.

H. E. Smith

EXTENSION SERVICE

HARRY EDWIN SMITH, Director of the Extension Service, was born at Marshall, Illinois, in 1881. He received his bachelor's degree from De Pauw in 1906, and his doctor's from Cornell in 1912. Professor Smith was an instructor at De Pauw from 1905 until 1908, and later he accepted a position at Cornell University. He was assistant professor of Economics at the University of Washington from 1914 until 1916, when he went to Montana State University. He re-entered the faculty of the University in 1919 as associate professor of Business Administration. Serving as acting director of the Extension Service in 1927, he was made Director of the Extension Service and Professor of Business Administration in 1929.

IN the Extension Service there are 3500 enrolled in classes and 2050 enrolled in home study this year.

One of the special features of the Extension Service is the institutes that are held each summer. For several years a series of graduate medical lectures extending over a period of one week, when several outstanding medical men discuss the latest developments in their respective fields, have been conducted. For a shorter time a similar series of lectures have been conducted for graduate nurses. Last summer for the first time a like institute for social workers was held.

H. A. Burd

SUMMER SCHOOL

HENRY ALFRED BURD, Summer School Director, was born in Armstrong, Illinois. In 1910 he was graduated from Illinois Wesleyan University with a B. S. degree Magna Cum Laude. He received an M. A. in 1911 and in 1915 a Ph. D. from the University of Illinois. Professor Burd was head of the English department at Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio, from 1912 until 1914, and instructor of English at the University of Wisconsin for two years. He came to the University of Washington in 1924 as associate professor of Business Administration. In 1927 he became professor of Business Administration and Director of Summer Quarter.

SUMMER sessions were started at the University of Washington in 1904, with 114 students enrolled. During the summer of 1929 the enrollment was 3039, representing 26 states and nine foreign countries. Trend seems to be toward graduate work in the summer as that school had the largest enrollment in the 1929 session.

The faculty last summer consisted of 157 members of the regular University staff and 40 visiting professors. For the first time courses were given in Industrial Arts, and emphasis was placed upon Education courses.

SENIOR CLASS

THE long black-robed commencement line will lead more than a thousand members of the 1930 class into the spotlight for the last time as undergraduates.

First among its accomplishments this class treasures its progress in the reinstatement of dead and dying traditions of Washington. Junior Girls' Vodvil has come back to stay under the direction of this year's graduating class.

Junior Day customs were enlarged upon and strengthened during the third year of their regime at Washington.

As Seniors in college, their every minute has been filled with service-giving activity to the Alma Mater they are leaving behind with the end of the spring quarter. Senior Shine and Class Day traditions have been carried out fully.

The class inaugurated a new idea this spring with the Senior Prom, an all-Senior formal at the Inglewood Golf and Country Club. It may be that they have established a new tradition at Washington.

The Grade Point Average is computed by the assignment of the following weights to each credit hour: A, 4; B, 3; C, 2; D, 1; and E, 0.

The group standings are computed as follows: By taking one-twentieth of the difference between the average of the men's groups and the number representing a perfect score, a scale interval is determined. The scale then is represented by the numbers 1, 2, 3, etc., the sign plus being prefixed to the numbers above and the sign minus to those below the average. The women's group standings are similarly obtained. These standings are shown in the above table for the convenience of those who are interested in comparing the scholastic standings of groups in different institutions. The essential feature of this method has been adopted by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, the Conference of Deans and Advisers of Men, and the Inter-fraternity Conference.

JUNIOR CLASS

PEP and progress have been twin headlights on the bandwagon in which the Class of 1931 is riding through its four years at college.

First of all, the class originated the beard-growing contest for second-year men—a contest which seems to have been accepted as a tradition by the class which followed.

As a complete blow to the campus at large, the Juniors started out the year by eliminating dues collection because of the large balance on hand. They cooperated with the Senior class in putting over the Junior-Senior Barn Dance, "A Nite in Jail" during fall quarter, and burst forth alone in glory when the "Nautical" Junior Prom was staged at the Eagles' Auditorium January 31. Web Anderson handled the affair.

Following out the success of last year's class the '31's staged a bigger and better Junior Girls' Vodvil show May 2 and 3; Eleanore Plamondon being the mogul behind the show.

Junior Day, the grand climax, was set for May 17, what with queens and races and what not, along with spring weather. Thus the third-year outfit gets ready for the last lap.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

THE Sophomores started their second year with a list of committees that made the University Directory turn pale. It turned out that everybody worked, with the result that the class has been doing things fast and furiously since the very first meeting in the fall.

The beard contest, which promises to be a permanent tradition, was staged with big excitement. Bob Olin was judged the most handsome beard-owner, and Bob Brown brought home the longest whiskers.

Socially, the first event was the "Naval Party" at the Olympic Hotel. So many attended that the officers went into a huddle and decided to bar outsiders from the spring informal.

Athletically, the Sophomores are right in the front ranks. Paul Schwegler and Merle Hufford spent the football season playing roughly with Bagshaw's boys in all the Conference scrimmages, and Ralph Cairney is the pride and joy of Coach Edmundson, of basketball fame.

All Sophomores who survive the spring flunk-out era will be back in Denny Hall for the first meeting next fall.

FRESHMAN CLASS

THE first year seldom allows any activity on the part of Freshmen aside from the general adjustment and acquaintance process.

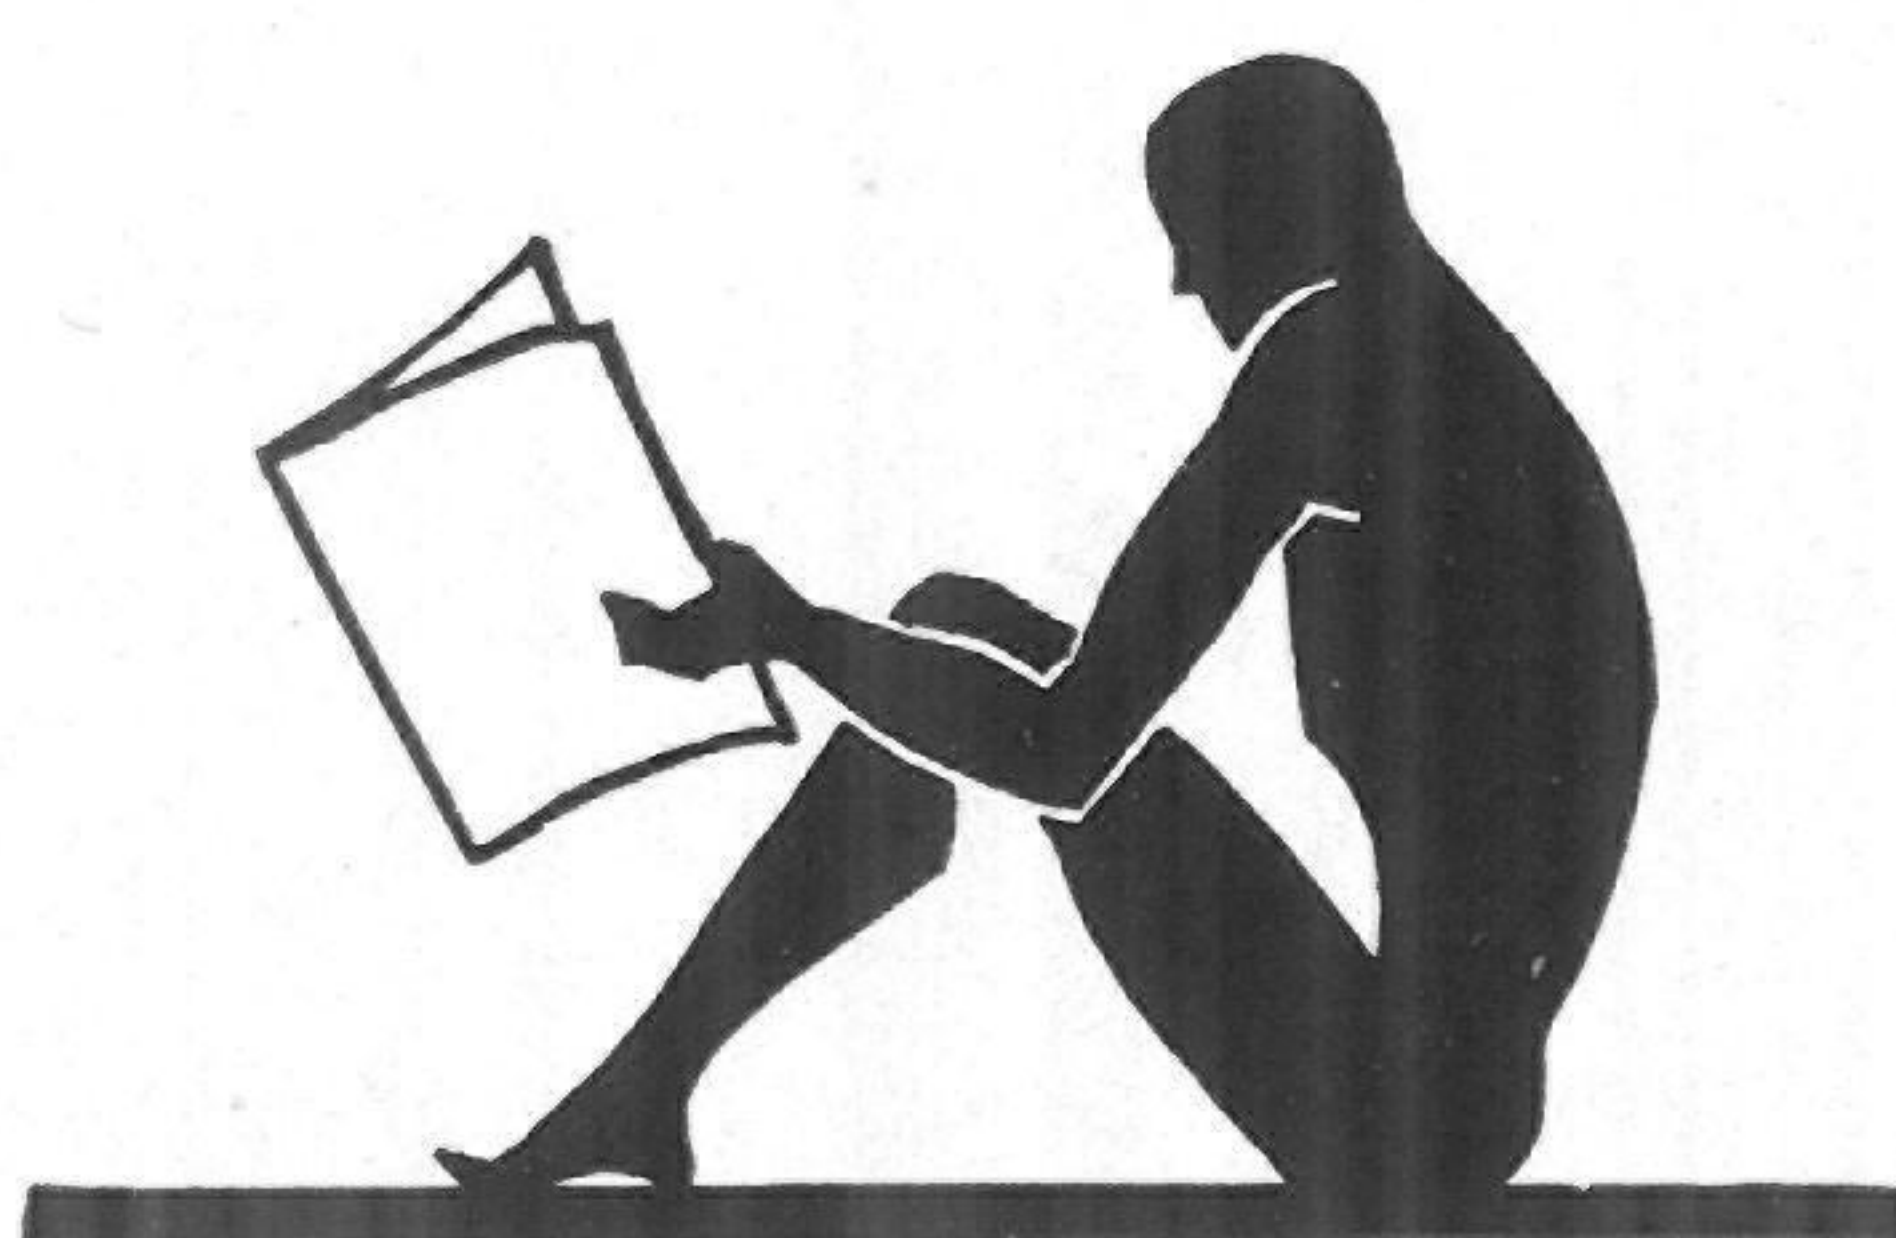

The Freshmen put this over with a huge "Frosh Frolic" at Sand Point the night of the Varsity Ball. The "spite party" (those old Seniors never let the little ones in) was such a success that many of the formally dressed ones moved in on the children's party later in the evening.

The Yearlings did themselves justice in the big fight at the Homecoming Bonfire, having the enviable record of calling the Seattle Fire Department to the scene no less than seven separate times.

Eclipsing other Frosh activities for the year, the Freshman informal fell on March 7. Marney Brown took the party under his wing as chairman, and made the whole affair the bright spot of the spring calendar for his classmates.

It is rumored that all the Freshmen are primed with fifteen collegiate songs each to go home and sing to the family.

Review

1929-1930

by JOHN SOTH

HUSKY teams were at the top or second in every conference race except football during the 1929-1930 season, but in the gridiron sport the Purple and Gold experienced its first rest in the cellar.

Bagshaw's eleven, like its 1928 predecessor, was slow in getting started. Bolstered up by a championship Frosh squad, the Huskies were freely picked before the season opened to finish rather high. A tie with Montana, followed by successive defeats in the hands of U. S. C., Oregon and Washington State, soon put the Purple and Gold in running for the opposite end. But as Washington teams often do, Bagshaw's eleven came back and completely outplayed both the Golden Bears and the Cardinals. In defeat they showed the power which has made the Huskies a threat on the Coast since 1921, when the "Little Giant" took over the coaching reins.

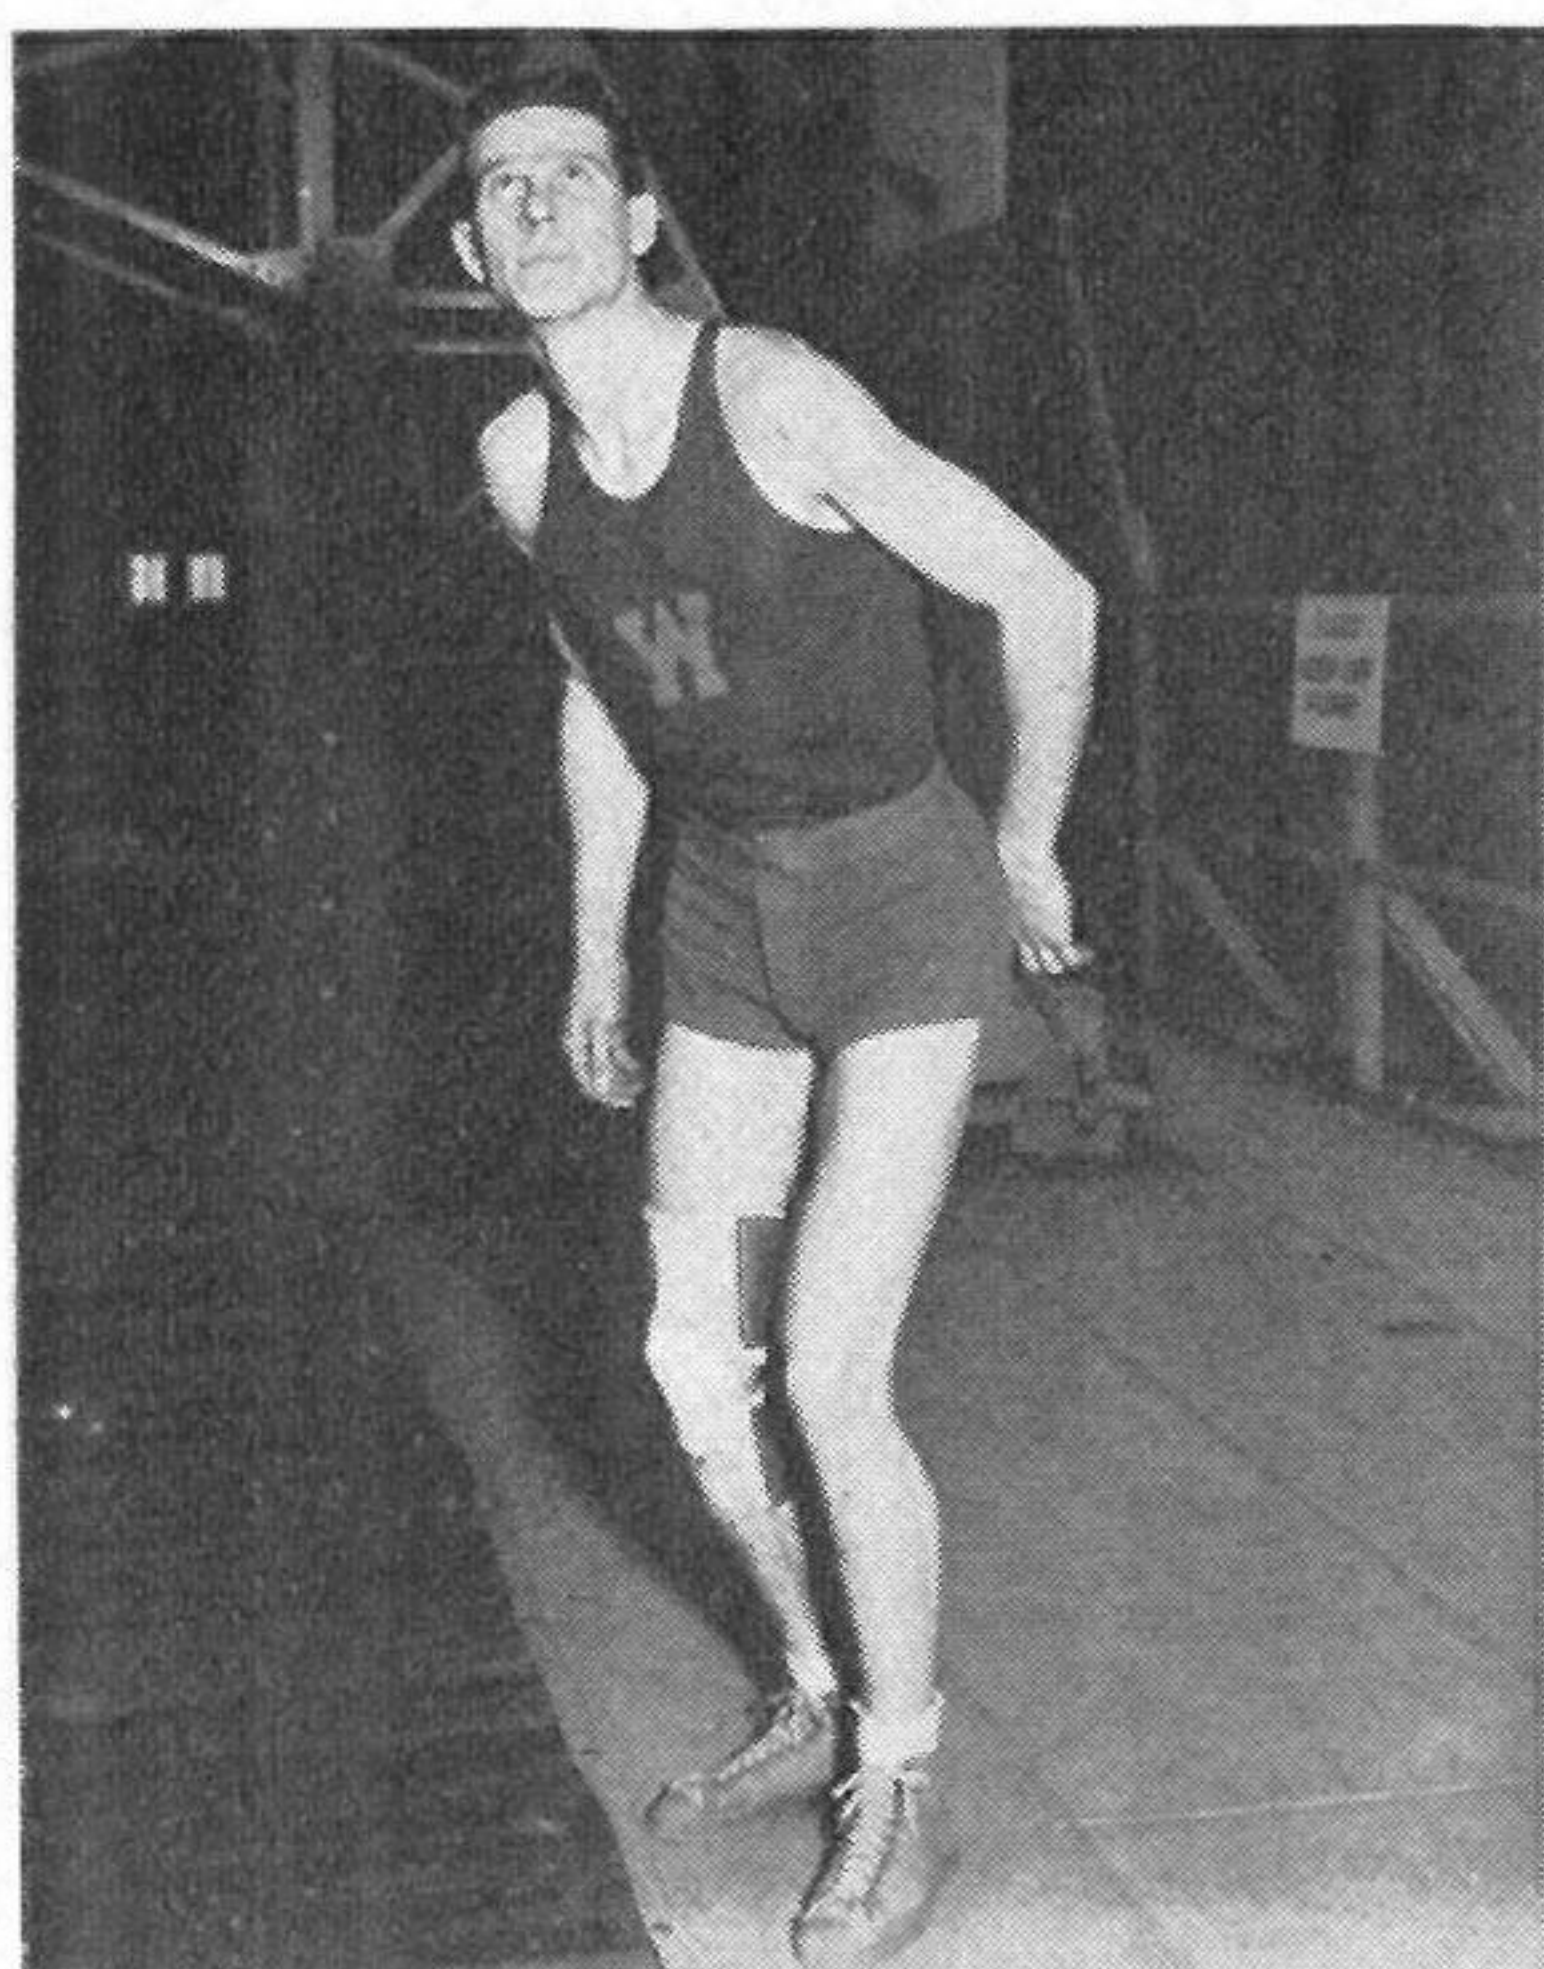

That regime is ended. Purdue has yielded up her best that Washington may once more climb to pigskin supremacy. Jimmy Phelan, builder of the 1929 Big Ten champions, is here with Cotton Wilcox, "Pest" Welch, Ed Collins and Dan Lamont, to install the Notre Dame system. About 150 men are out daily for the spring sessions. Phelan has a Sophomore backfield to build on, and the support of the students and the Northwest. Football is on the upgrade at Washington.

Wilcox

McClary

For the third successive season, the Huskies disposed of Northern basketball opposition easily, but for the second time, U. S. C. took the coveted Coast title. McClary has been the offensive pivot of the Gold-shirts for two campaigns.

Washington's Varsity crew vindicated itself at Poughkeepsie last spring when it placed second to Columbia in a stormy race after finishing far behind the Golden Bear on the Oakland Estuary earlier in the spring. The Jayvee won at California but trailed in fourth at Poughkeepsie.

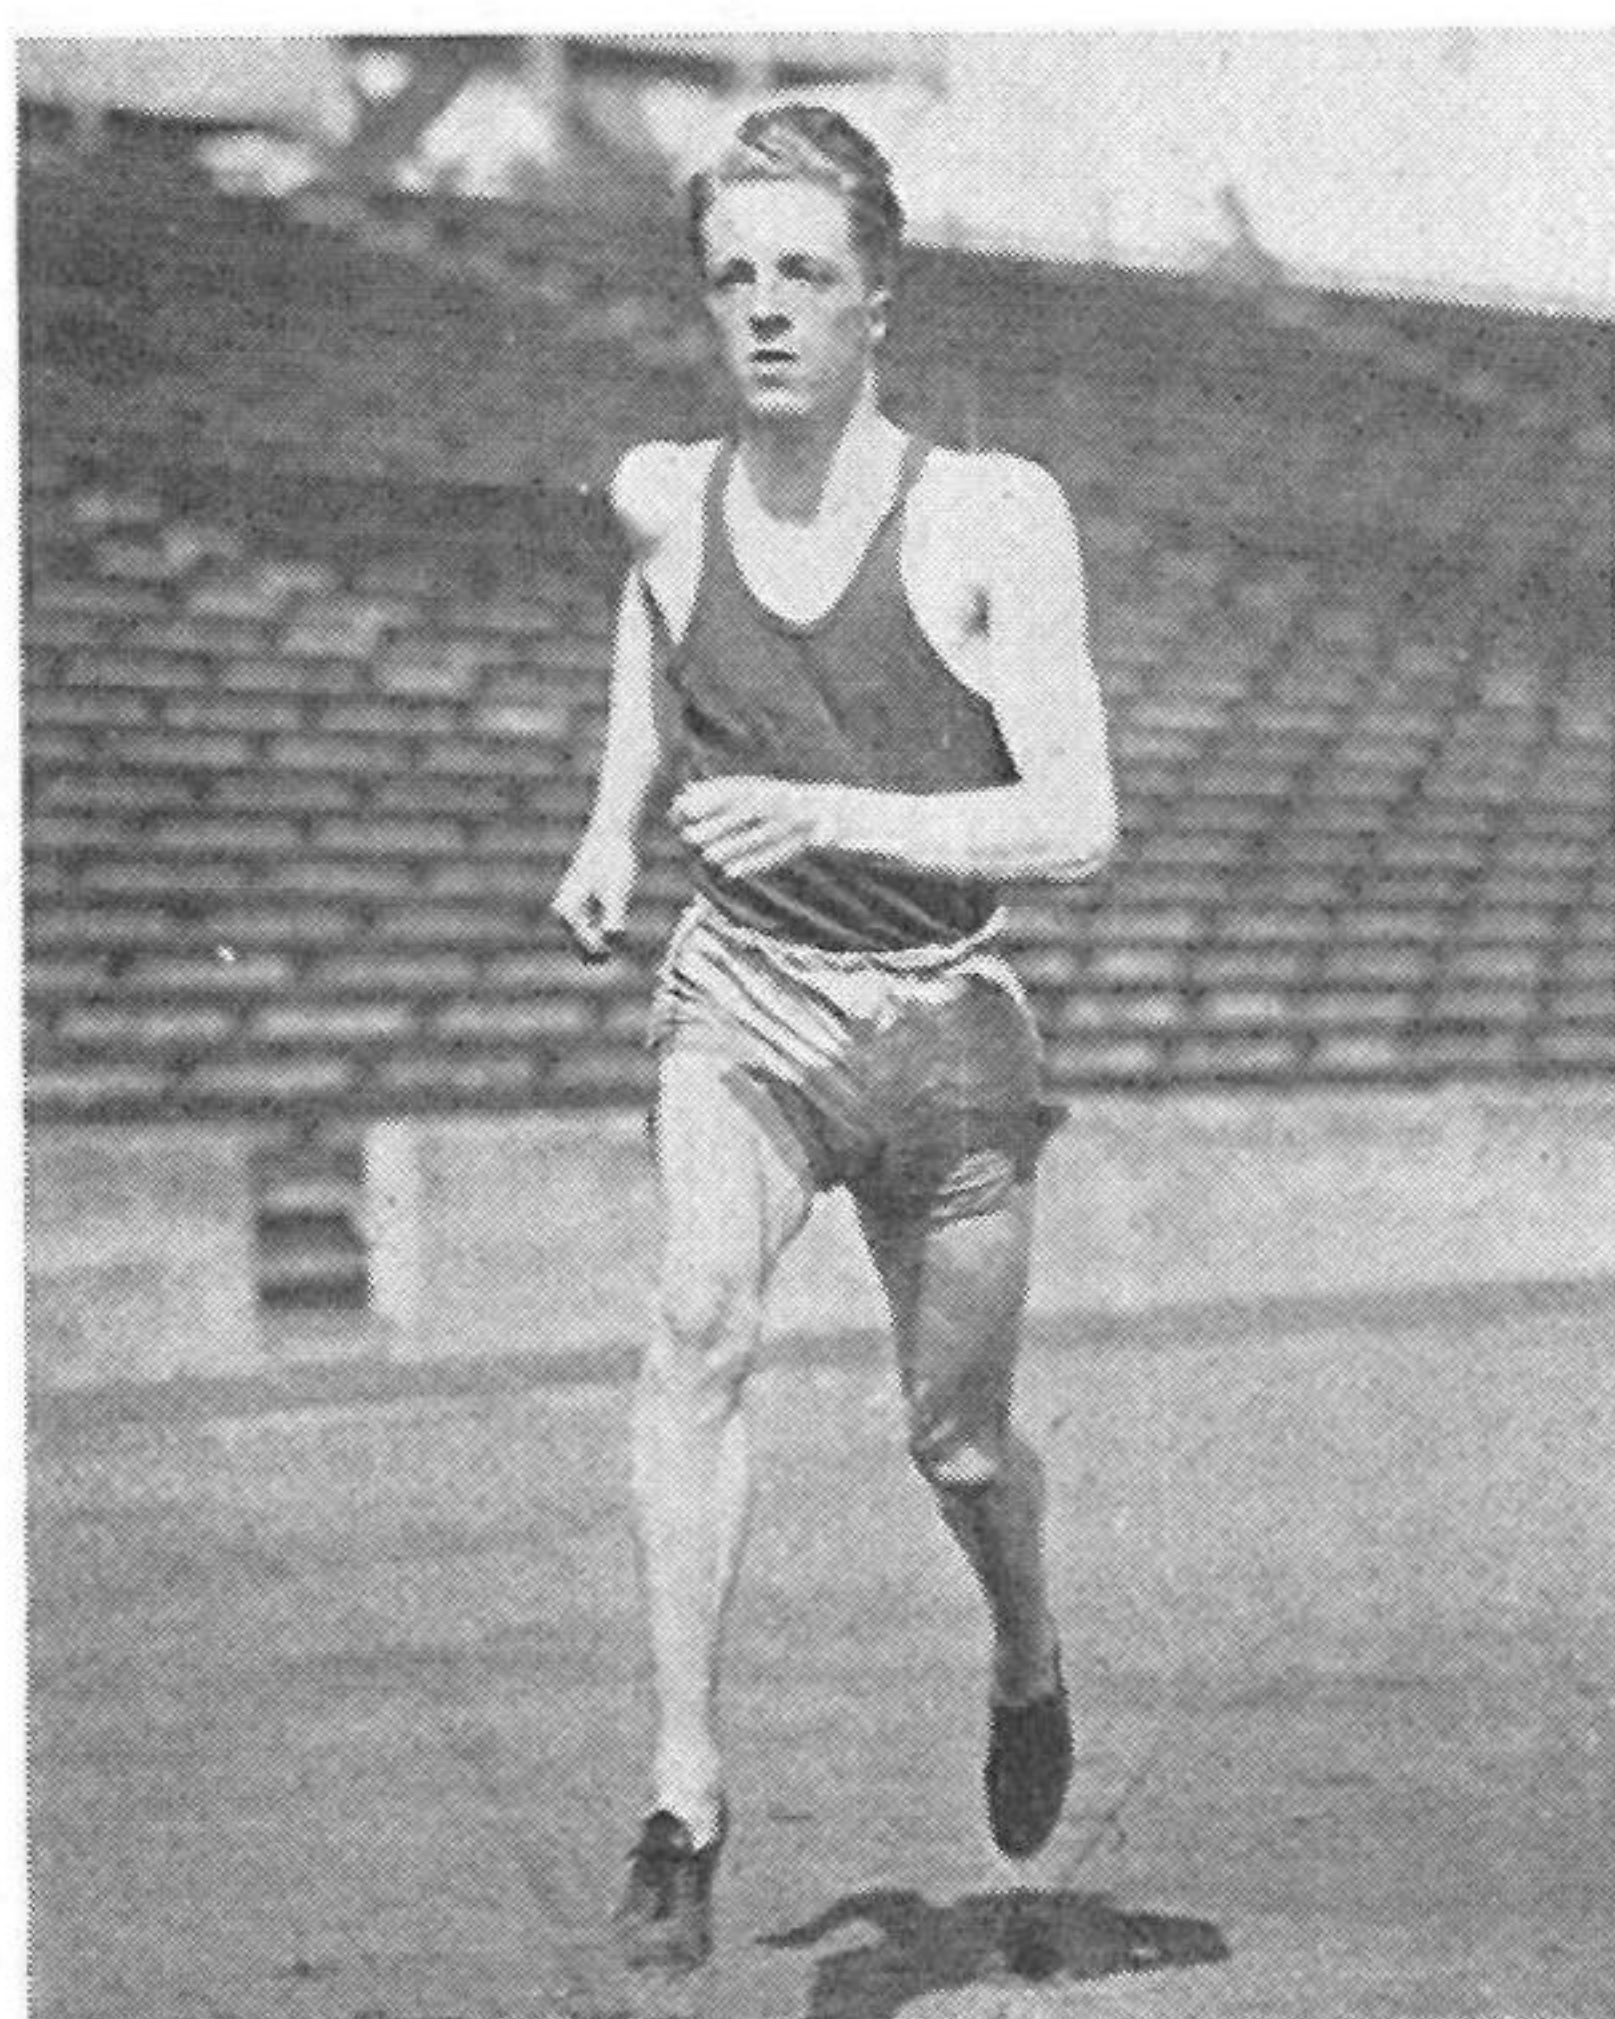

Edmundson's cinder artists exceeded their Olympic year efforts last spring and, in bringing home a second place to Ohio State in the National Intercollegiates at Chicago, gave Washington a national recognition in track. Edmundson has another intercollegiate champion in Ed Genung, who beat the best college half-milers in the United States at Chicago.

Coach "Tubby" Graves rarely lets a year slip by without tacking up another baseball championship, and 1929 was no exception.

Purple and Gold racquet wielders were no match for the Oregon netmen last spring, but otherwise were supreme in the Northwest.

Wrestling received new impetus this winter with the scheduling of several outside meets. Coach Kunde's boxers were victorious over Washington State and California.

Hockey is the newest sport in intramural competition, and growing interest is being shown in all the activities.

1929 Football

by BILL HOWARD

FORTIFIED by nineteen returning lettermen and a wealth of potential varsity material from the strongest frosh squad in ten years, prospects for a winning football team at Washington were exceedingly bright when Coach Enoch Bagshaw called his gridders together for the initial turnout last fall.

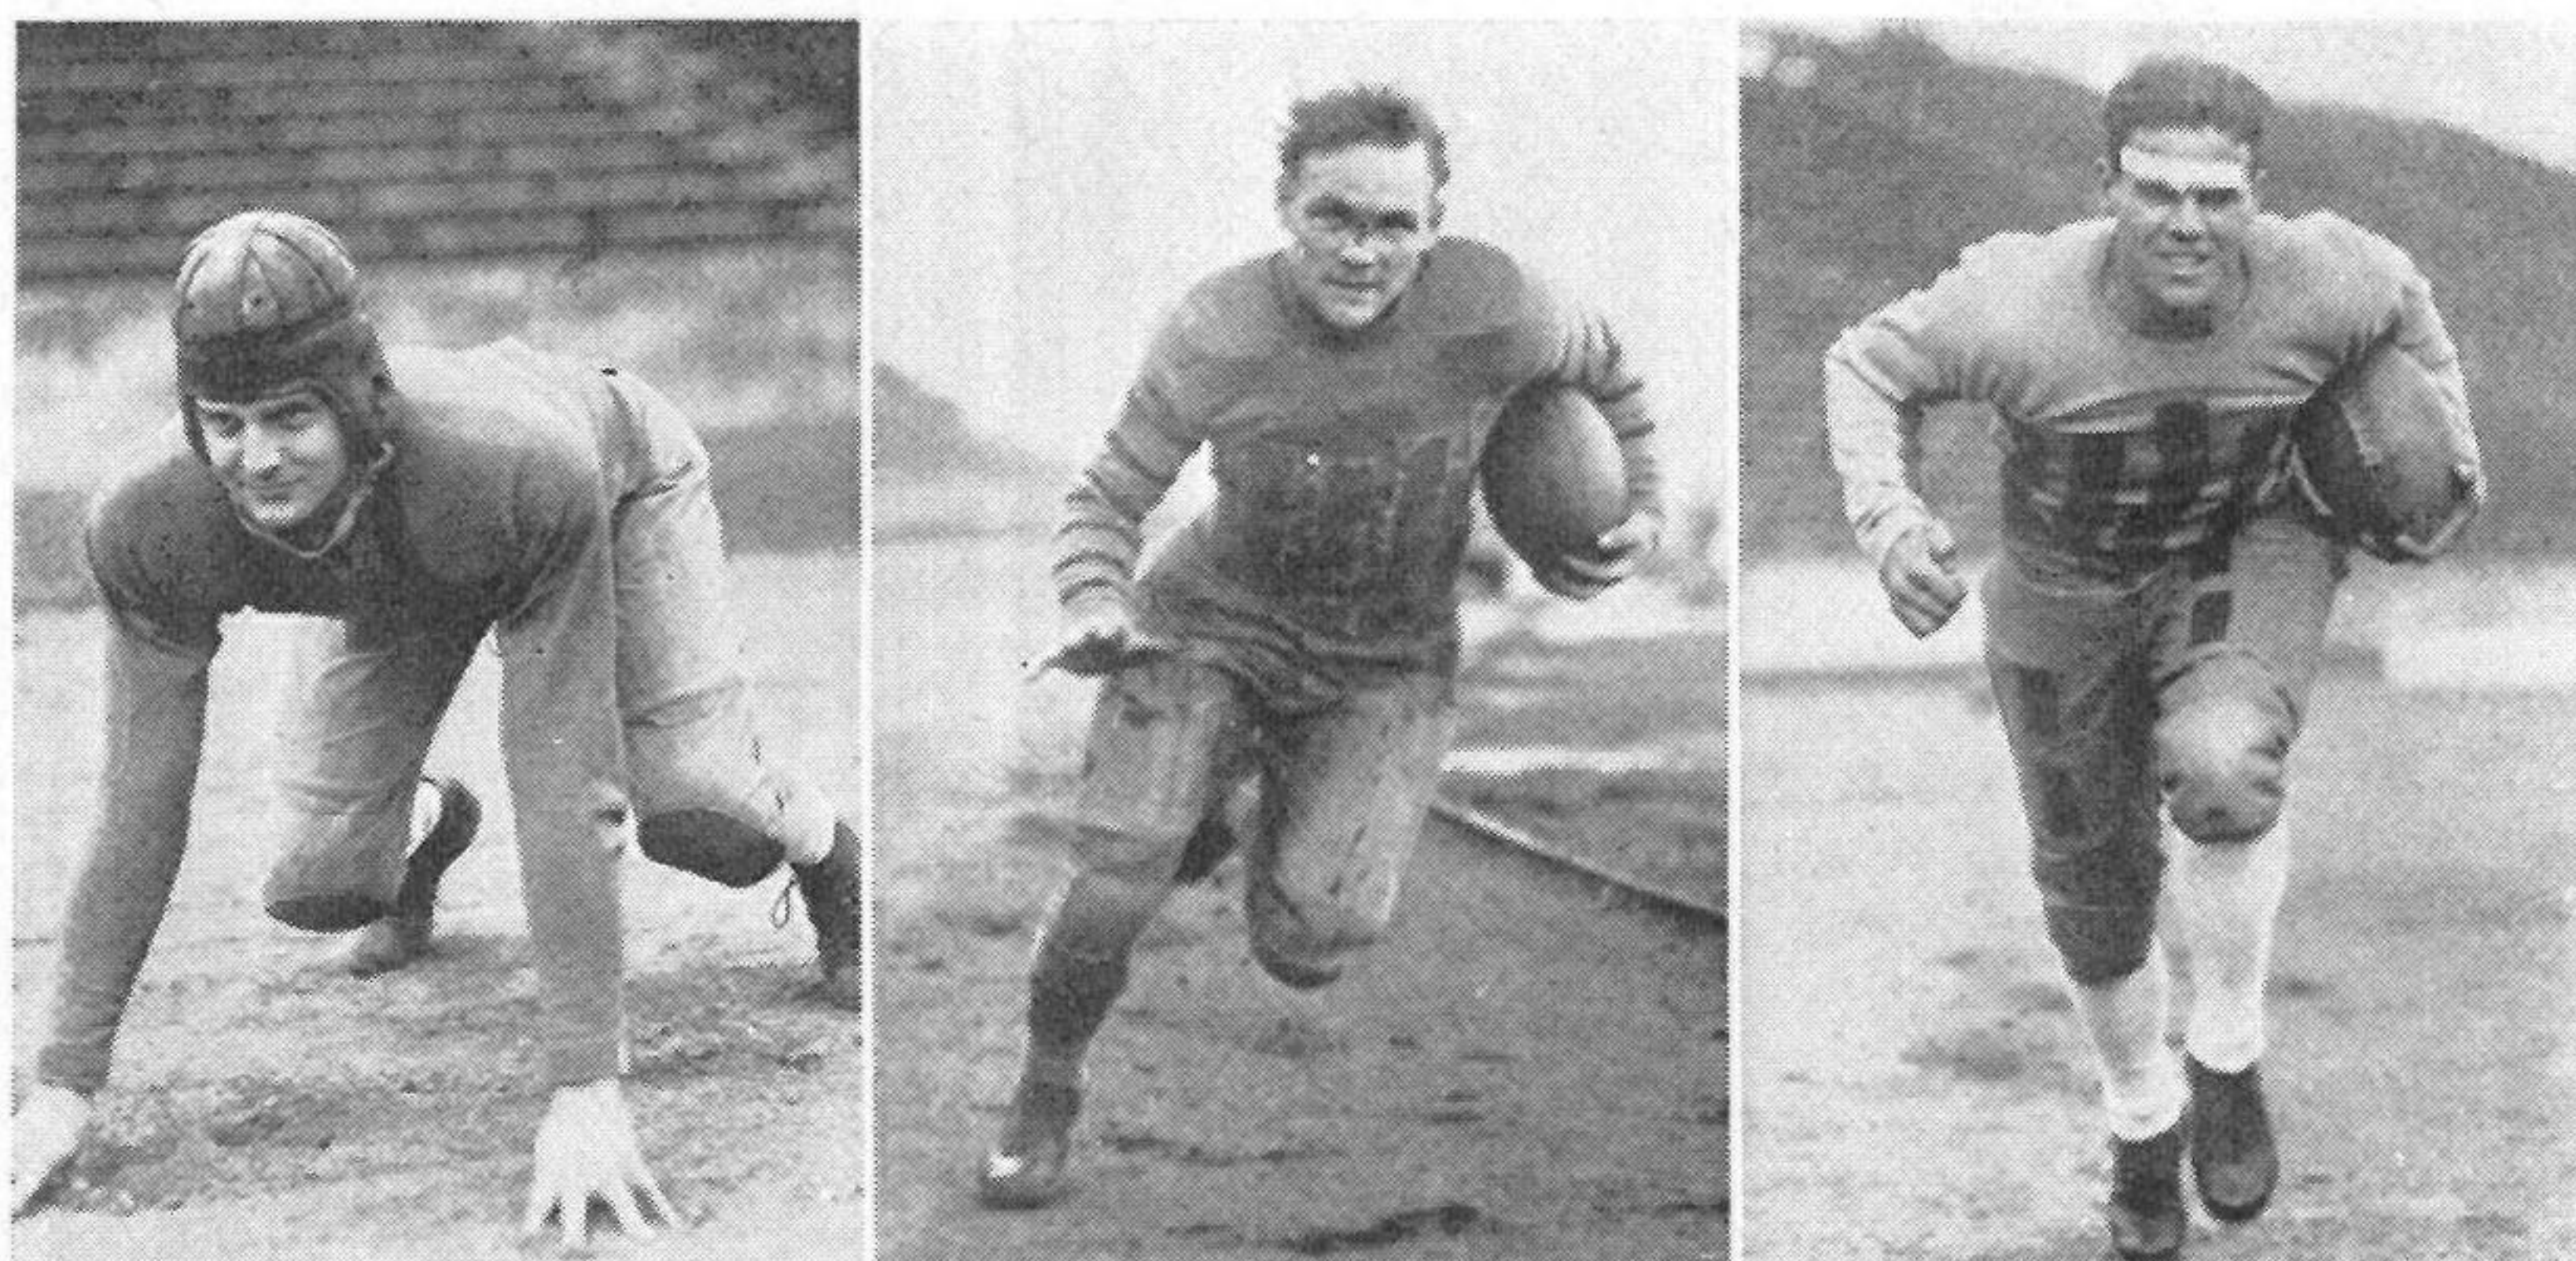

Alumni, students, fans, sports writers, and coaches alike, were unanimous in predicting that the 1929 Husky football squadron would finish close to the top in Pacific Coast Conference play. But a chain of circumstances that began with the ineligibility of Gordon Jenkins, frosh flash, and wound up with the resignation of Coach Bagshaw, as head grid mentor, effectively stifled those early season hopes.

The Huskies were beaten from pillar to post in conference play, turning in the worst record ever compiled by a Washington gridiron representative. A final checkup of the situation shows that the Purple Tornado fell away to a gentle zephyr and finished the season with a record of five games lost and one tied for conference play. Against non-conference competition, Washington did better, winning a pair of victories and dropping their inter-sectional contest with the University of Chicago eleven.

Spellman, Sutton, Graves

Holmes, Stombaugh, Hufford

The one redeeming feature of an otherwise drab season was the fine showing made by Merle Hufford and Paul Schwegler, a pair of Sophomores playing their first year on the varsity. Hufford is hailed as one of the greatest backfield prospects ever uncovered on the Coast; while Schwegler has all the requisites that go toward making an All-American tackle. Both these young stars were picked on a number of All-Coast teams following the season.

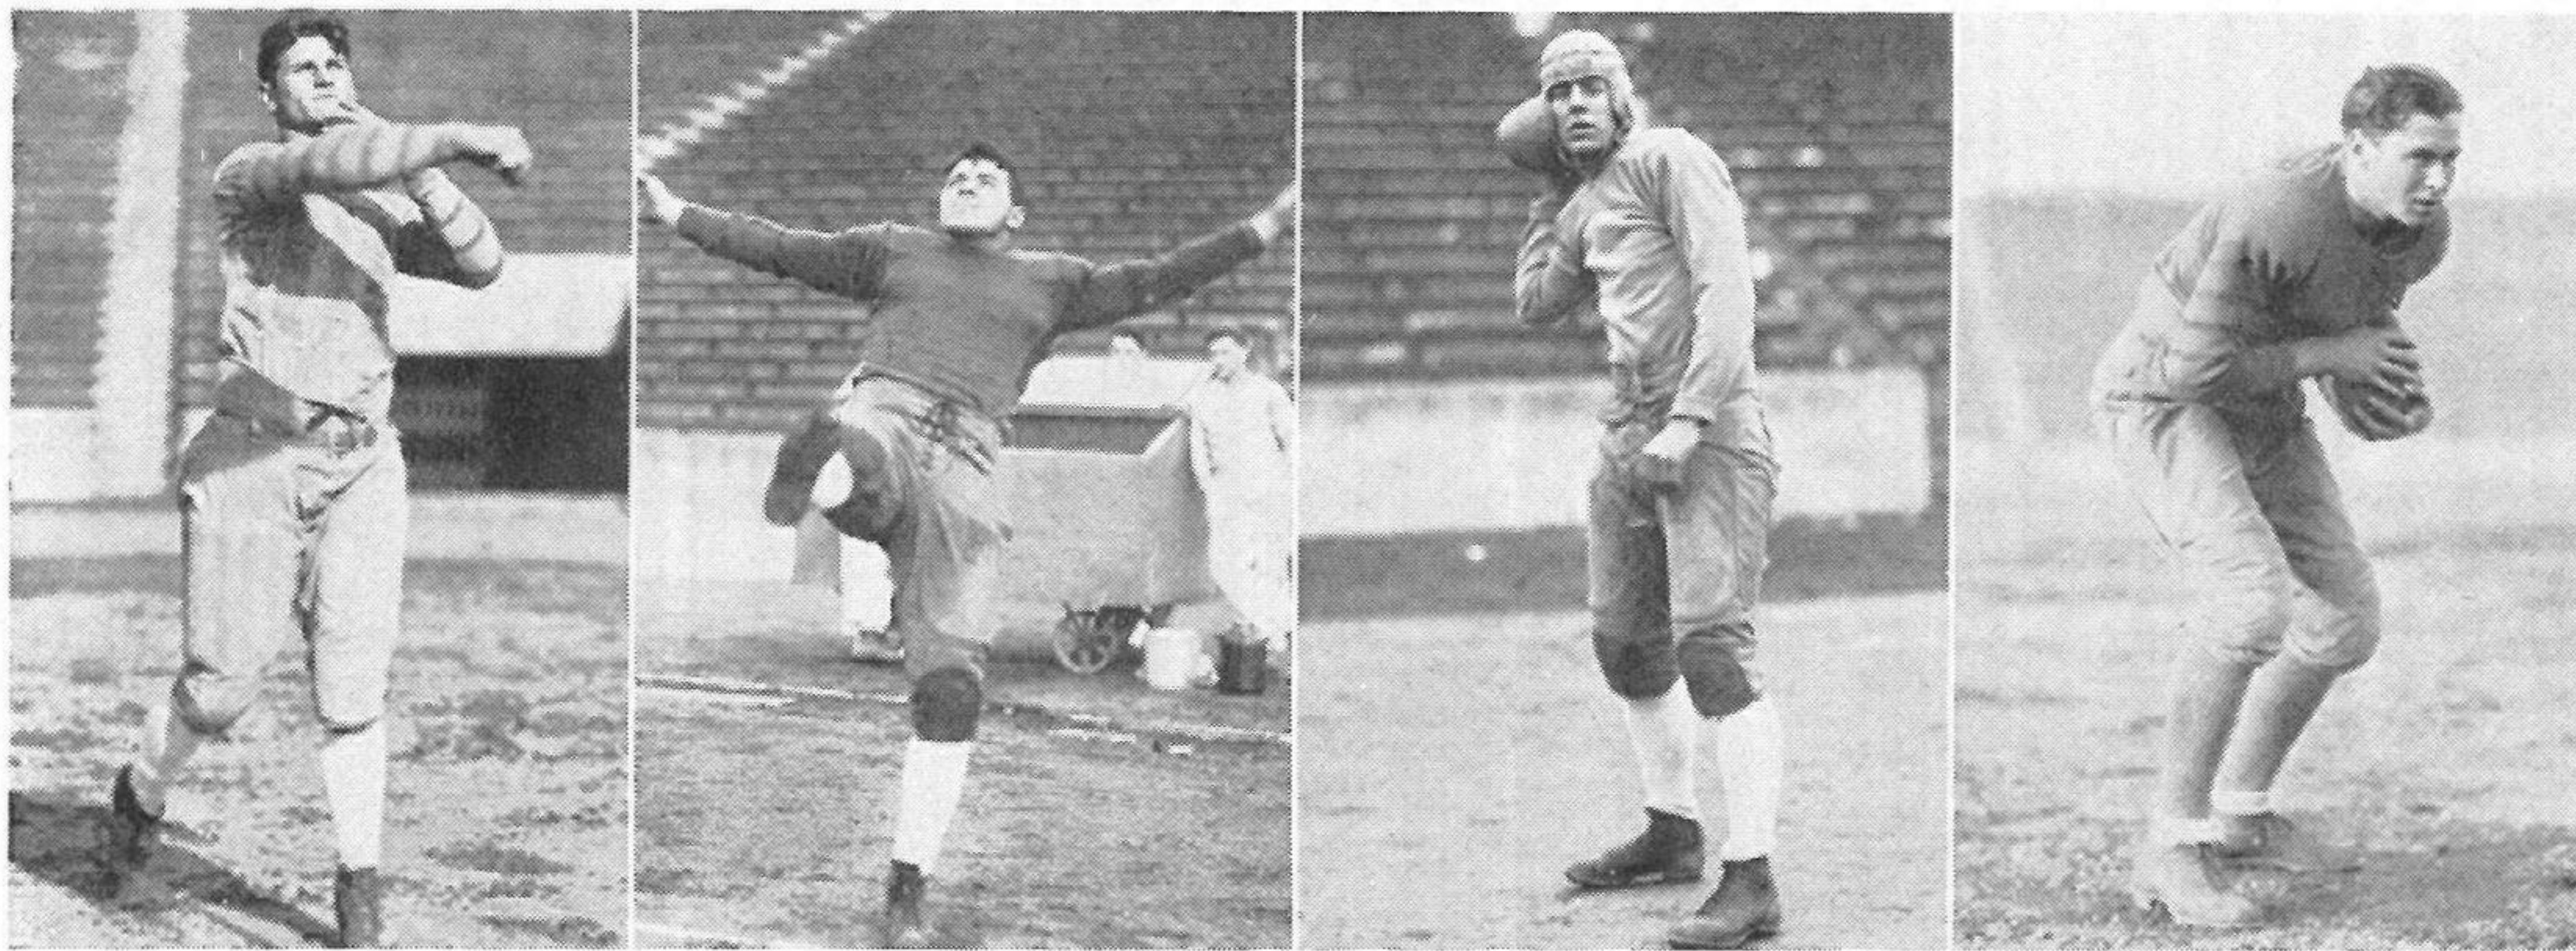

The opening game of the season against Whitman gave little intimation of what was to come afterwards, for the heavier and better drilled Huskies smothered their opponents under a 47-0 barrage. Merle Hufford thrilled the crowd with his sensational open field running and gave promise of the ability that was later to make him the most-talked-of ball carrier on the Coast. Hufford dodged and twisted his way to three touchdowns in the short space of fifteen minutes in which he played.

Following the Whitman fracas, Coach Bagshaw turned his attention to the game with Southern California which loomed two weeks later. In doing so, he quite forgot a fighting Montana eleven which appeared midway between the two dates and held the local forces to a 6-6 tie in one of the biggest upsets in years.

Howard Jones showed Northern fans one of the most perfectly drilled football teams that has ever invaded the Stadium, when he turned his U. S. C. loose on the Husky the following Saturday. Washington made a determined first-quarter stand, and with Merle Hufford reeling off long gains through and around the Trojan line, threatened to give the Southerners a battle. Twice, Hufford, the "Galloping Splash from Milton-Free-water," crossed the U. S. C. goal line, but on both occasions the ball was called back.

After the first session, however, it was just unfortunate, with the Red and White clad Trojans scoring almost at will. The final count was 48-0.

Geehan Out in the Open in the Montana Game

Rosenhan, Buzard, Pulver, Middlestedt

It was the worst beating ever administered to Washington by a Southern California team.

A week later, the battered Goldshirts journeyed to Pullman to meet Washington State for the territorial championship. Again, the Huskies put on a great initial quarter performance, scoring two touchdowns before the Cougars could solve their offense. Merle Hufford was brilliant as usual and it was his play that sparked the west side team.

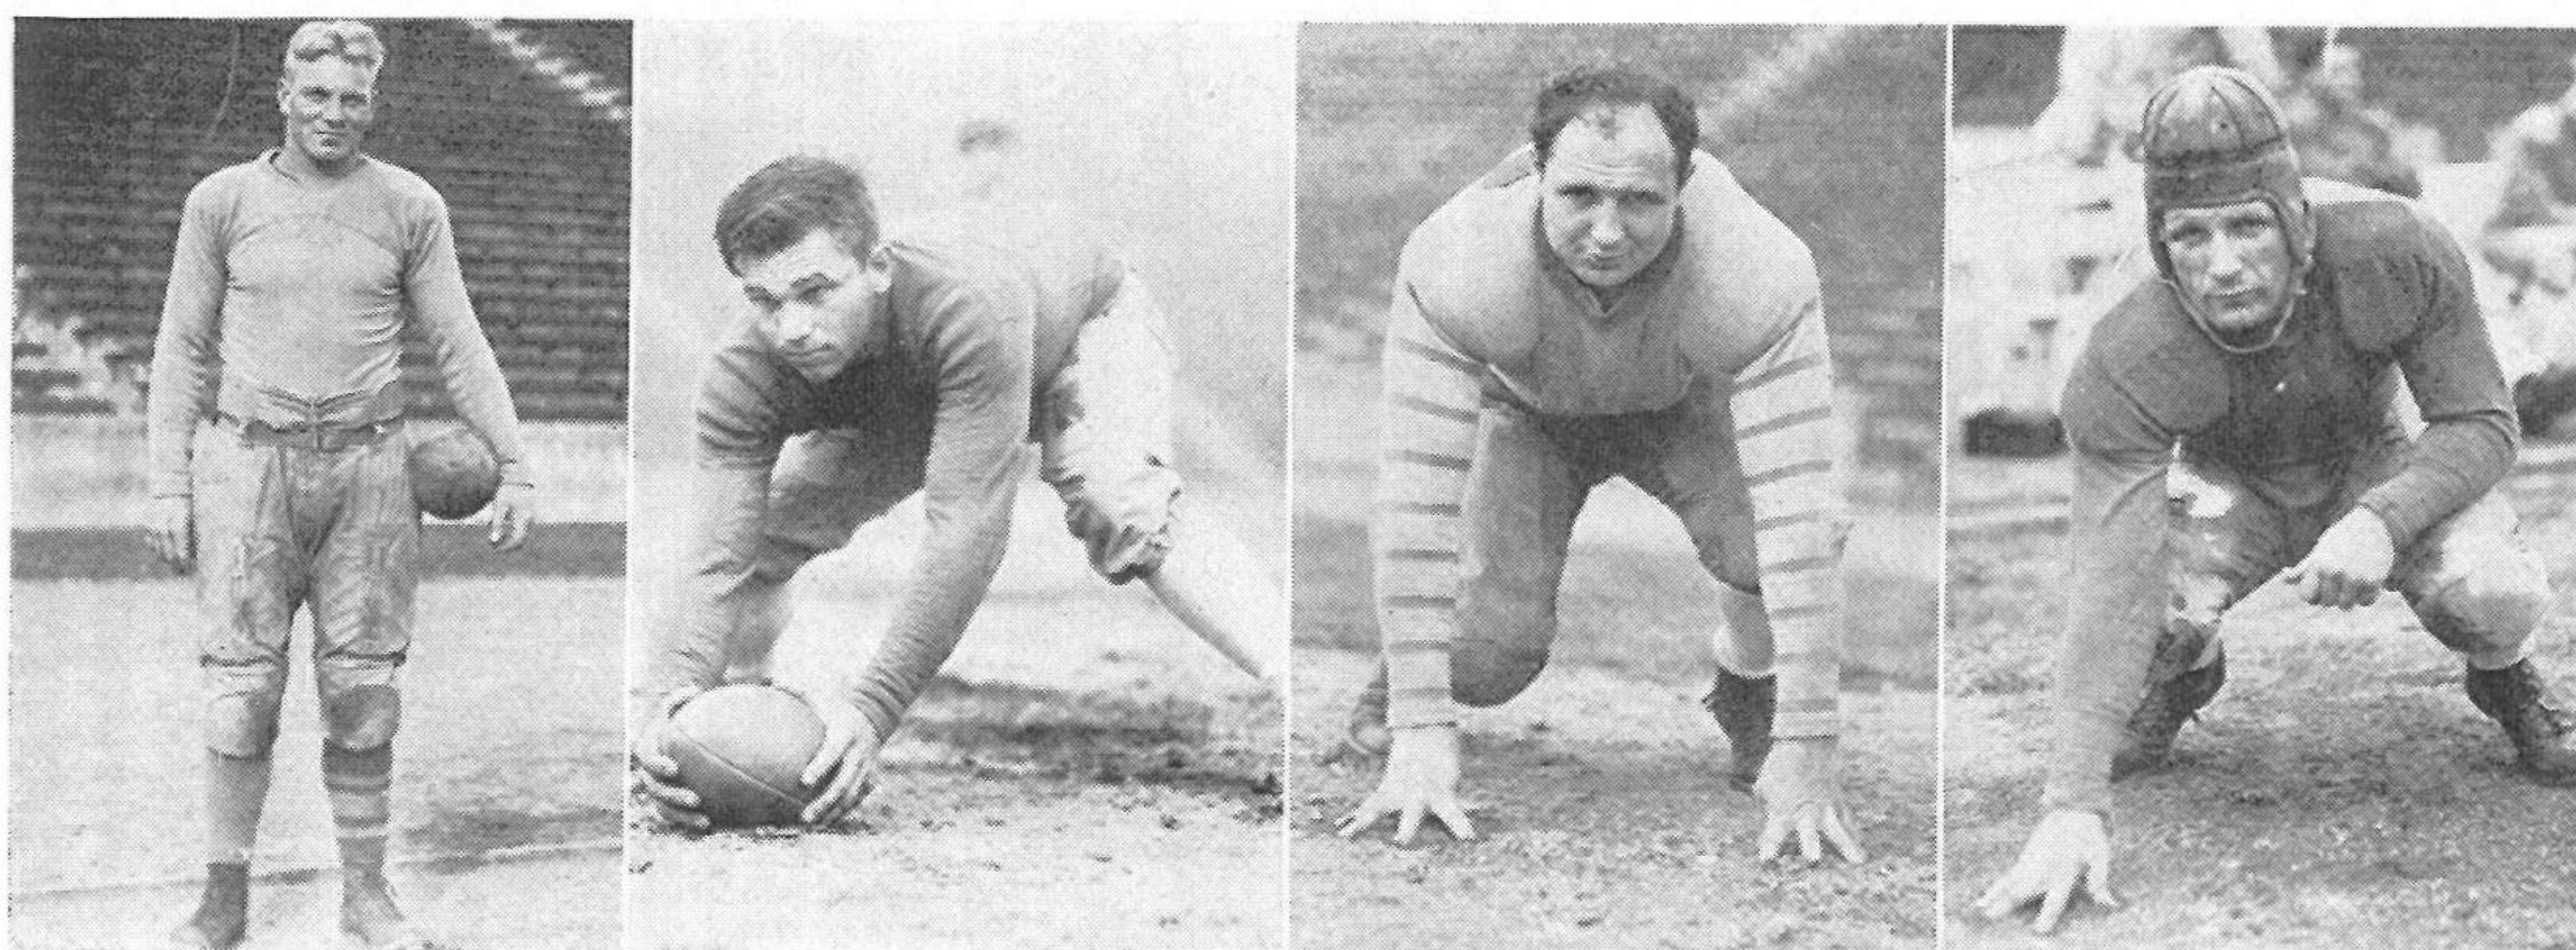

The Cougars were not to be denied, however, and with a last minute rally they pushed across two touchdowns on their own hook that turned the tide. W. S. C. won by a 20-13 margin.

Gloom that had settled over the local campus following these two defeats deepened into despair several days later when the University of Oregon Webfeet administered a 14-0 defeat. The loss was not unexpected, but staunch Washingtonians had hoped that the mid-week resignation of Coach Bagshaw, who had been a storm center for two years, would clear the air and urge the gridgers on to an upset win over their opponents.

Hufford Finishing a Plunge Through U. S. C.'s Line

A week later, Washington made football history in the Northwest when they engaged the College of Puget Sound gridgers at Tacoma in the first night game ever played here. The contest did not prove especially satisfactory from the spectators' standpoint, as a thick cloud of mist obscured the playing field most of the time during which the melee was in progress.

The tilt was a welcome respite for the battle-weary Huskies, however, after their arduous campaign, and they proceeded to roll up a 73-0 margin over the Loggers. As was the case in 1928, when he suddenly appeared as a fit running mate for Chuck Carroll, Johnny Stombaugh, used this contest as a stepping stone to co-stardom with Merle Hufford.

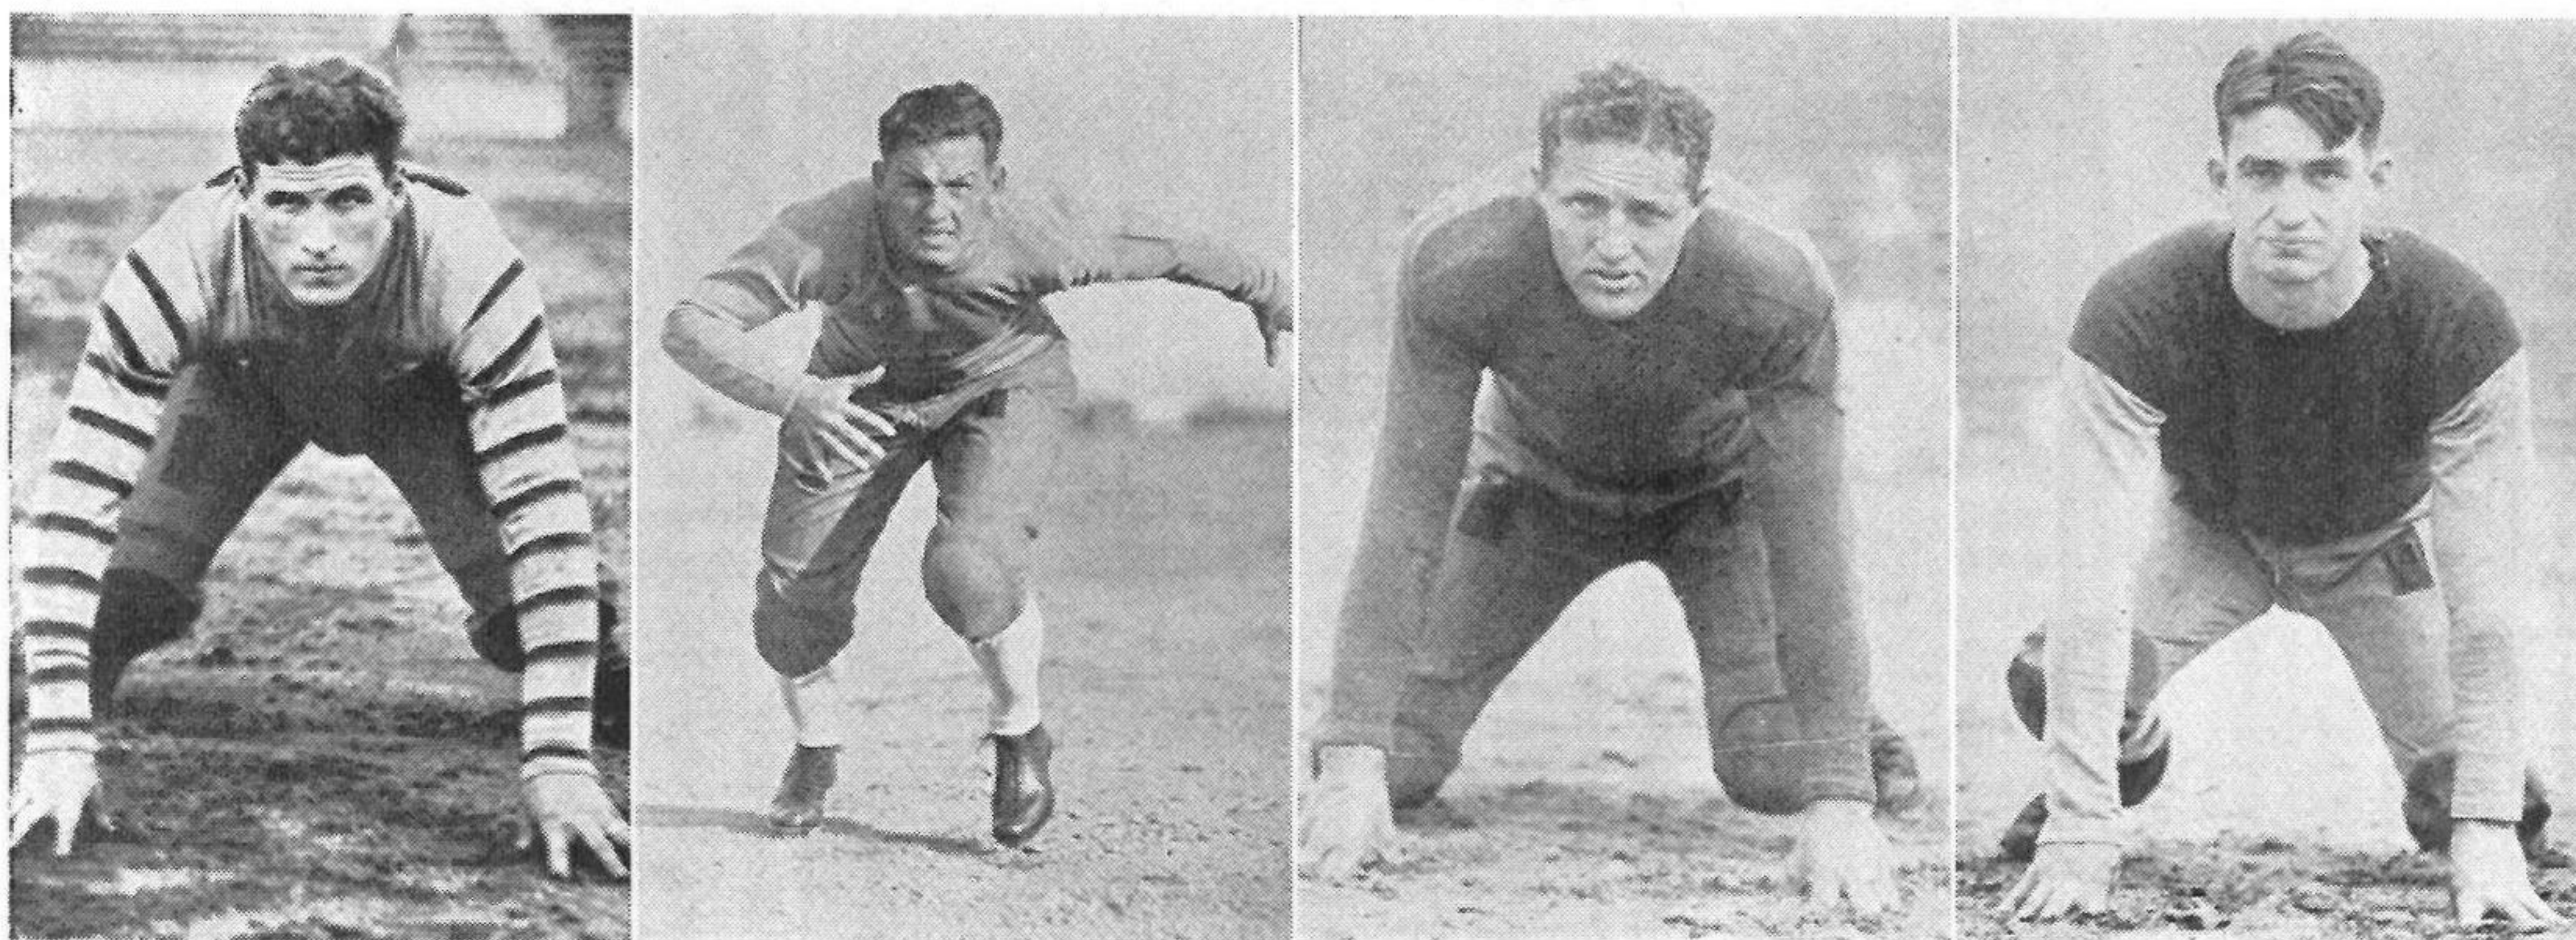

Came the Stanford mix on a muddy field. Stombaugh and Hufford were everywhere, turning back the big crimson attack. Washington actually outplayed the Cardinals during the major portion of the fray, and it was only by virtue of a "break" early in the first quarter that Pop Warner's men were able to come out with a 6-0 victory. The fine showing made by the Purple and Gold eleven against the co-champion Stanford aggregation served as a tonic to students and players alike.

When the squad left for Berkeley on the following Wednesday it was given a rousing sendoff. The Bears were undefeated and Washington, a cellar team, had a tough assignment in even holding the score close, according to the dope.

That fracas with California proved almost a replica of the Stanford tussle. The Golden Bears found themselves outplayed and outfought. They were unable to gain through the line. A long pass in the closing minutes turned the tide in their favor, however, and Washington had to be content with the abbreviated portion of a 7-0 figure. As usual, the Huskies outplayed their opponents, making more first downs from scrimmage and outkicking their rivals.

Oregon Taking a Pass in the End Zone for a Touchdown

Snider, Squires, Broz, Pautzke

Hufford was the whole show for the Northern team, single handedly carrying the ball into scoring territory time after time only to see his efforts wasted when the Golden Bear forward wall tightened.

The final tussle of the season was scheduled a week later on Stagg Field in Chicago against the Maroons. After their fine showings against Stanford and California, the Huskies were an overwhelming favorite to win over the University of Chicago outfit who were regarded as rather weak.

The game told a different story, however, and the Stagg-coached Maroons, who were outweighed 15 pounds to the man, passed their way over and around the Washington team with ease, to score a 26-6 decision. Again Merle Hufford was the whole show for Washington, making 186 yards from scrimmage; more than the whole Chicago team; and nine-tenths of the Husky yardage.

Johnny Stombaugh was awarded the Flaherty medal, which is given annually to the man who is adjudged the greatest inspiration to the team. Al Holmes, stellar tackle, was elected captain for the 1930 season, succeeding Captain Paul Jessup.

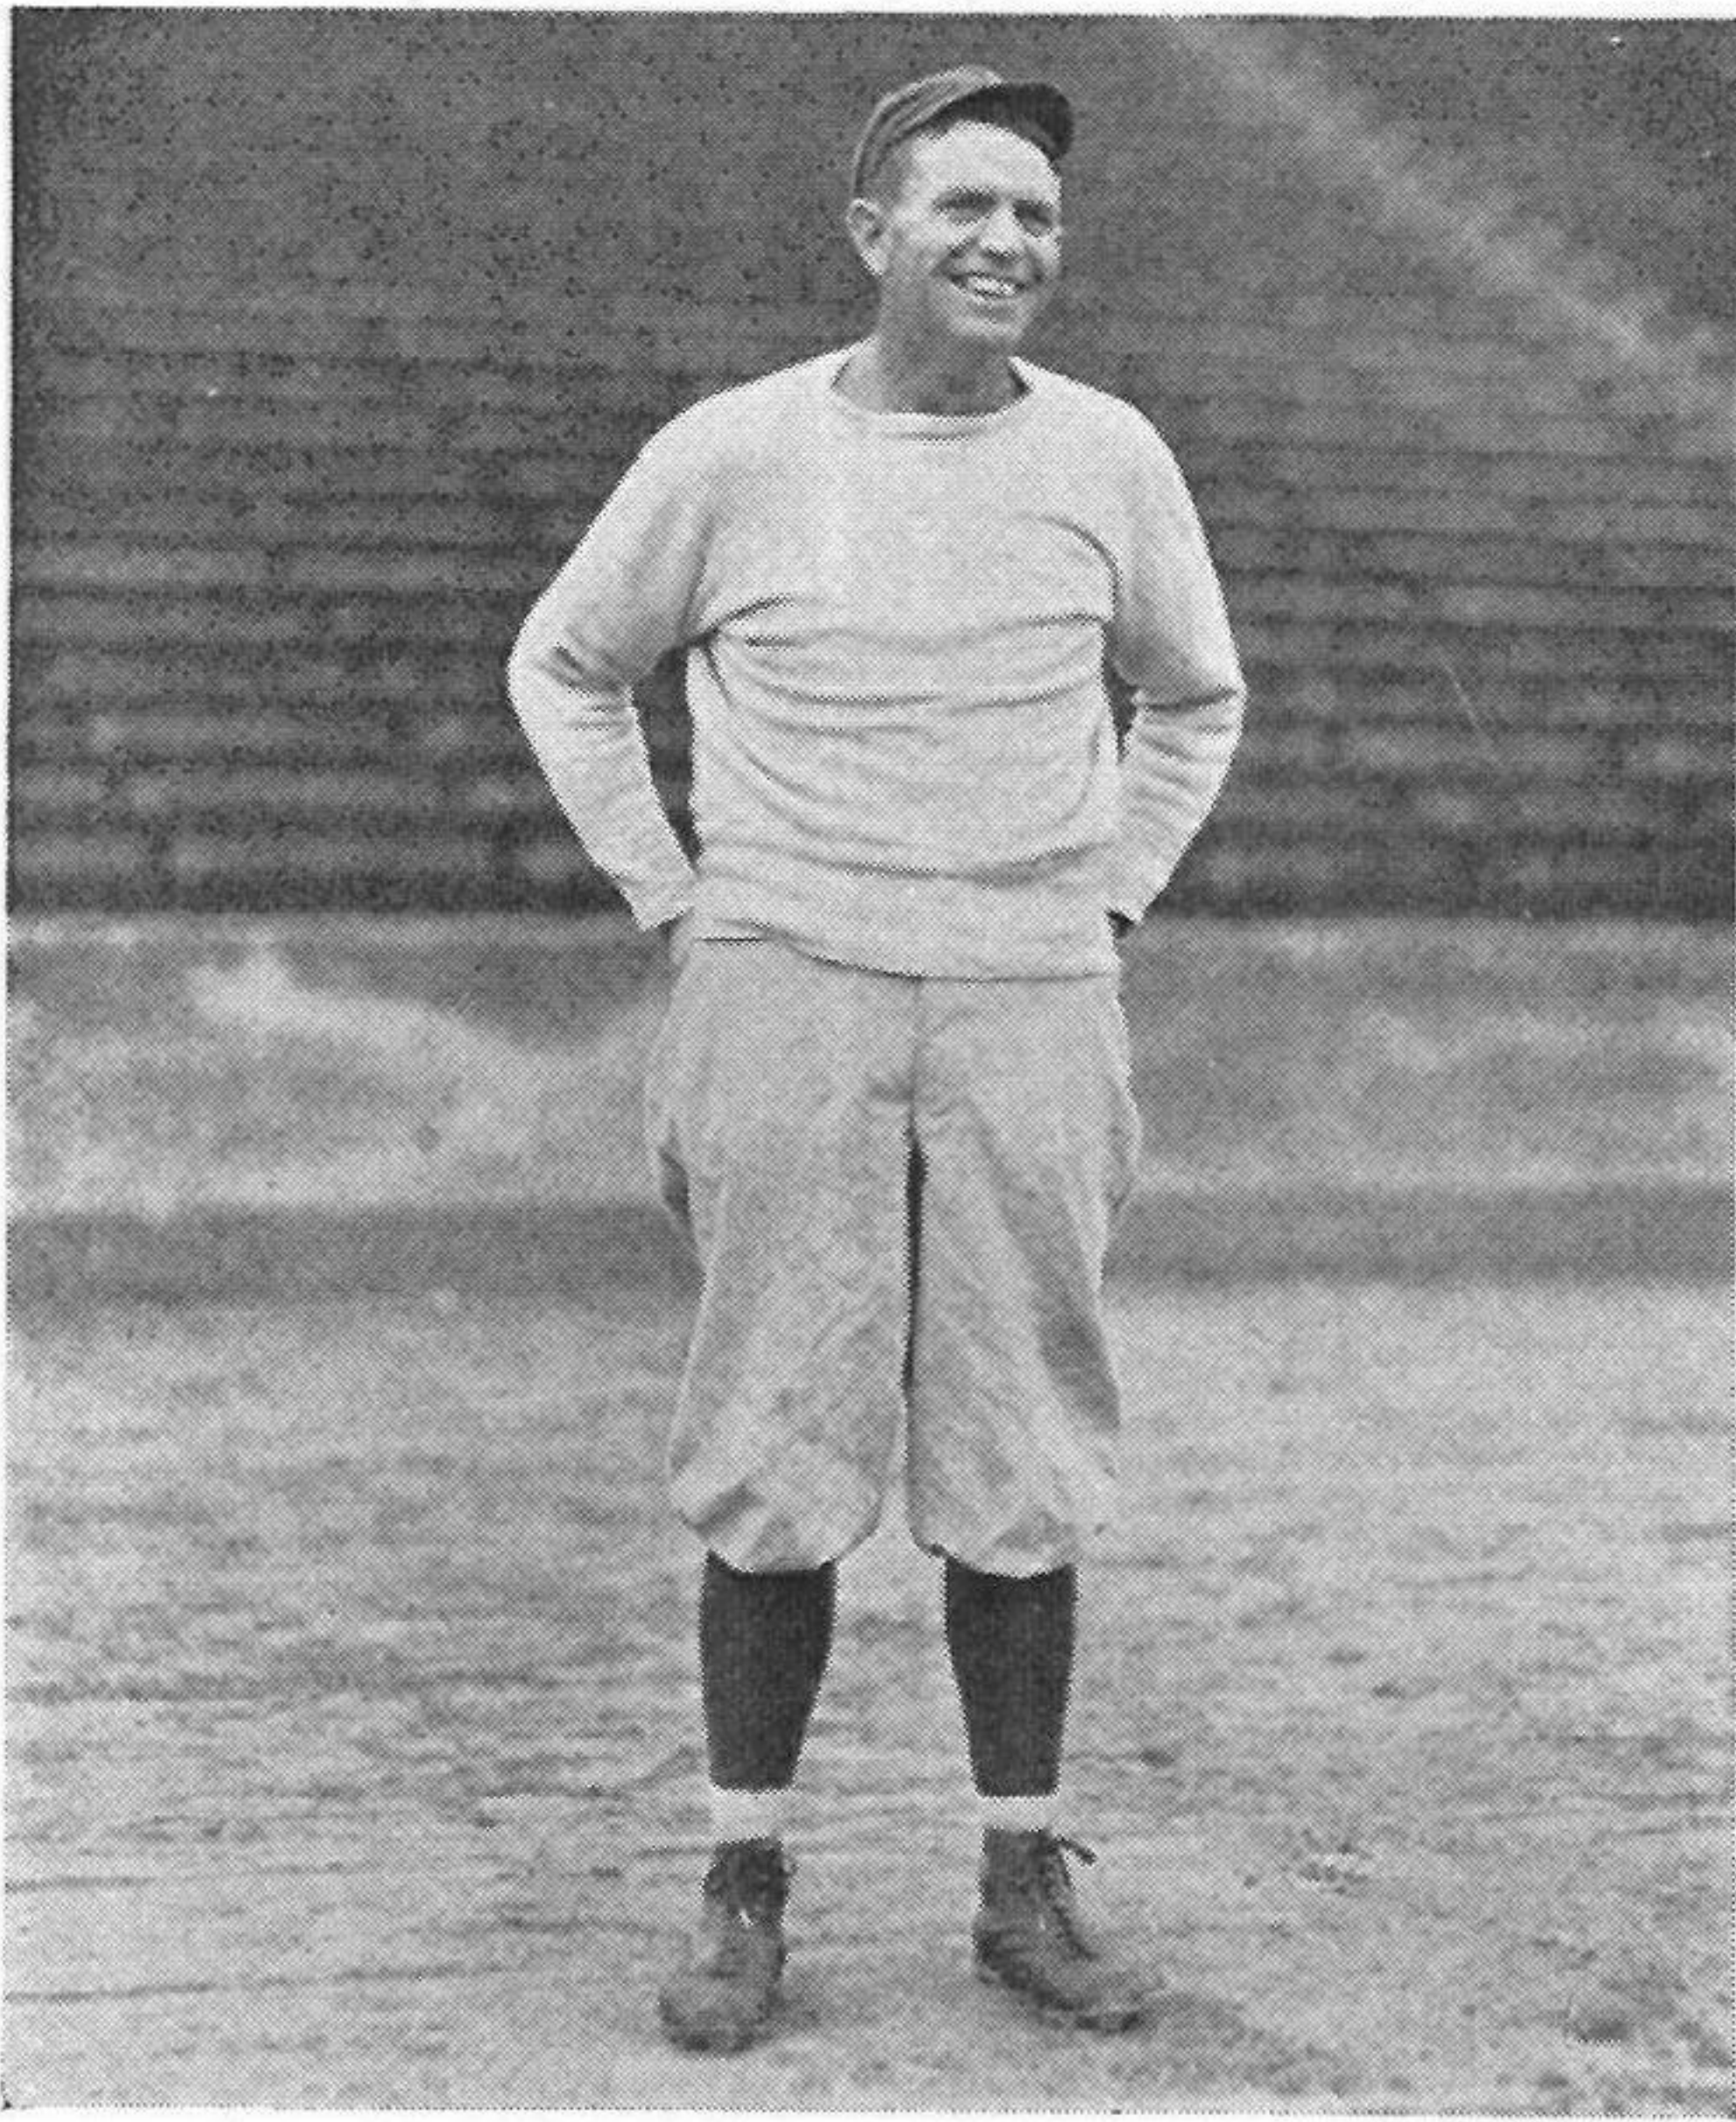

Twenty-five gridders received letters for their work during the season. Included in the list are: Captain Paul Jessup, Captain-elect Al Holmes, Merle Hufford, Paul Schwegler, Chuck Rosenhan, Jack Patrick, Bill Bates, Thurlie Thornton, Johnny Geehan, Henry Wentworth, Elliott Pulver, Walt Sahli, Johnny Stombaugh, Bill Broz, Roy Squires, Sam Kraetz, Bill Gregor, Clarence Pautzke, Jack Scamen, Bill Snider, Larry Westerweller, Bill Mittlestedt, Lee Shelton, Bob Foster, and Bill Marsh.

Honor W's were awarded to Ed Ford, Seth Minch, Ross Van Woert, Elton Jones, Hank Bacon, Wilbur Watson and Rex Palmer. Ludden Horsfal was named manager for the 1930 season, succeeding Howard Palmer.

Freshman Football

TUBBY GRAVES' 1933 football team started its season in nice shape, but was slightly stomped on before the schedule ended, emerging victorious in only one of the five games played. Graves did as well as could be expected with the material on hand, but could make no stand against the opposition with the few light reserves he had. The squad is expected to send up only five men of Varsity caliber.

The Centralia Junior Collegians came North first and bowed to the Frosh, 6-0, in the season's only victory. Cherberg made the touchdown of the game.

The Greenshirts next took a trip to Eugene where the Webfooters took their measure, 19-0. Rushlow of Oregon made two of the opposing scores.

Midseason found the Frosh battling with the Vikings of Bellingham Normal, who spiced the game with a flashy passing attack which netted them a 20-6 victory.

The following Saturday a powerful Ellensburg Normal team pushed and slid its way across the Yearlings' goal on a rain-soaked field, to add a 6-0 defeat to the Frosh's mounting list.

The last game, played at home with Washington State, was a repetition of the one before—heavy rain; very, very sloppy field, and a 6-0 defeat for the Frosh.

1929 Crew

by HOWARD J. ROUNDS

WASHINGTON was not considered a dangerous contender in collegiate rowing circles, but they surprised everyone, when, amid a strong field of contestants which included a world champion eight from California, they swept down the Hudson in the fast gathering gloom to take second place in the historic regatta at Poughkeepsie; finishing second only to a powerful and more experienced crew from Columbia.

Coach Al Ulbrickson met and overcame more obstacles during the tedious work of building and revamping the Varsity and Junior-Varsity crews than seems possible. Continued cold weather and rough water met the oarsmen at nearly all of the early turnouts. Then the loss of Ronald Wailes, said to be the strongest oarsman in the country, was another great handicap. Despite all of these setbacks, Washington produced a J-V crew which set a new course record on the Oakland Estuary in their race with California, and a Varsity which more than held its own in competition with the class of college crews.

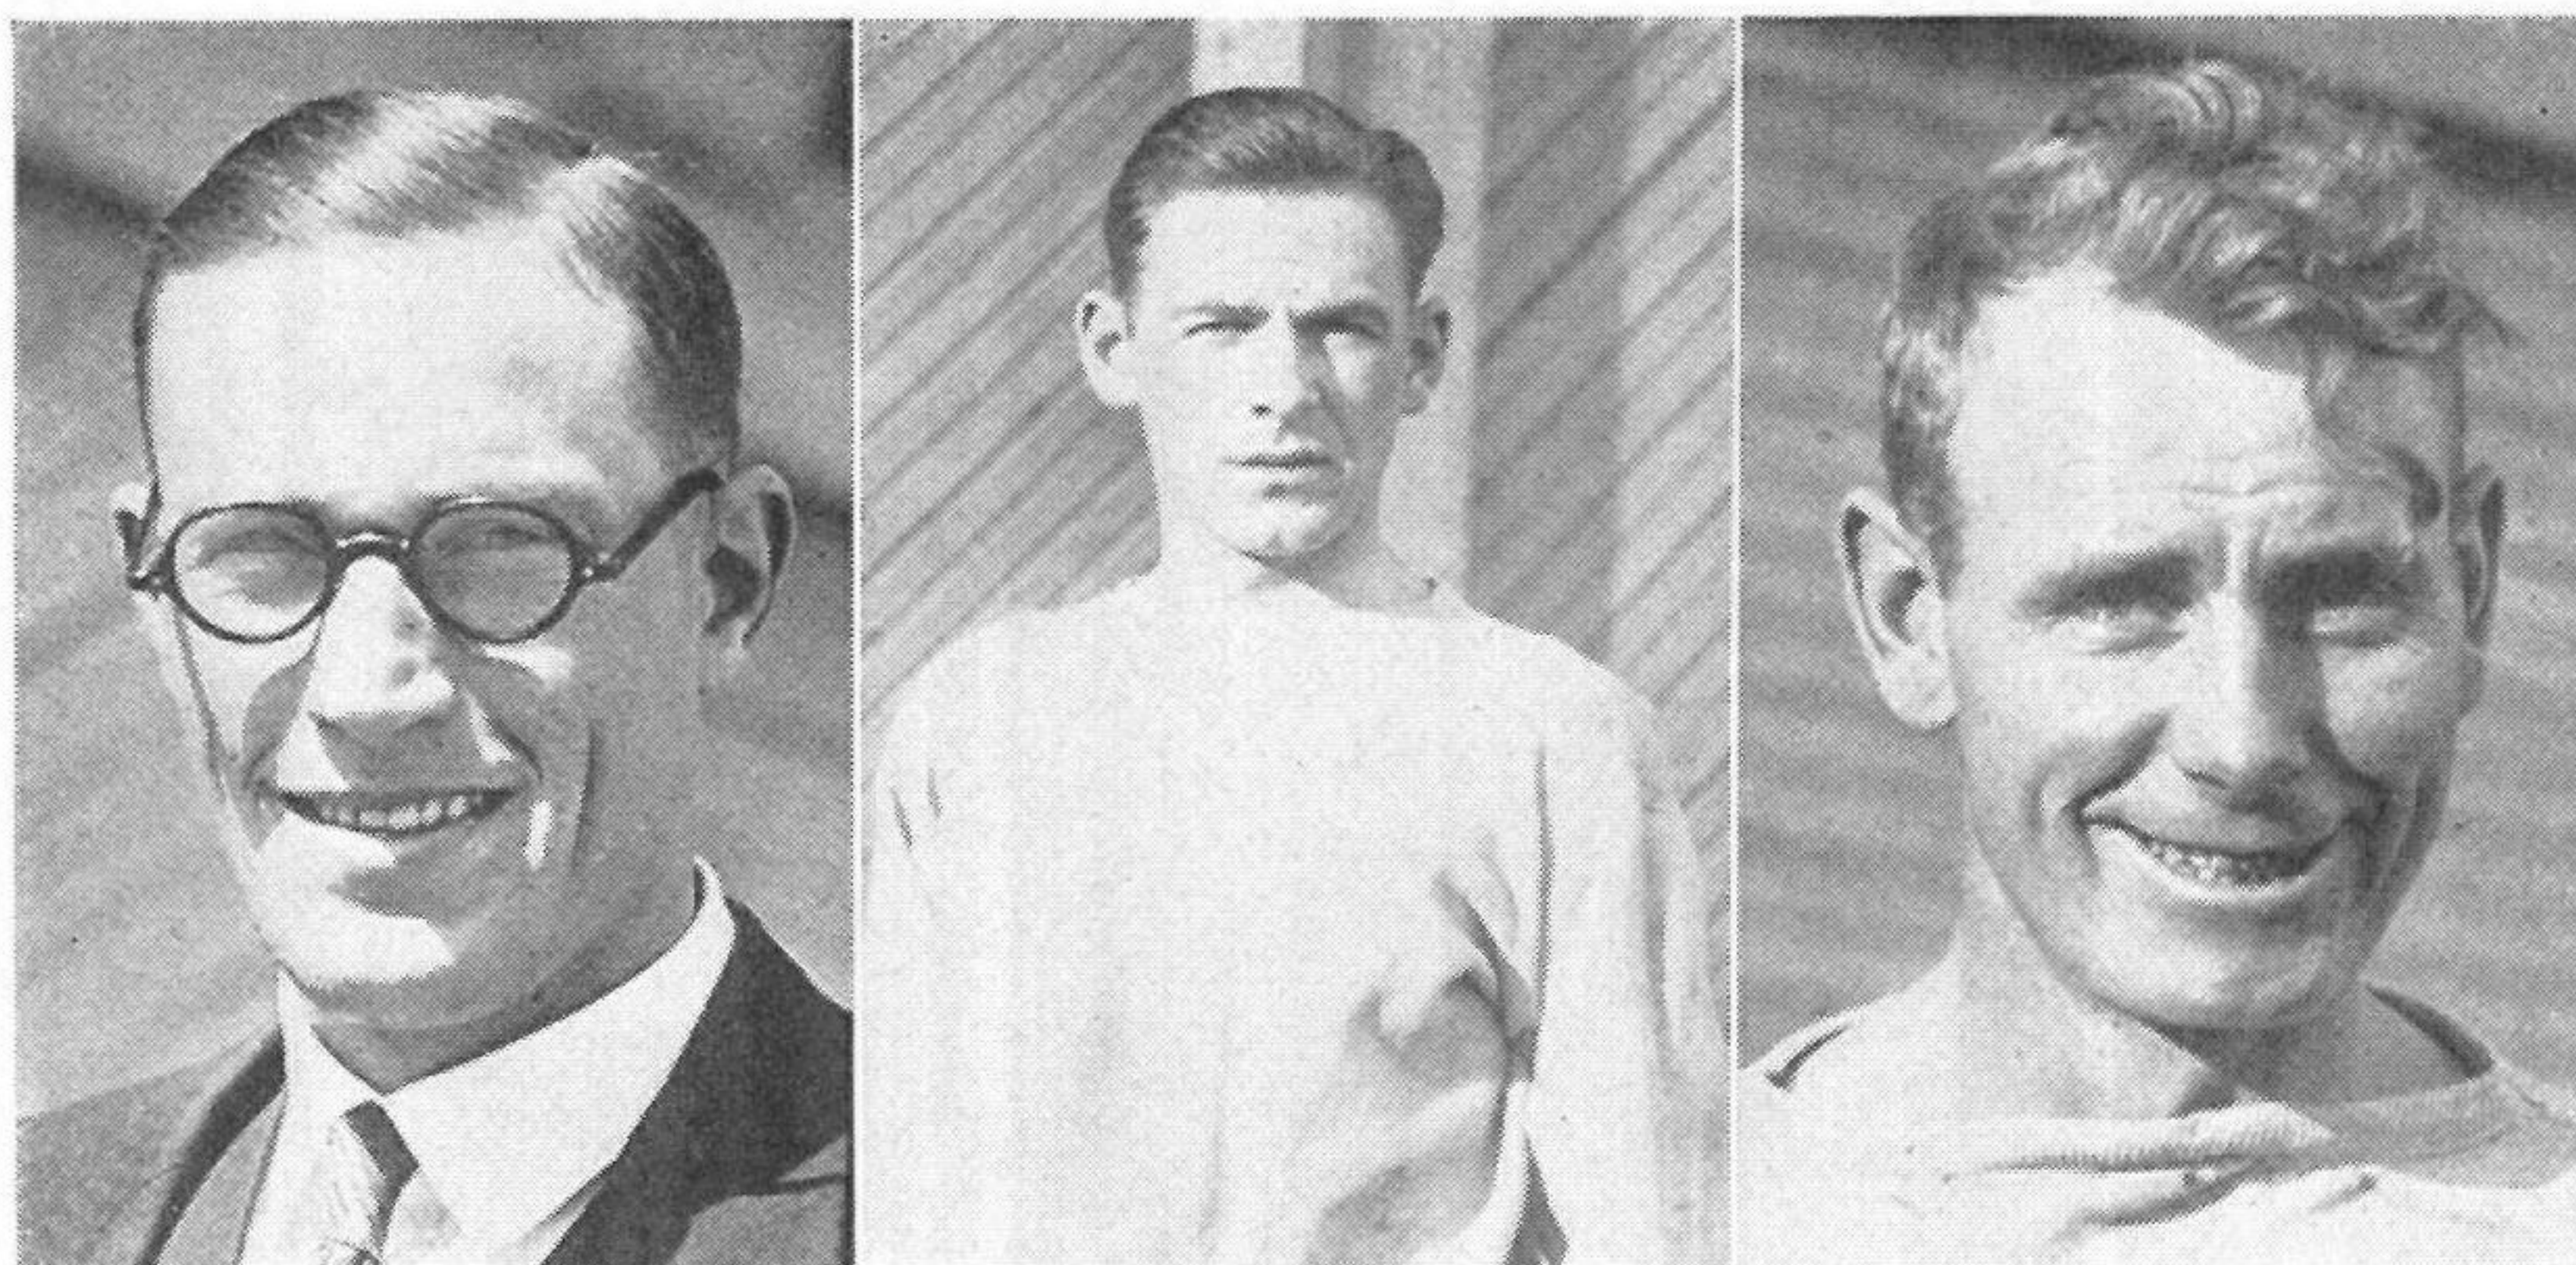

In the California race which took place on the 11th of April, the world's champion California crew took the measure of the Huskies, handing them a six-length defeat, and at the same time winning the Coast championship for the third successive year, going over the four-mile course in 15:31.

The Purple and Gold Fleet in an Early Spring Workout

Rowing in fine form, behind the excellent stroking of Ginger, the J-V came from behind to beat the Bears by three and one-half lengths, and to set a new course record in 15:45.

The Frosh affair was a thriller from the start, and the Yearling boats rowed neck and neck until they passed under the last bridge. Then, in the last hundred yards, the Californians pulled away to win by a bare margin of three seats.

After the California event, Ulbrickson began work in earnest for the annual regatta at Poughkeepsie. After weeks of strenuous work on the part of the sweepsters, the crews and attendants left Seattle June 6th for Madison, where they were to race with Coach Murphy's Badger crews. At that time it was said that the Varsity and Junior-Varsity boats were the fastest since 1926.

At Madison, the Varsity race was the race of the day. The shores of Lake Mendotta were lined with spectators and the day was ideal. With Curly Harris at the helm, the Varsity sweepsters, sitting in the newly-christened Hiram B. Conibear, kept at the heels of the Wisconsin boat until the final spurt. Then Harris pulled the Huskies away in a hurry, and they won by a length in the slow time of 11:02.

In the J-V event, Orr started fast and piled up a lead which netted the Juniors a five-length win. The time for the race was 11:03.

From Madison, the crews went to Poughkeepsie, and began their workouts on the Hudson. Five days before the race, the Varsity underwent a noticeable change, and from that time on improved by leaps and bounds.

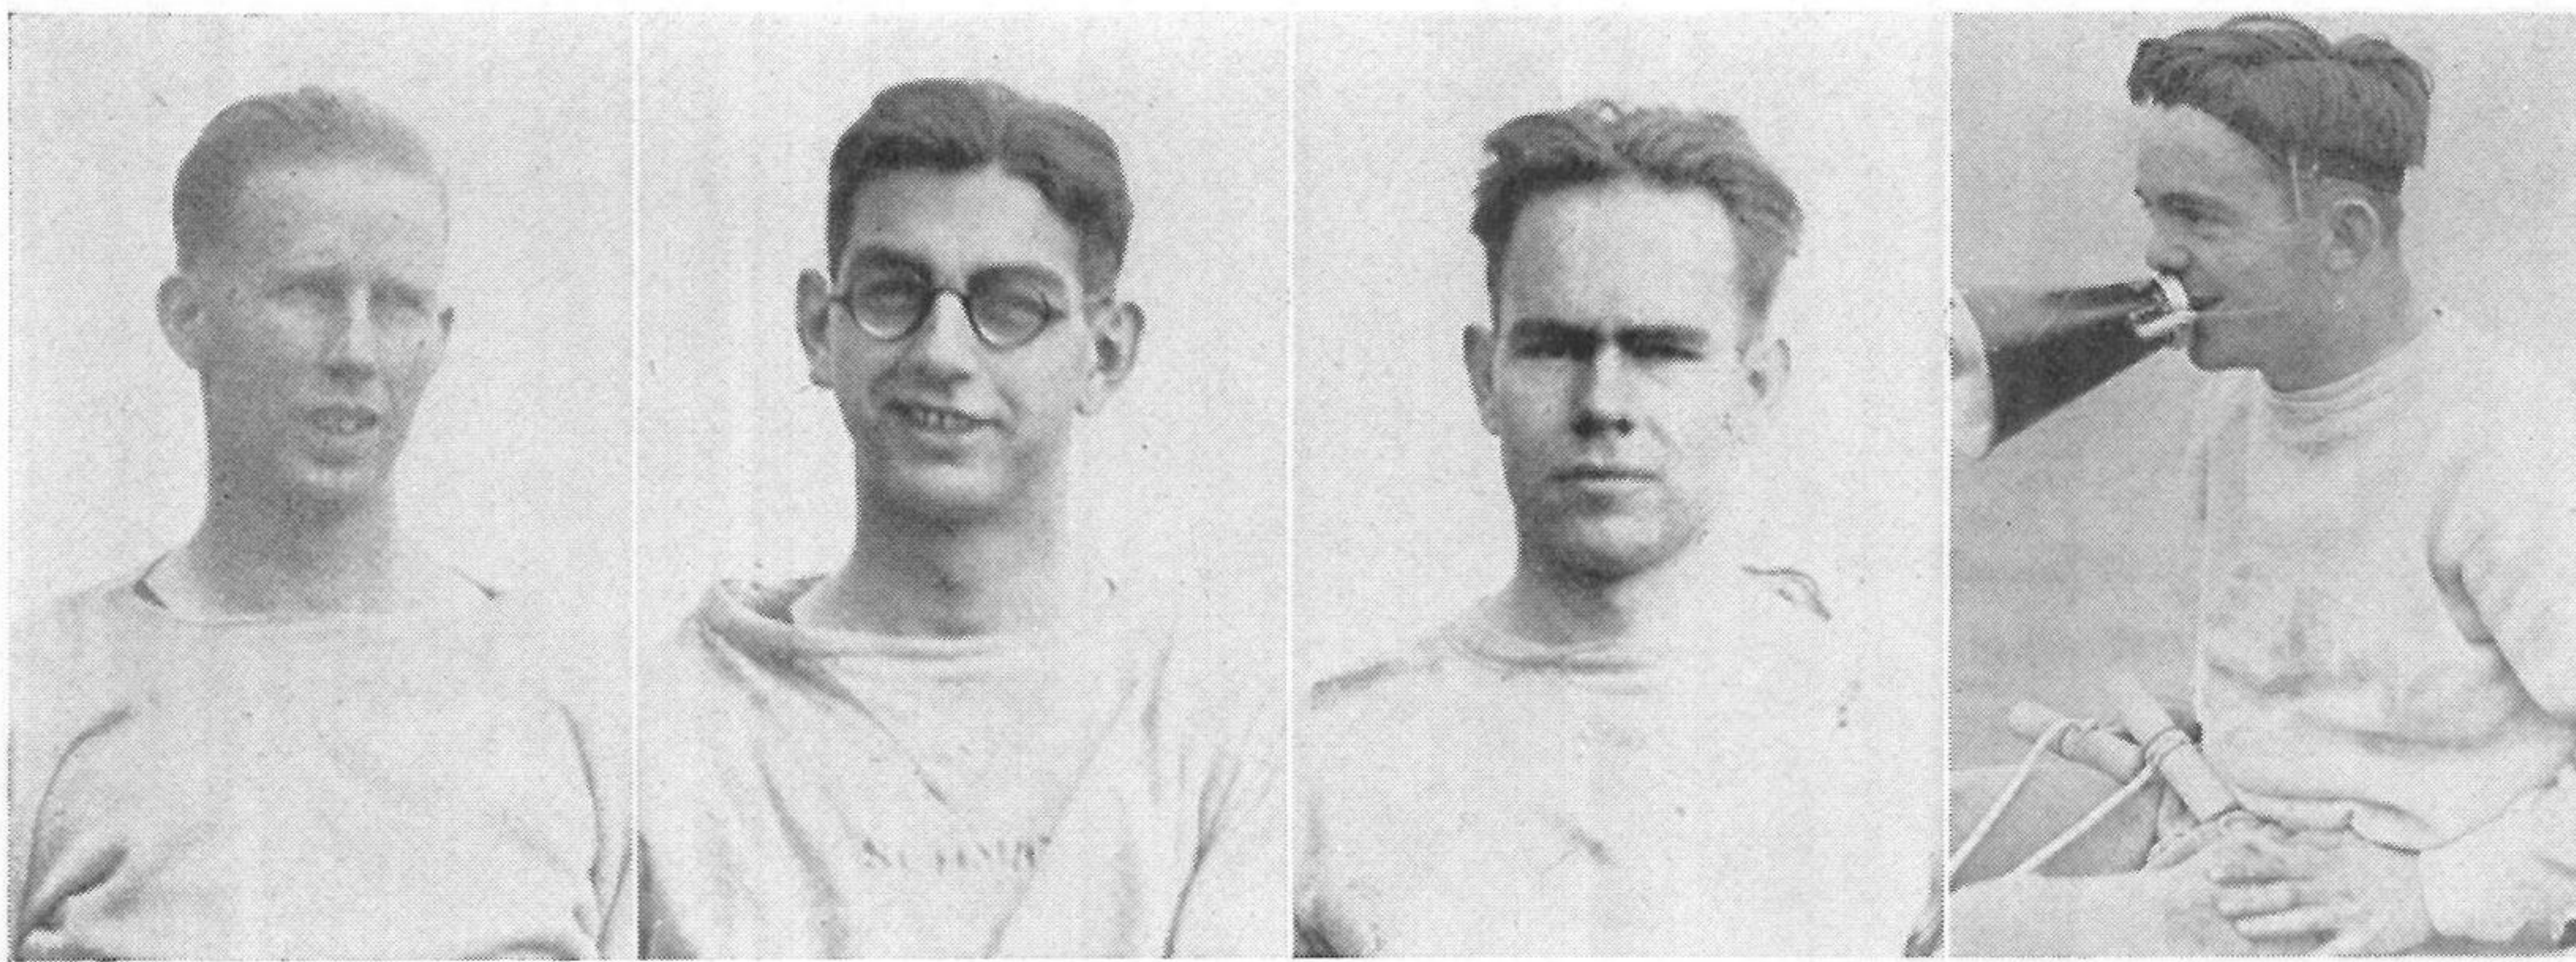

The day of the race came and with it rough water which made things look black for several of the contestants. After two false starts, the crews swept down the course and Washington found itself on the heels of Columbia and the strong Navy crew. Disaster came to two of the shells, California sinking, while the Cornell boat broke in two.

As the early spring dusk settled down over the water, the boats passed over the finish line and for a few minutes there was no cheering. No one knew who had won. Then came the news that Columbia had taken the race, while Washington had placed second when they were accorded a small chance for honors.

1929 Varsity on the Water

Morris, Schmidt, Alcorn, Orr

The J-V fared badly and had to be content with fourth place; Cornell, Columbia and Navy finishing out in front. Two false starts spoiled this race also, the Husky boat getting away to a three-quarter lead in the first start only to be called back to the post.

The Frosh engaged in two races with the O. S. C. crews, and the second boat traveled to Corvallis to meet defeat at the hands of the Senior crew. In a second meeting, however, both the first and second Frosh boats won over the Oregonians.

At the end of the season, the following men were awarded W's: Anderson, Odell, Valentine, Schmidt, MacDonald, Alcorn, Litchfield, Davis, Ginger, Bowen, Phillips, Morris, Orr and Harris.

J-V letter winners were: Wakeman, Larson, Ginger, Murphy, Morris, Phillips, Oistad, Schoettler, Kauffman, Wilson and Harris.

Freshman numerals were given to Baker, Fuller, Jansen, Williamson, Urquhart, Donahue, Koch, Campbell, Berthume, Gobler, Poot, Reese, Benz, Johnson, Hutchinson, Schoell, Jergens and Noble.

Honor W's were given to Wakeman, Rosen, McKinstry, Fulton, White, Oros, Oswald and McMullen for their four years of work without winning a regular W.

Ronald Wailes was awarded the Piggot Trophy at the annual crew banquet which was held at the Wilsonian. Otis Smith relinquished the managerial reins to Charles Batelle at the close of the season.

1930 Basketball

By HARRY ALBRIGHT

WITH the Northern Division basketball title in their grasp, Washington's 1930 hoop squad journeyed to Los Angeles to meet the Southern California Trojans for the Coast title, only to lose two out of the three tilts played. In the first struggle of the play-off the Huskies were snowed under when the Thundering Herd ran wild to win 46 to 31.

In the second meeting, Washington came back to knot the series at one apiece when they landed on top with a 36 to 31 win. The Trojans won the deciding fracas when they held a slim lead throughout the game to sprint in the final minutes to cinch the championship with a 37 to 29 score.

Jiggs Jaloff and Hal McClary were the Husky hoopmen who played their last game for Washington in this series. In addition to these two, Hank Swanson helped make the Purple and Gold hoop offense one of the most formidable on the Coast.

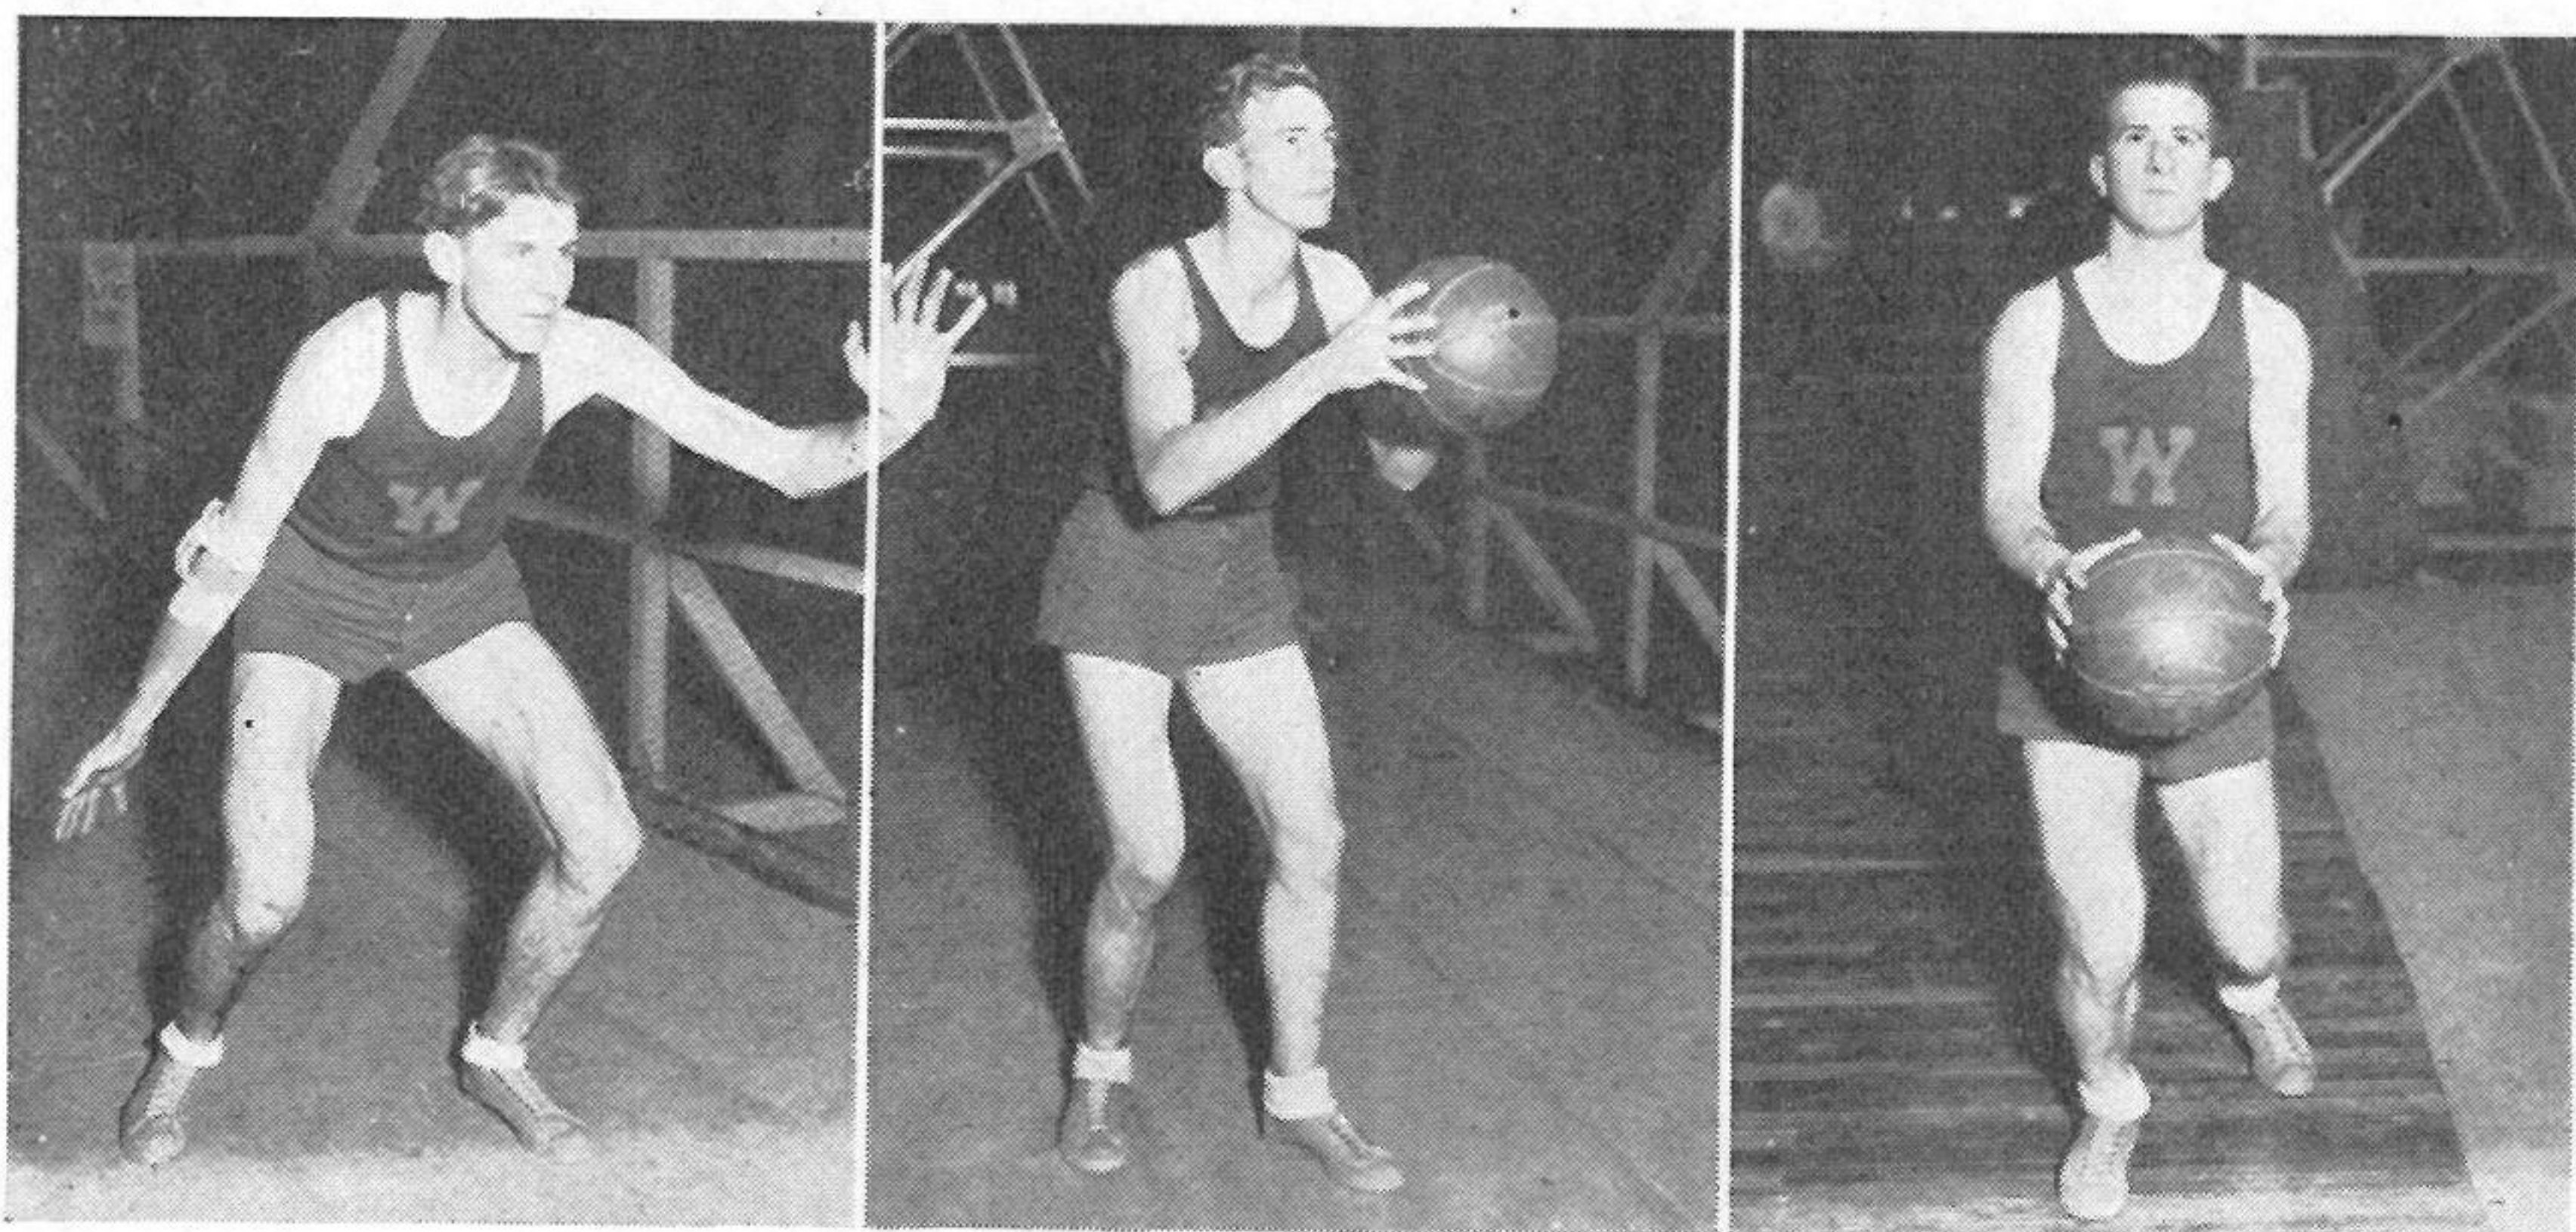

Hec Edmundson started the season with two games in the pavilion with Gonzaga which were won by the Goldshirts, 35 to 21 and 42 to 11. Then Washington traveled to Walla Walla to meet Whitman, where the Missionaries were defeated 41 to 21.

Gonzaga was again defeated at Spokane, 24 to 22 and 28 to 17. Whitman forced the Huskies to extend themselves to take a return game in Seattle, 34 to 30.

Oregon State, which was Washington's jinx for the year, beat the Purple and Gold five in the season opener 34 to 24, in the pavilion. Edmundson's boys came back the next night to win from the Beavers, 36 to 24. In the next series, played at Eugene, Washington beat the Oregon Webfeet 37 to 28 and 32 to 31.

Oregon State took two return games 34 to 32 and 19 to 17 at Corvallis. At Seattle, Washington won two straight, beating Washington State 32 to 29 and 35 to 19. The first tilt was a fast one, the game being settled in an overtime period.

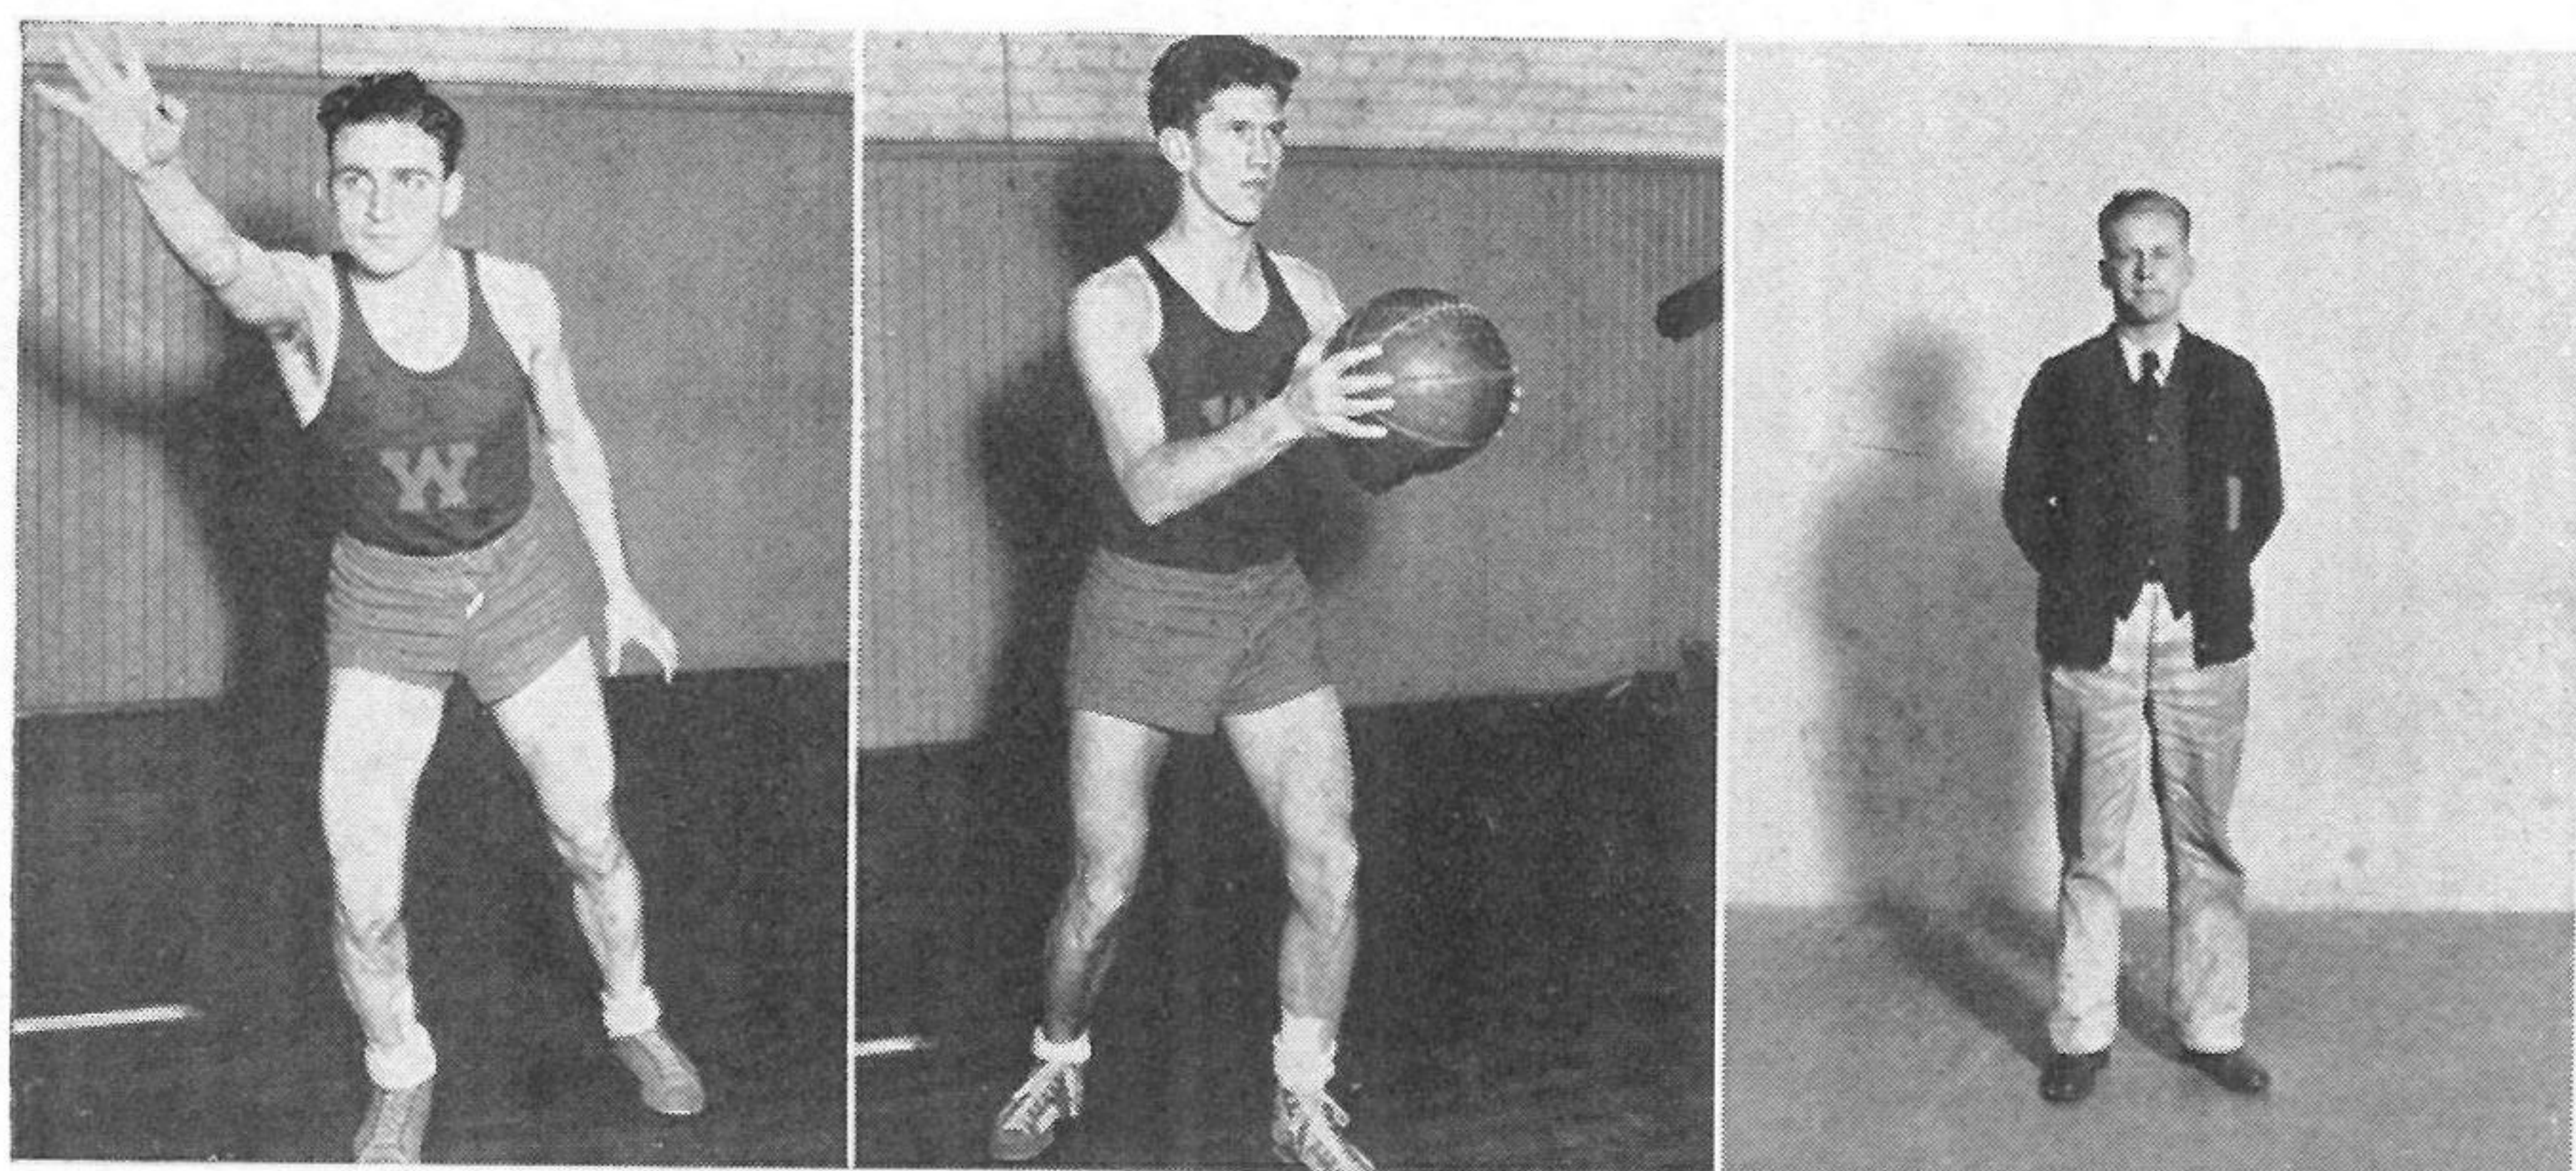

On the last road trip of their Northern Division schedule the Huskies beat the Idaho Vandals 35 to 26 and 44 to 35 at Moscow. In a return meeting with the Cougars the Washington State five was victorious, winning 24 to 21. In the second encounter, the Goldshirts were high, 29 to 26.

In the second series with Idaho, played on the pavilion floor, Washington won twice, 43 to 15 and 35 to 19. This cinched a tie for the Northern Division championship for the men from Seattle.

The University of Oregon five came north to meet Washington with the possibility of a tie for the title if they could take both games. The first contest was a fierce struggle which the Huskies pulled out of the fire to win 32 to 25. In the last game of the season the Purple and Gold outfit beat the Webfeet 38 to 31 to complete their year's record with 12 wins and 4 losses.

Cairney distinguished himself on the back court, winning a place for himself at guard on several all-Northern Division teams. Swanson and McClary were universal choices on these aggregations.

The men who made letters for the 1930 season were Jiggs Jaloff, Hal McClary, Hank Swanson, Ralph Cairney, Art Peterson, Gene Rutherford, Shorty West, Ned Nelson, Ernie Gritsch and Virg Perry. Maury Balcom piloted the team through their successful season from his post as Senior manager. Hal McClary was elected honorary captain for 1930.

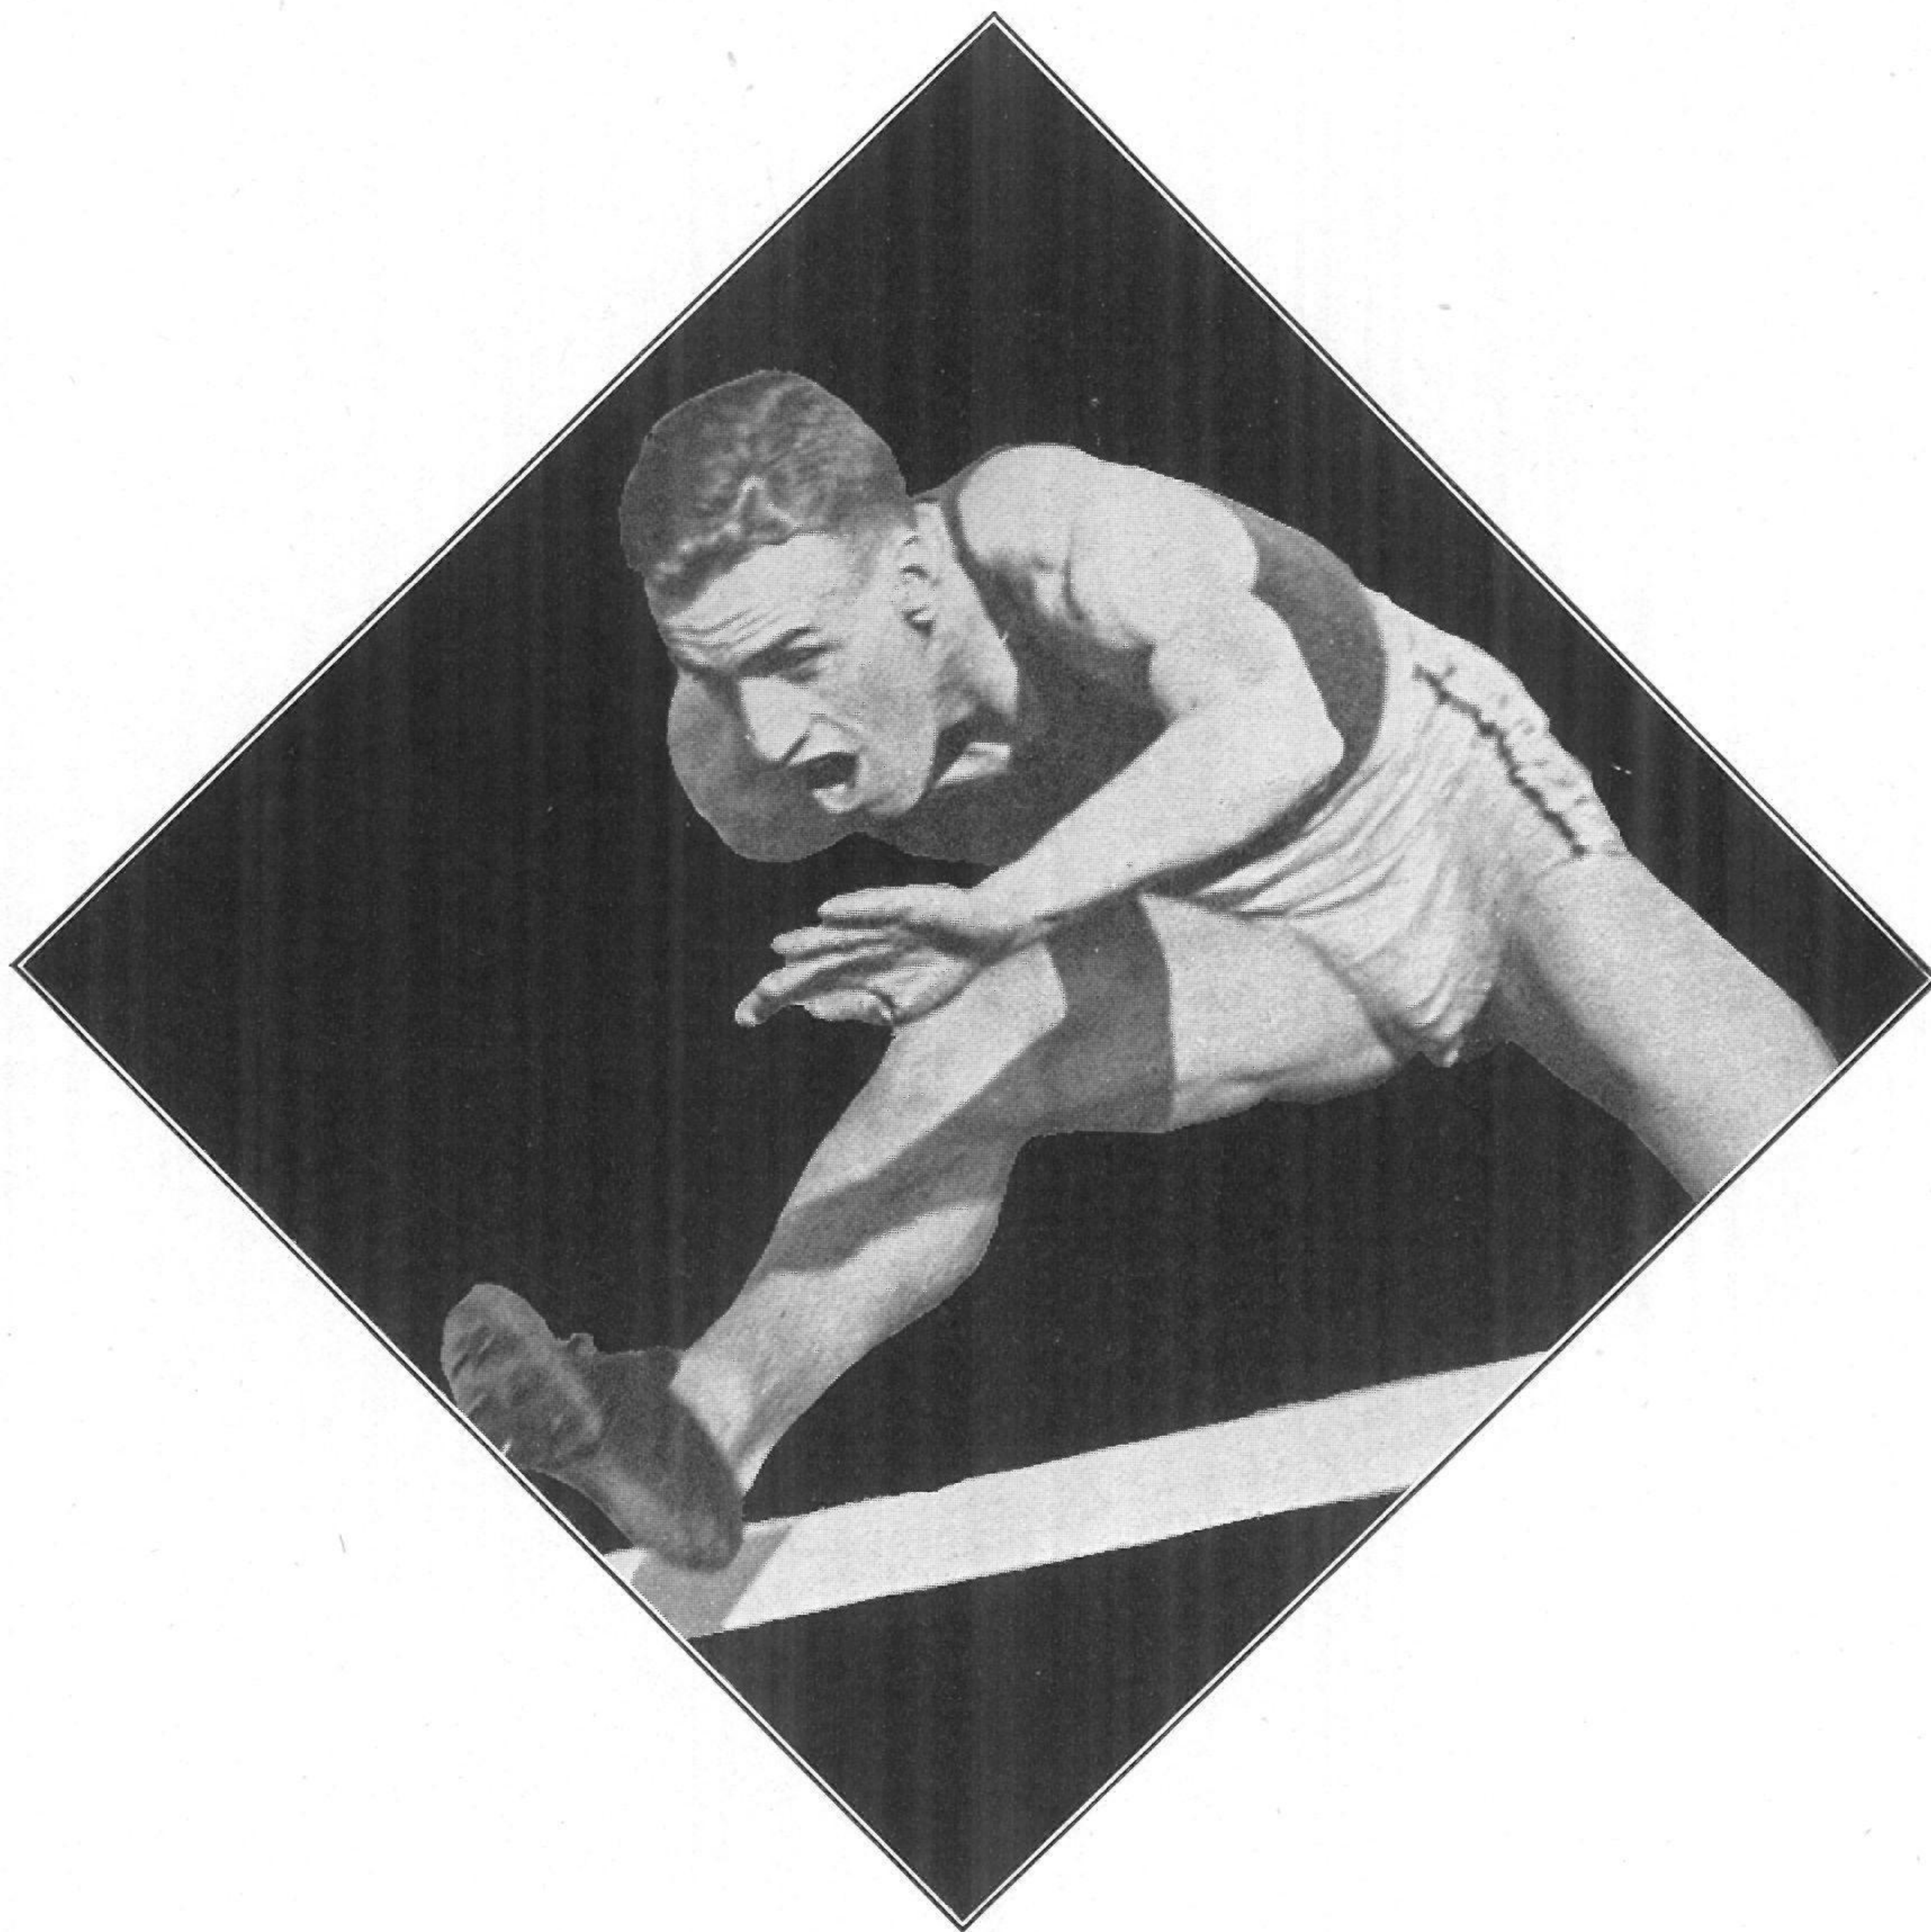

The Frosh did not find their season so easy as that of the Varsity and were defeated in a majority of their games. Numeral winners were Walter Hanson, Jack Anshutz, Blaine Thompson, Don Beck, Bob Falk, Wendell Knudson, Jack Hullin, Frank McCartney, Marion Felt, Tim McCullough, Dick Herrin and Stan Haaland.

1929 Track

by FERDINAND BISHOP

COACH Hec Edmundson's Washington cinder men are good, and there hasn't been a team in this region that could say anything to the contrary for quite some spell. A Northwest supremacy, a Pacific Coast championship, and a second in the National Intercollegiates last spring, all bear the truth of these tracksters' mettle. Only Stanford's well-balanced team successfully challenged the Huskies' right to Coast honors.

The Cardinals' unusual power in the field events was expected to barely offset the Huskies' equal strength on the track when the two squads met last March in the Northwest's first indoor meet. Stanford upset the dope in the dashes, however, and won by a comfortable 73-58 margin. Fred Sturdy, guest vaulter from Yale, and Ward Edmonds, Stanford ace, both took a try at the indoor pole-vault record. Edmonds bested the teammate of Sabin Carr, present holder of the record, but was unable to approach Carr's mark. Stanford broke the world indoor records for the shot-put, discus and javelin. Steve Anderson hopped the 80-yard high hurdles in the world record time of 9.8, won the lows and tied for first in the high jump to lead the meet as high point man.

Finish of the 75-Yard Dash in the Stanford Indoor Meet

Anderson, Genung, Pendleton

Contrary to superstition, but in accord with expectations, the Huskies humbled the California cinder artists on April 13 to the tune of a  $75\frac{1}{2}$  to  $55\frac{1}{2}$  score. Steve Anderson and Paul Jessup started out early to form the unbreakable lead. Together these two garnered four firsts and twenty points. The real excitement at Berkeley that day was the two-mile race. Sellers, Husky distance man, permitted Mossman to take the lead and set the pace until the last lap when he set out to regain lost ground, but found the distance was too short. Mossman broke the tape first by scant inches.

The Washington Relay Carnival in the Stadium saw a new Husky two-mile relay team set a Northwest record time of 7:53.5. The Purple and

The Husky Team Which Took Second in the National Intercollegiates

Sellers, Jessup

Gold also took the four-mile relay with a record time of 18:10 over Oregon's second. The old standbys, Anderson and Jessup, both took firsts. Washington State, our biggest threat throughout the season, won the meet with five firsts and a tie in the pole vault.

Washington next journeyed South to Oregon, where the Webfooters entertained with some record breaking while Edmundson's squad snapped up the track events to win easily. Moeller, of the Webfooters, hurled the discus for a world record mark of 160 ft. 3 in. Dixon, his teammate, cracked another mark when he tossed the spear a distance of 186 ft. 3 in. The Huskies took everything else from the 100-yard dash to the two-mile, with the final score standing 82 to 49 in their favor.

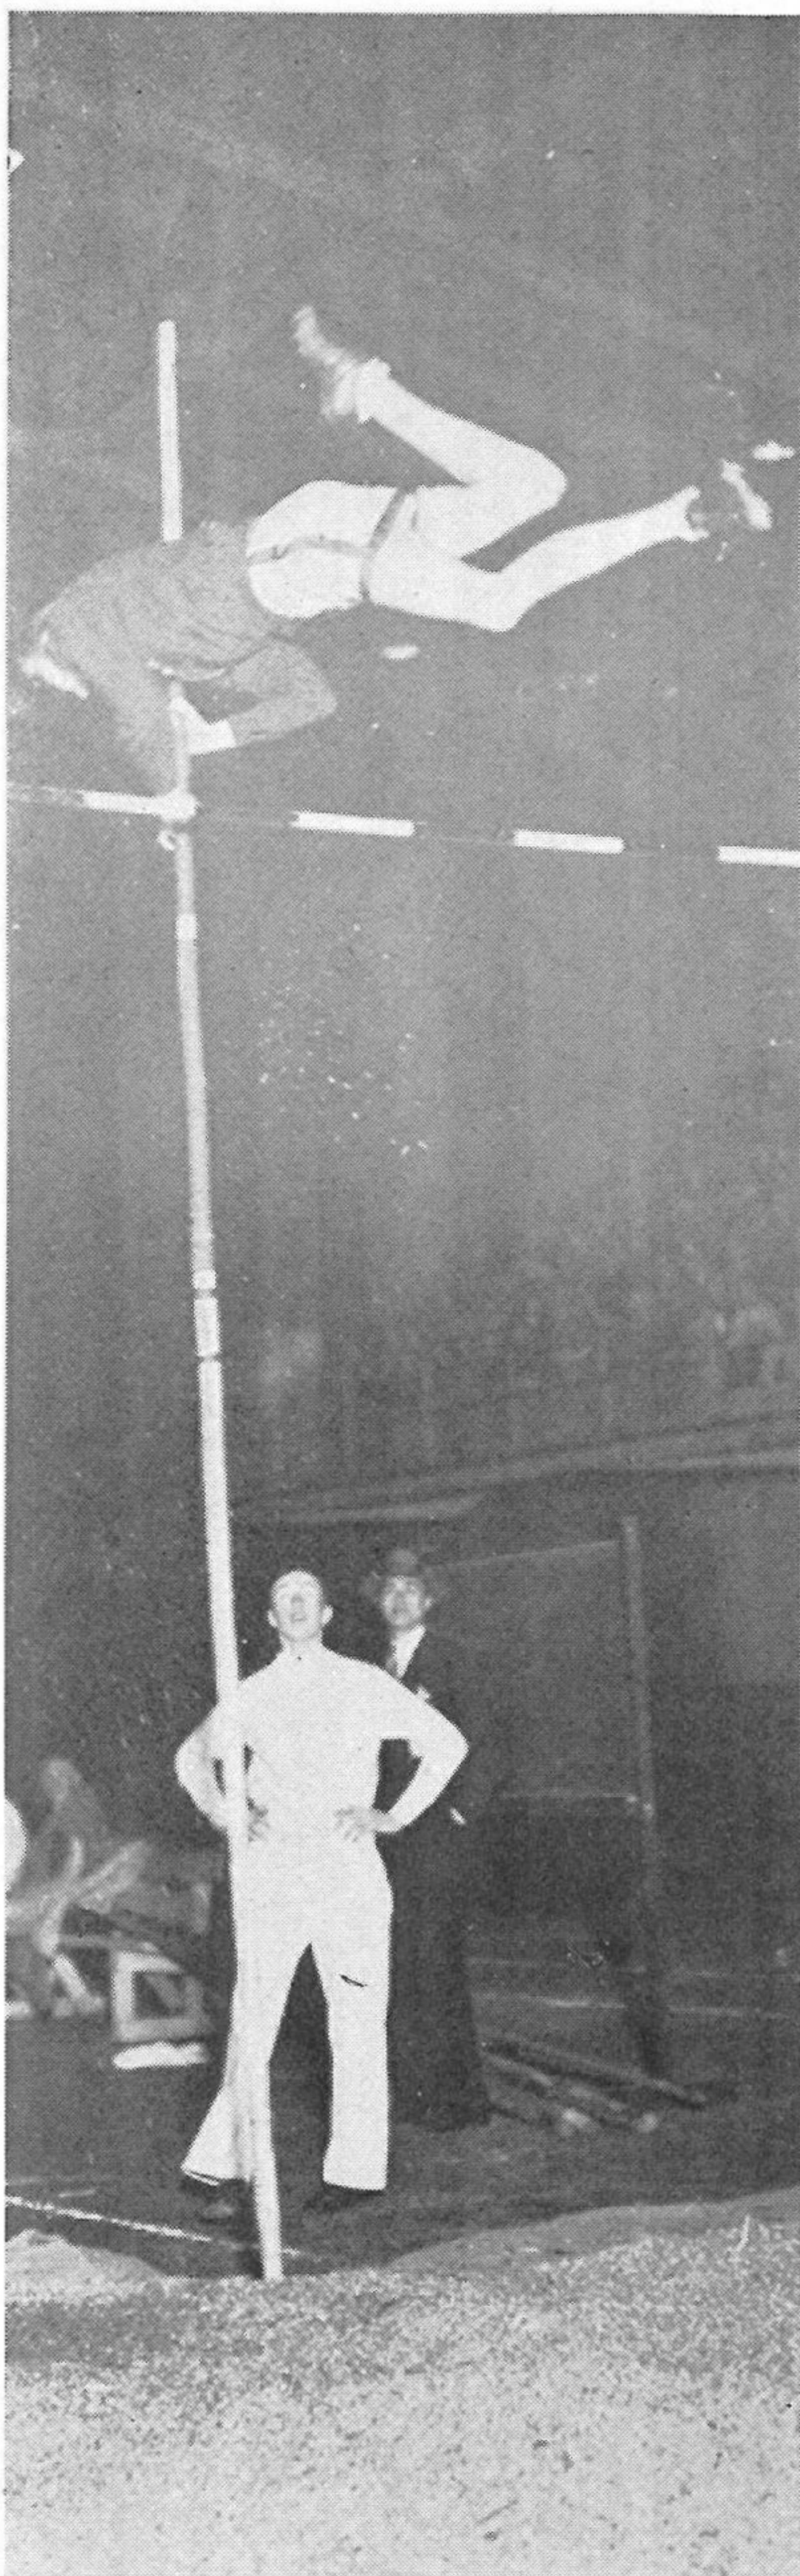

The Corvallis trip was just as productive for the Husky speedsters, who led their opponents to the tape to win 70 to 52. Eddie Genung, Rufus Kiser and Elbert Sellers showed heels in their fastest time yet in the half, mile and two-mile.

From their Carnival showing, W. S. C. was scheduled to hand us several stiff jolts. Upsetting these predictions, Edmundson's track stars coped eleven first places, five seconds, and placed seven other men to bring home the heavy end of an  $82\frac{1}{2}$  to  $48\frac{1}{2}$  score. Foster was doped to win at least three firsts for the Cougars, but was so badly beaten by both Pendleton and Hartley that he withdrew from further participation. Jessup set a new Northwest record in the shot, and in spite of the chilly wind that swept Roger's Field, Adams hurled the javelin for another record smasher.

Still warm from their recent victory over Washington State, Coach Edmundson's men took the Northwest Conference meet at Eugene with a total of 59 points. Steve Anderson leaped the high sticks in world record time and led the meet as high point man.

The National Intercollegiates next beckoned eleven of our best track stars. The meet saw one of the biggest turnouts of the year, the Huskies taking second place when five of the group placed. The field was fast, but these Purple and Gold runners bowed only because of the superior numbers of the Ohio State team. Eddie Genung upset all dope when he stepped past Gist of Chicago, last year's champion, to take the Intercollegiate half-mile championship.

Steve Anderson, supreme on the Coast in the high hurdles, was honored with the captaincy of the 1930 Varsity at the close of the season.

Neal Fosseen managed the team very capably throughout the season, and at its close, Harold Pebbles was selected to take over his duties for 1930.

Brodie, Nelson, Reed, Cram

Big W's were awarded Captain Bill Shelley, Steve Anderson, Crosby Pendleton, Doane Brodie, Talbot Hartley, Bob Bale, Ed Genung, Gordon Dodds, Bob Davies, Rufus Kiser, Elbert Sellers, Bob Reed, Jack Cram, Paul Jessup, Julius Ramstedt, Bob Adams, Fred Ross, George Nickell, Tom Humes and Reed Ingham.

The Frosh were also supreme in the Northwest, defeating the Bellingham and Ellensburg Normals to the tune of 85 to 23 and 102 to 20. Ken Rhuddy was the outstanding trackster of the squad with his Varsity mile time. Ralph Cairney and Bryant Dunn are also promising candidates for the Varsity.

1929 Baseball

by JOHN SOTH

ALTHOUGH he may not look the part, Washington's "Tubby" Graves definitely established himself as the McGraw of Northwest Conference baseball last spring when his Huskies, after an inauspicious start, took three straight games on their Eastern trip to Washington State and Idaho, winning the title by a half game margin.

After winning several practice tilts, Washington opened the season by dividing a series with Meiji University of Japan, winning the first 2-0 and losing the second 4-1.

The Purple and Gold was lucky to emerge with an even break in the opening Conference clash with the Cougars on the home field. Washington State errors contributed largely to the Huskies' 5-4 victory in the first game. Two home runs by Rowher, Cougar infielder, proved to be the margin of victory in the second which the Staters won 5-3.

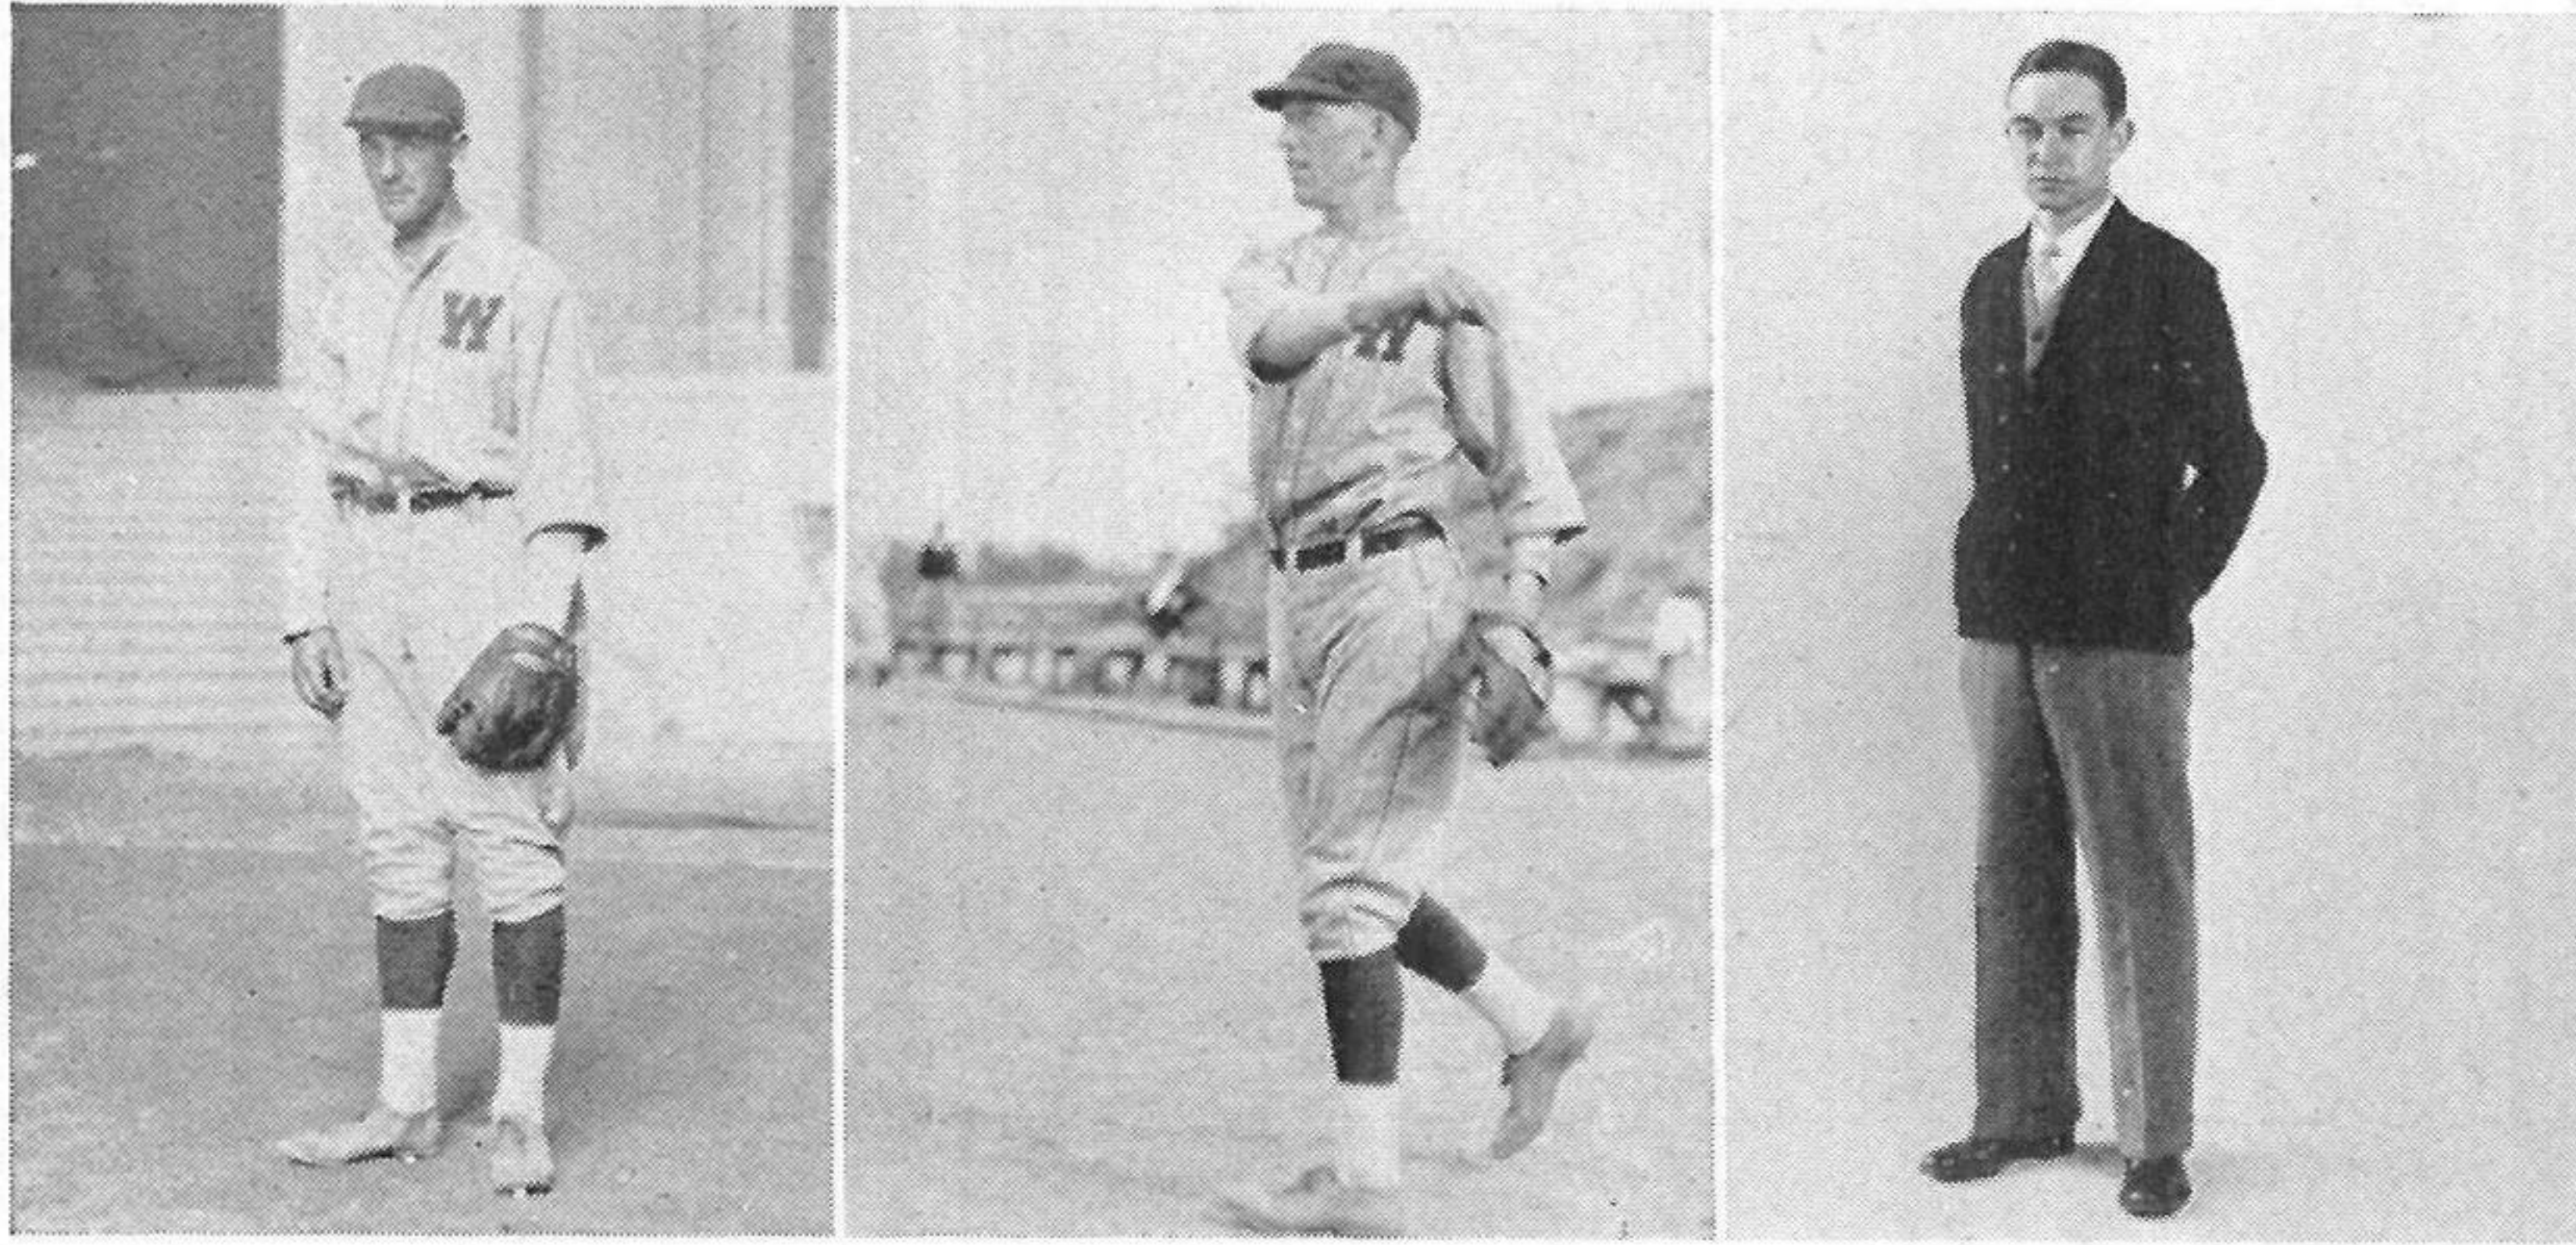

Idaho came to Seattle next and conceded the Huskies a two-game series after battling for ten innings in the opener and forcing the Purple and Gold to take their fourteenth bats to cop the second. The scores were 1-0 and 5-4.

Hagist, Morrison, Carroll

Gaw, Bolstad, Perkins

Then Graves' men packed their bats for Oregon and joined with the Webfooters in a two-game slugging match. Ten pitchers were used in the first game which Oregon finally won, 21-15. Base hits were more one-sided in the second game, however, and Washington won an easy 15-3 victory.

After a one-day rest, Washington hopped over to Corvallis where the Staters handed them the short end in both games of the series. The scores were 7-3 and 6-4.

When the Webfooters copped the opening game of the Huskies' home stay by a score of 5-4, Washington's title hopes disappeared entirely. Even a 4-3 victory in the second game failed to revive them. Washington and Oregon State divided the final home series for Graves' men, hanging up scores of 5-7 and 5-3.

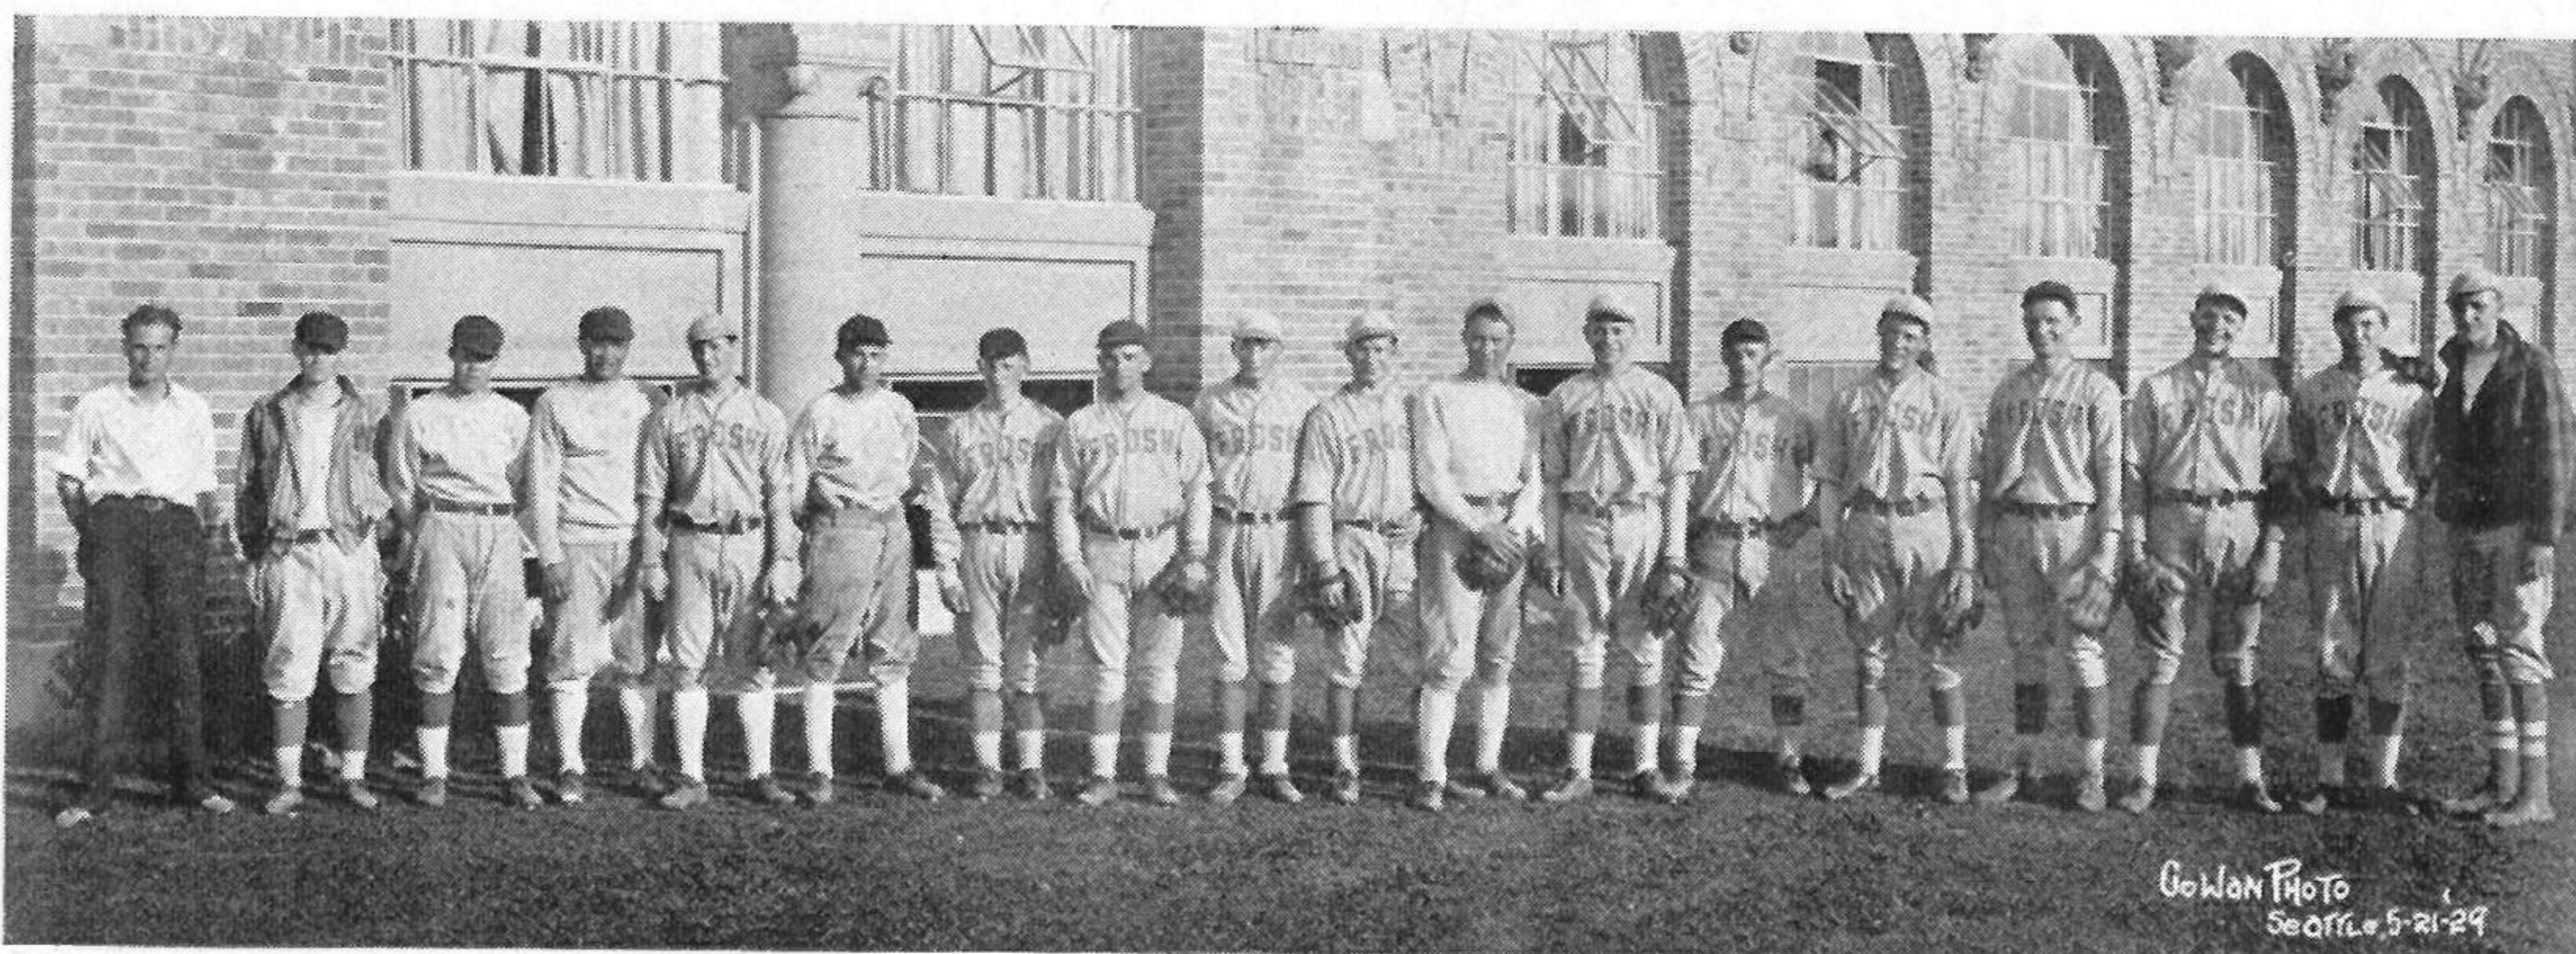

Old Jupe Pluvius was intermittently busy during the Huskies' stay in Pullman and Moscow, so the former Sundodgers, being in their element, proceeded to annex the championship. The scores were 11-3 and 14-9.

Washington barely squeezed out an 8-7 victory over the Vandals, but this was enough to win the title because rain made it impossible to play the second of the series.

The champion Huskies dropped off at Walla Walla on their way home and took a two-game series from Whitman by 11-5 and 5-2 scores.

Wilson Gaw, two-year letterman, was selected by his teammates to captain the 1930 Varsity and Percy Bolstad was awarded the cup given for the first time last spring by alumni to the player who is the most inspiration to the team. The new Varsity field was named Graves Field in honor of the Husky Coach.

Letters were awarded to Captain Claude Brannon, Percy Bolstad, Edward Barberis, Edgar Hagist, Rudolph Tollefson, William Hutchison, Harry White, Wilson Gaw, Darrell Morrison, Charles Carroll, Gerald Calhoun, Williard Nevins, Raphael Davis, Archie McLean, Earl Kraetz, and John Kirner. Virgil Anderson received an honor W. DeForest Perkins turned the managerial reins over to Jerry Haney for 1930.

The Frosh had a very successful season last spring, winning fifteen games and losing only four. Numeral winners were Ferguson Risk, Ed Bowman, Don Brown, Emmett Talkington, George Thomas, Elmer Schoen, Burton Runkel, Monroe Hubbell, Frank Pozarich, Wayne Wintermute, Dave Henderson, William Waltz, Robert Sullivan, William Muhonen, Ned Nelson and Robert Heaman.

Captain Langlie

1929 Tennis

by DICK CRUM

THE University racqueteers marked up a very creditable record on the courts last spring, finishing second in the Northwest to Oregon. The Web-foot squad, containing men well known in tournament play up and down the Coast, took six straight matches to prove their superiority over the Huskies.

The Varsity team, consisting of Captain Windy Langlie, Billie Newkirk, Don McLarren and George Hoyt, opened the season by defeating the Seattle Tennis Club five matches to four. This was the first time the University has beaten the Club.

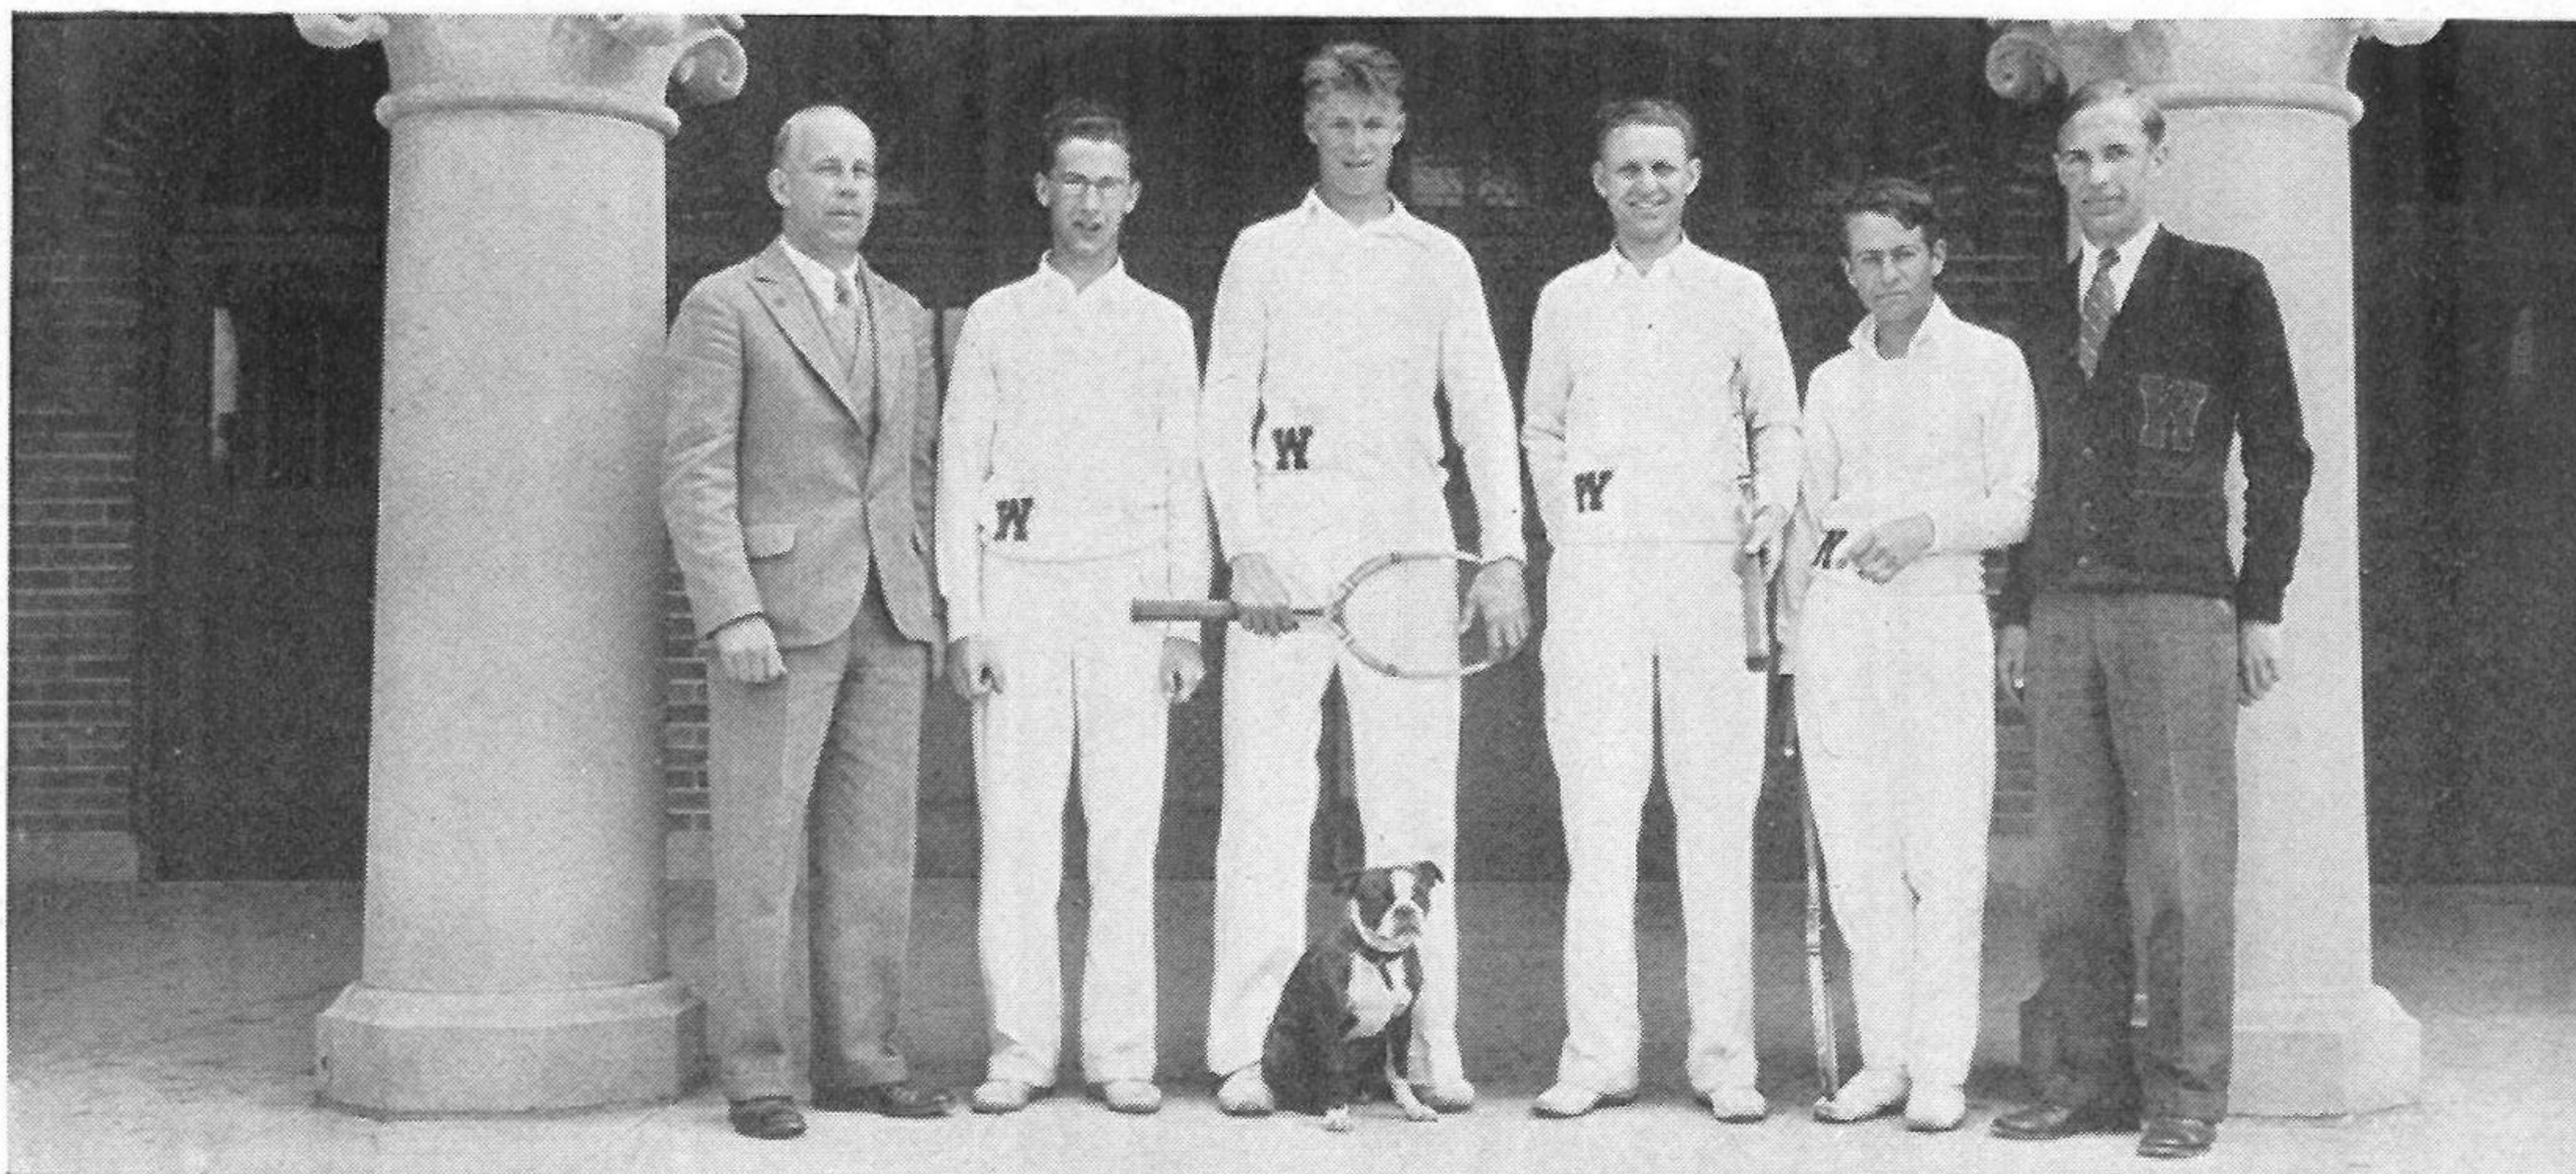

Washington won its first intercollegiate match by defeating Washington State College six matches to none. Washington State had previously defeated Idaho six straight matches. Oregon State bowed to the Huskies by the same 6-0 count. Hoyt played a brilliant game to beat Sjoblom 13-11, 6-4, in the feature match of the contest.

Oregon then stepped in to mar Washington's undefeated record by winning six straight matches. Newkirk, in his first set, gave Harrison a hard fight but in the second Harrison's drives began to come in and Newkirk could not handle them. Langlie and McLarren ran their men to three sets. Harrison paired with Lockwood at Los Angeles to bring the doubles title to Oregon, and the Webfooters, as a team, were undoubtedly the best on the Coast.

The Pacific Coast Conference meet was held on the University of Southern California courts at Los Angeles, on May 17th and 18th. John Doeg, of Stanford, won the singles title; the doubles were won by Harrison and Lockwood of Oregon. Newkirk, of Washington, was eliminated in the singles by Hardy, of U. S. C.; while Langlie, Washington's other representative, was defeated by Wheatley, of Stanford.

Newkirk and Langlie entered the doubles semi-finals by defeating Westsmith and Divorkin, U. C. L. A. stars, but they were forced to bow to Doeg and Wheatley of Stanford in that bracket. Stanford was beaten by Oregon, who won the championship.

The day after the team returned from Los Angeles, they defeated Whitman College two matches to one. Newkirk lost to Oswald of Whitman, who holds the Idaho State and Spokane-Inland Empire championships. This match ended the University Tennis Team's 1929 season. The team was ably managed throughout the season by Dick MacDonald.

At the first annual tennis banquet, held at the Wilsonian Hotel on May 29, Don McLarren was elected captain for the coming season and Fred Kettenring, Jr., was named manager.

The Frosh squad also had a very good season. Out of eight matches, the Frosh bowed only to Oregon. The numeral winners were Kyran Hynes, Frank Ketcham, Jim Fairbourn and Fred Clarke. All four men show promise of being future Varsity stars. Dick Hergert was the Freshman manager.

Minor and Intramural Sports

Golf

COACH "BILL" JEFFERSON has been given the sole power to select the golf team for the coming spring season. Some of the outstanding contenders are Rosen, Hagist and Richmond. Kermit Rosen won the Sayles trophy in the annual Fall tournament.

Boxing

THE Varsity team, composed of Shaughnessy, 115-lb. class; Norwood, 125; Jones, 135; James and Willey, 145; Anderson, 158; Nance, 175; and Holmes, heavy; won its first meet with W. S. C., five matches to two. They defeated the California team at Oakland by the same count.

Varsity Boxing Team and Intramural Champions

R. O. T. C. Rifle Team

Riflery

THE University of Washington rifle team is becoming recognized as one of the outstanding teams in the country. They have not dropped a match for the last two years. Roy Meister placed thirteenth in the National individual competition.

The R. O. T. C. team has won the Hearst trophy for marksmanship in the Western Division for the past two years. This year they stand a very good chance of repeating.

Wrestling

THE wrestling team won its match with Everett Y. M. C. A. Culp, 115-lbs.; Vogel, 125; Stevens, 135; Webster, 145; Shands, 155; Howard, 165; Landauer, 175; and Kraetz, heavy, were the members of the team.

Varsity Rifle Team

Finish Club, Intramural Cross Country Winners

Intramural Sports

CCROSS-COUNTRY was the opening event on the 1930 intramural calendar. The Finish Club nosed out the experienced Lander Hall team to win the intramural cross-country trophy.

The Phi Delta Theta hoopers won the 1930 basketball title after a close tussle with Miller's Independents. Basketball again proved to be the most popular of the intramural sports. Pi Kappa Alpha won the foul shooting contest with Sigma Nu a close second.

Hockey was instituted this year as an intramural sport with Malan's Independents taking first honors. However, the other finalist, Kappa Sigma, received the inter-fraternity pennant as independent teams are ineligible for it.

Phi Delta Theta won its second intramural championship for the year in track. Beta Theta Pi was second. Last year's winners, Sigma Phi Epsilon, had to be content with third.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION

WITH revision of its constitution, designed to plan a working constitution of an entirely new pattern, as an outstanding all-year activity, the Women's Federation has continued its forward stride throughout the school year. Composed of all women and all women's organizations on the campus, this organization controls matters of especial interest to women students; aiming to further the educational, cultural and social ideals of its members.

In an effort to create a feeling of cooperation and to make it possible for all women to participate in activities the Federation has sponsored two special activities this year. The first is embodied in the slogan of the organization of independent women, "Famous for Friendliness," and another, a new feature, is a program of "tours," making it possible for Freshman women and new students to enjoy in groups, games, concerts, "cozies," firesides, and the theater.

The Women's Federation is governed by a Representative Council, composed of officers of the Federation, presidents of women's organizations, and standing committee chairwomen, as well as an executive secretary in charge of all activities—Helen Gorham.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

BEHIND these doors are carried on the numerous activities of the Women's Athletic Association. This is one of the largest women's organizations on the campus, and the diversified program offers University coeds real opportunities for friendship and pleasure.

One need not be skilled in sports to enjoy these opportunities, for all forms of recreation are presented. Maybe it is dancing you prefer, or swimming. Each has its place.

Fifteen hundred girls took part in these activities during the past year; interclass sports contributing a large part, as well as Intramurals and Dance Drama.

Two delegates were sent by the Association to attend the Athletic Conference of American College Women, held in Ann Arbor, Michigan, this spring.

Ice Skating

THRILLS and spills, and spills with thrills! Can anything be more fascinating than ice skating, the new sport offered to University women this year? The girls who turn out for this winter sport declare it the best of fun.

Classes in ice skating are held Wednesday afternoons at the Ice Arena. Thelma Kinsman is manager.

The spirit of the Golden Rule governs the University skaters. Members of the class help each other to acquire the gentle art of keeping upright and moving gracefully.

Golf

HANDICAP golf tournaments, established at Washington three years ago, have an enthusiastic following of University Glenna Colletts. Last Spring, Audrey Ames won the trophy donated by Spaldings for the contest.

In a straight championship game this Fall, Katherine Henderson defeated Mrs. S. P. Neilson, 6 and 5 in the final 36-hole match. The Book Store presented the championship trophy. Katherine also won the eclectic tournament last Spring. She is manager of the sport.

Throughout the year a ladder tournament has been going on which will end with the Spring quarter.

Hockey

Hockey

SKILL, speed and cooperation! That spells field hockey. University of Washington women upheld the popularity of this game by turning out in great numbers for class teams. Betty Jorgensen managed the sport for the W. A. A.

Chimes Field was the battleground of the game. Despite the diminutive measurements of the field, the games were most exciting and were well attended.

The championship contest between the Juniors and the Seniors gave the victory to the Seniors. For the second time in succession these girls have won the crown in hockey.

During January, an exhibition game was played at the University Pavilion between the United States Field Hockey Association and the Washington All-Star team. The visitors won 17 to 0, but the contest was much more thrilling than the score would indicate. The Washington players put up an excellent fight and showed good form.

The Washington Women's Athletic Association is a member of the U. S. Field Hockey Association. No intercollegiate games are played.

Baseball

ACTION, action and more action! The Washington home-run queens are warming up! Look out for two-baggers and three-base hits — these women can play!

Baseball, America's sport, has been taken over heart and soul by University coeds. Regulation hard baseball is played.

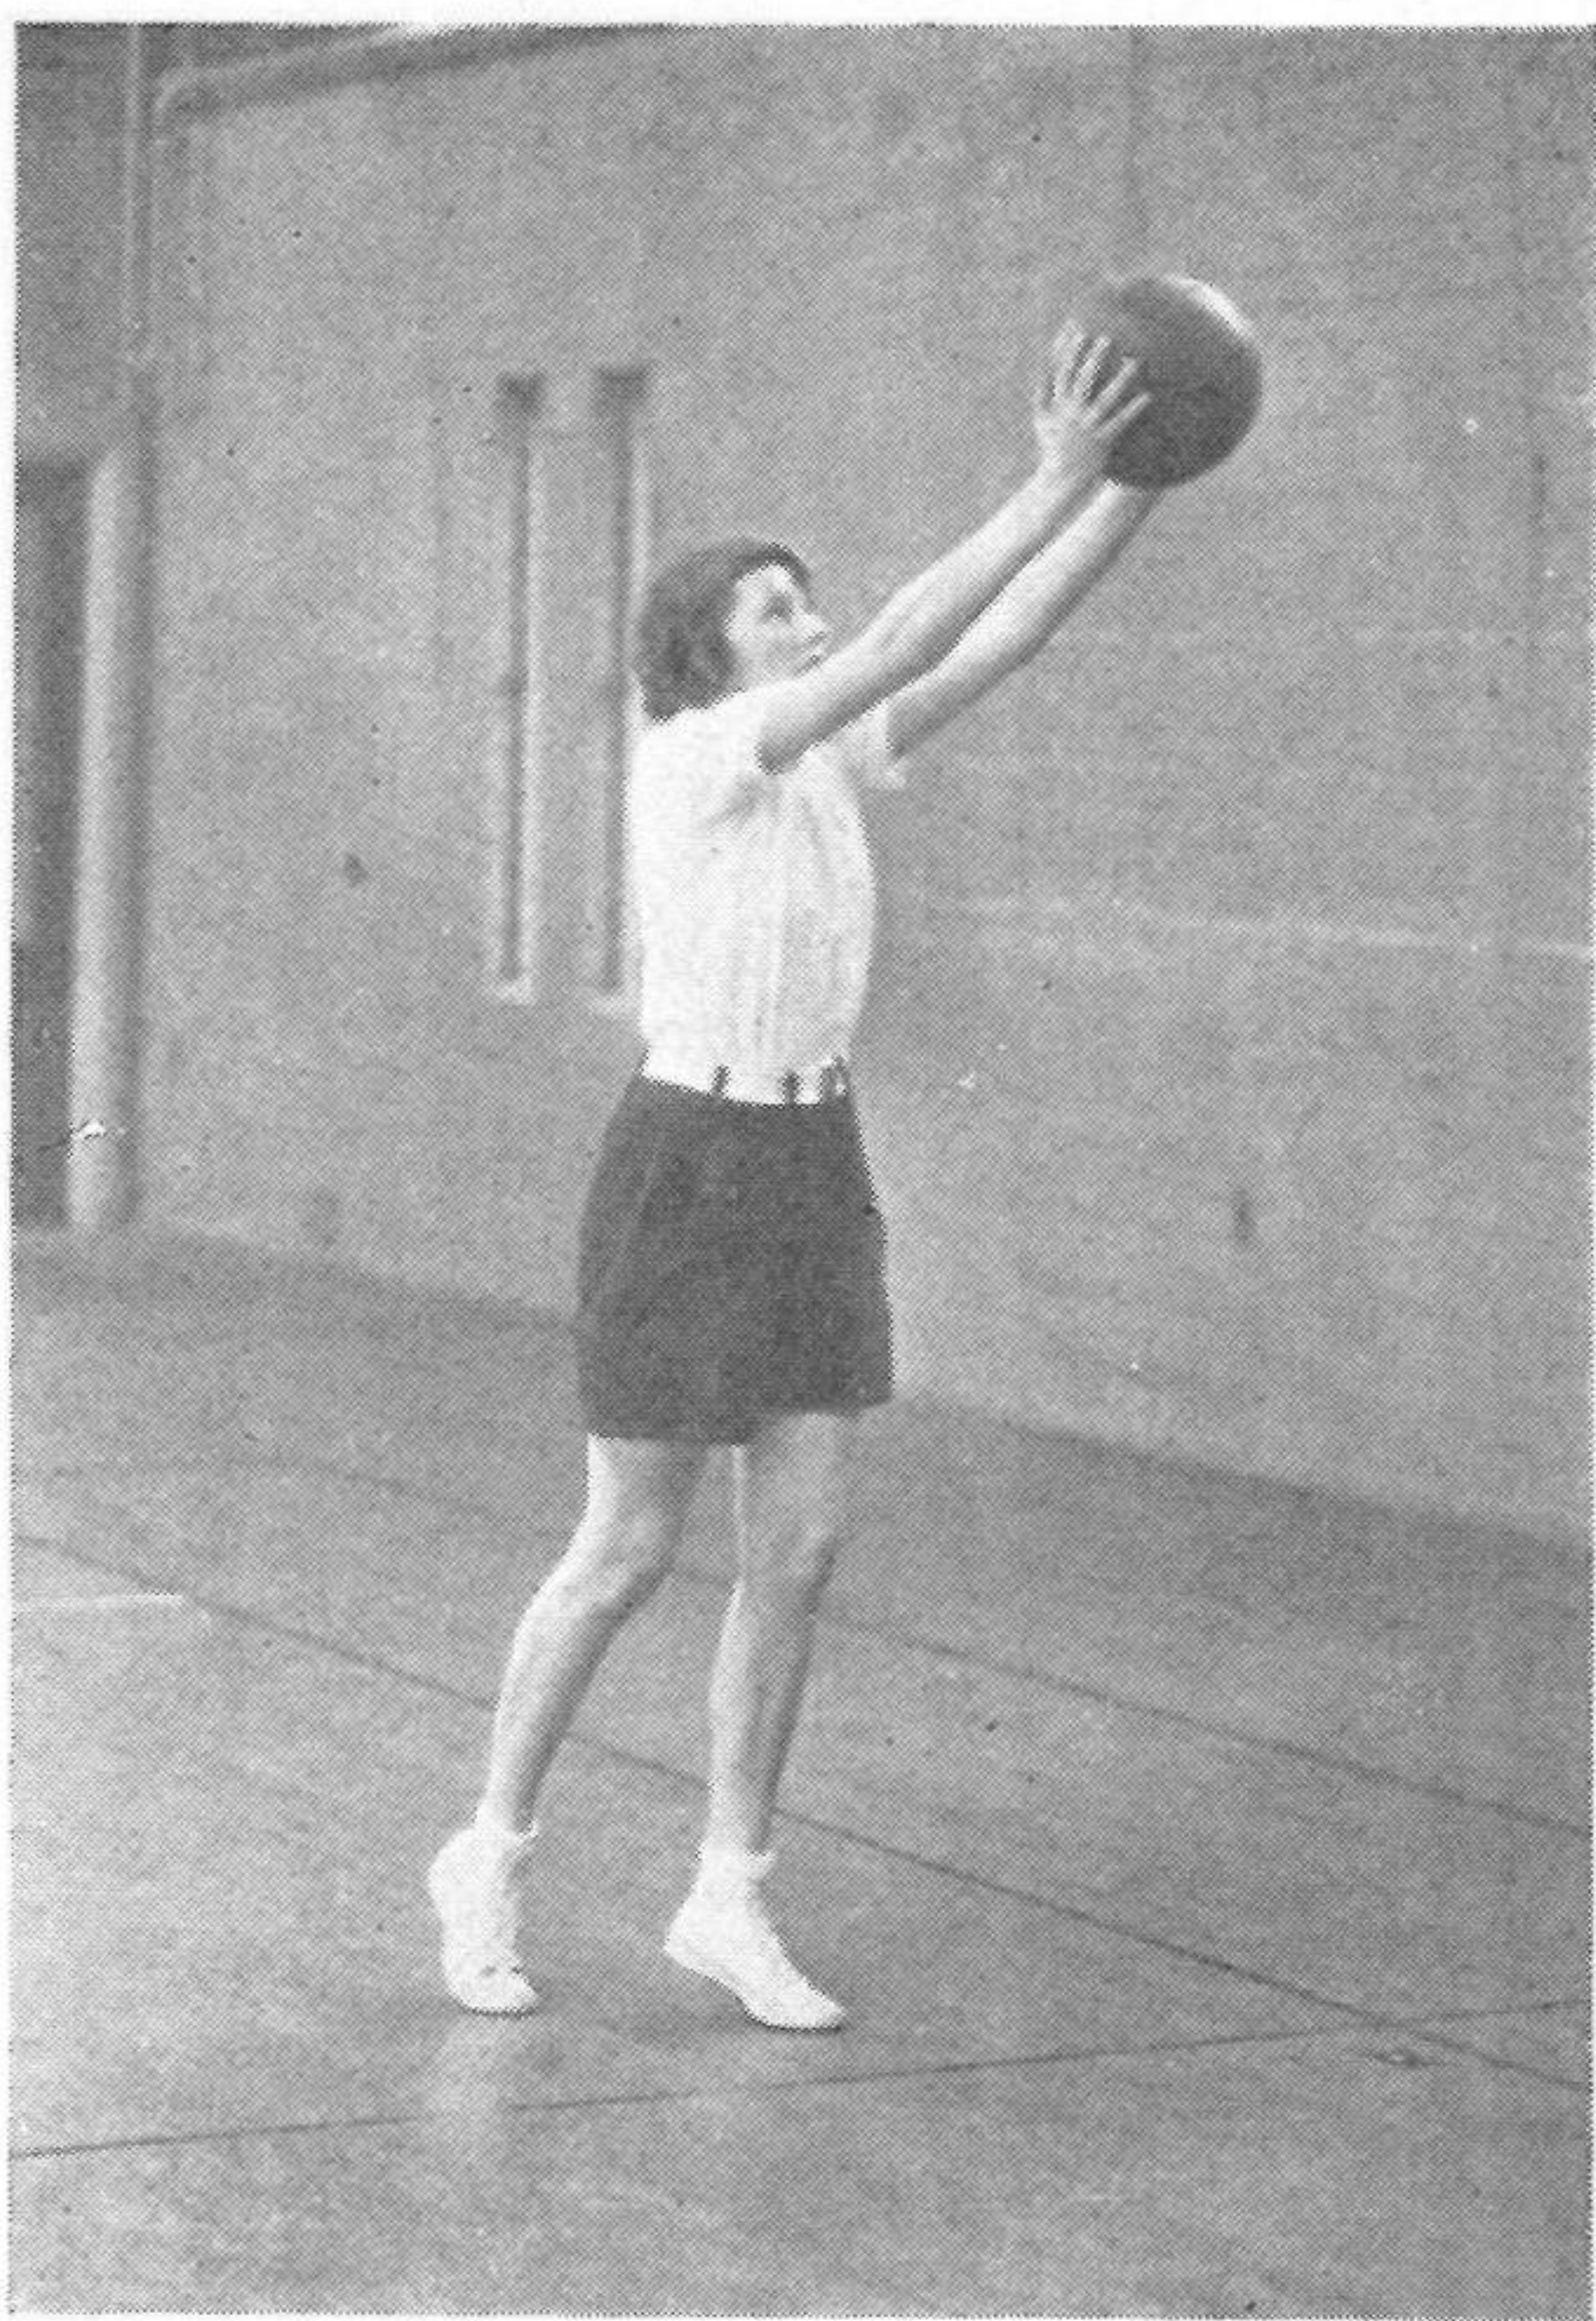

After a succession of stiffly-fought games last spring, the Seniors won the class championship. This is the second time that these hard-hitting upperclassmen have won the title crown.

Baseball

Basketball

Basketball

BASKETBALL—the game that has “It” — draws a larger turnout of coeds than any other team game. In addition, it attracts a lively following of spectators whose rooting adds to the excitement of the game.

Class teams are chosen each year to compete for the championship. For several years in succession underclassmen have taken the honors. This year, the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen in a fast game to win the title.

Betty Drake served as general basketball manager.

Volleyball

VOLLEY ball, that exhilarating indoor and outdoor sport, rates high with University coeds. The game, while not as strenuous as basketball or tennis, combines the good features of both.

Volley ball is offered for inter-class competition during the Fall quarter. This year, the Senior class went on a scoring rampage, winning the championship from the Juniors.

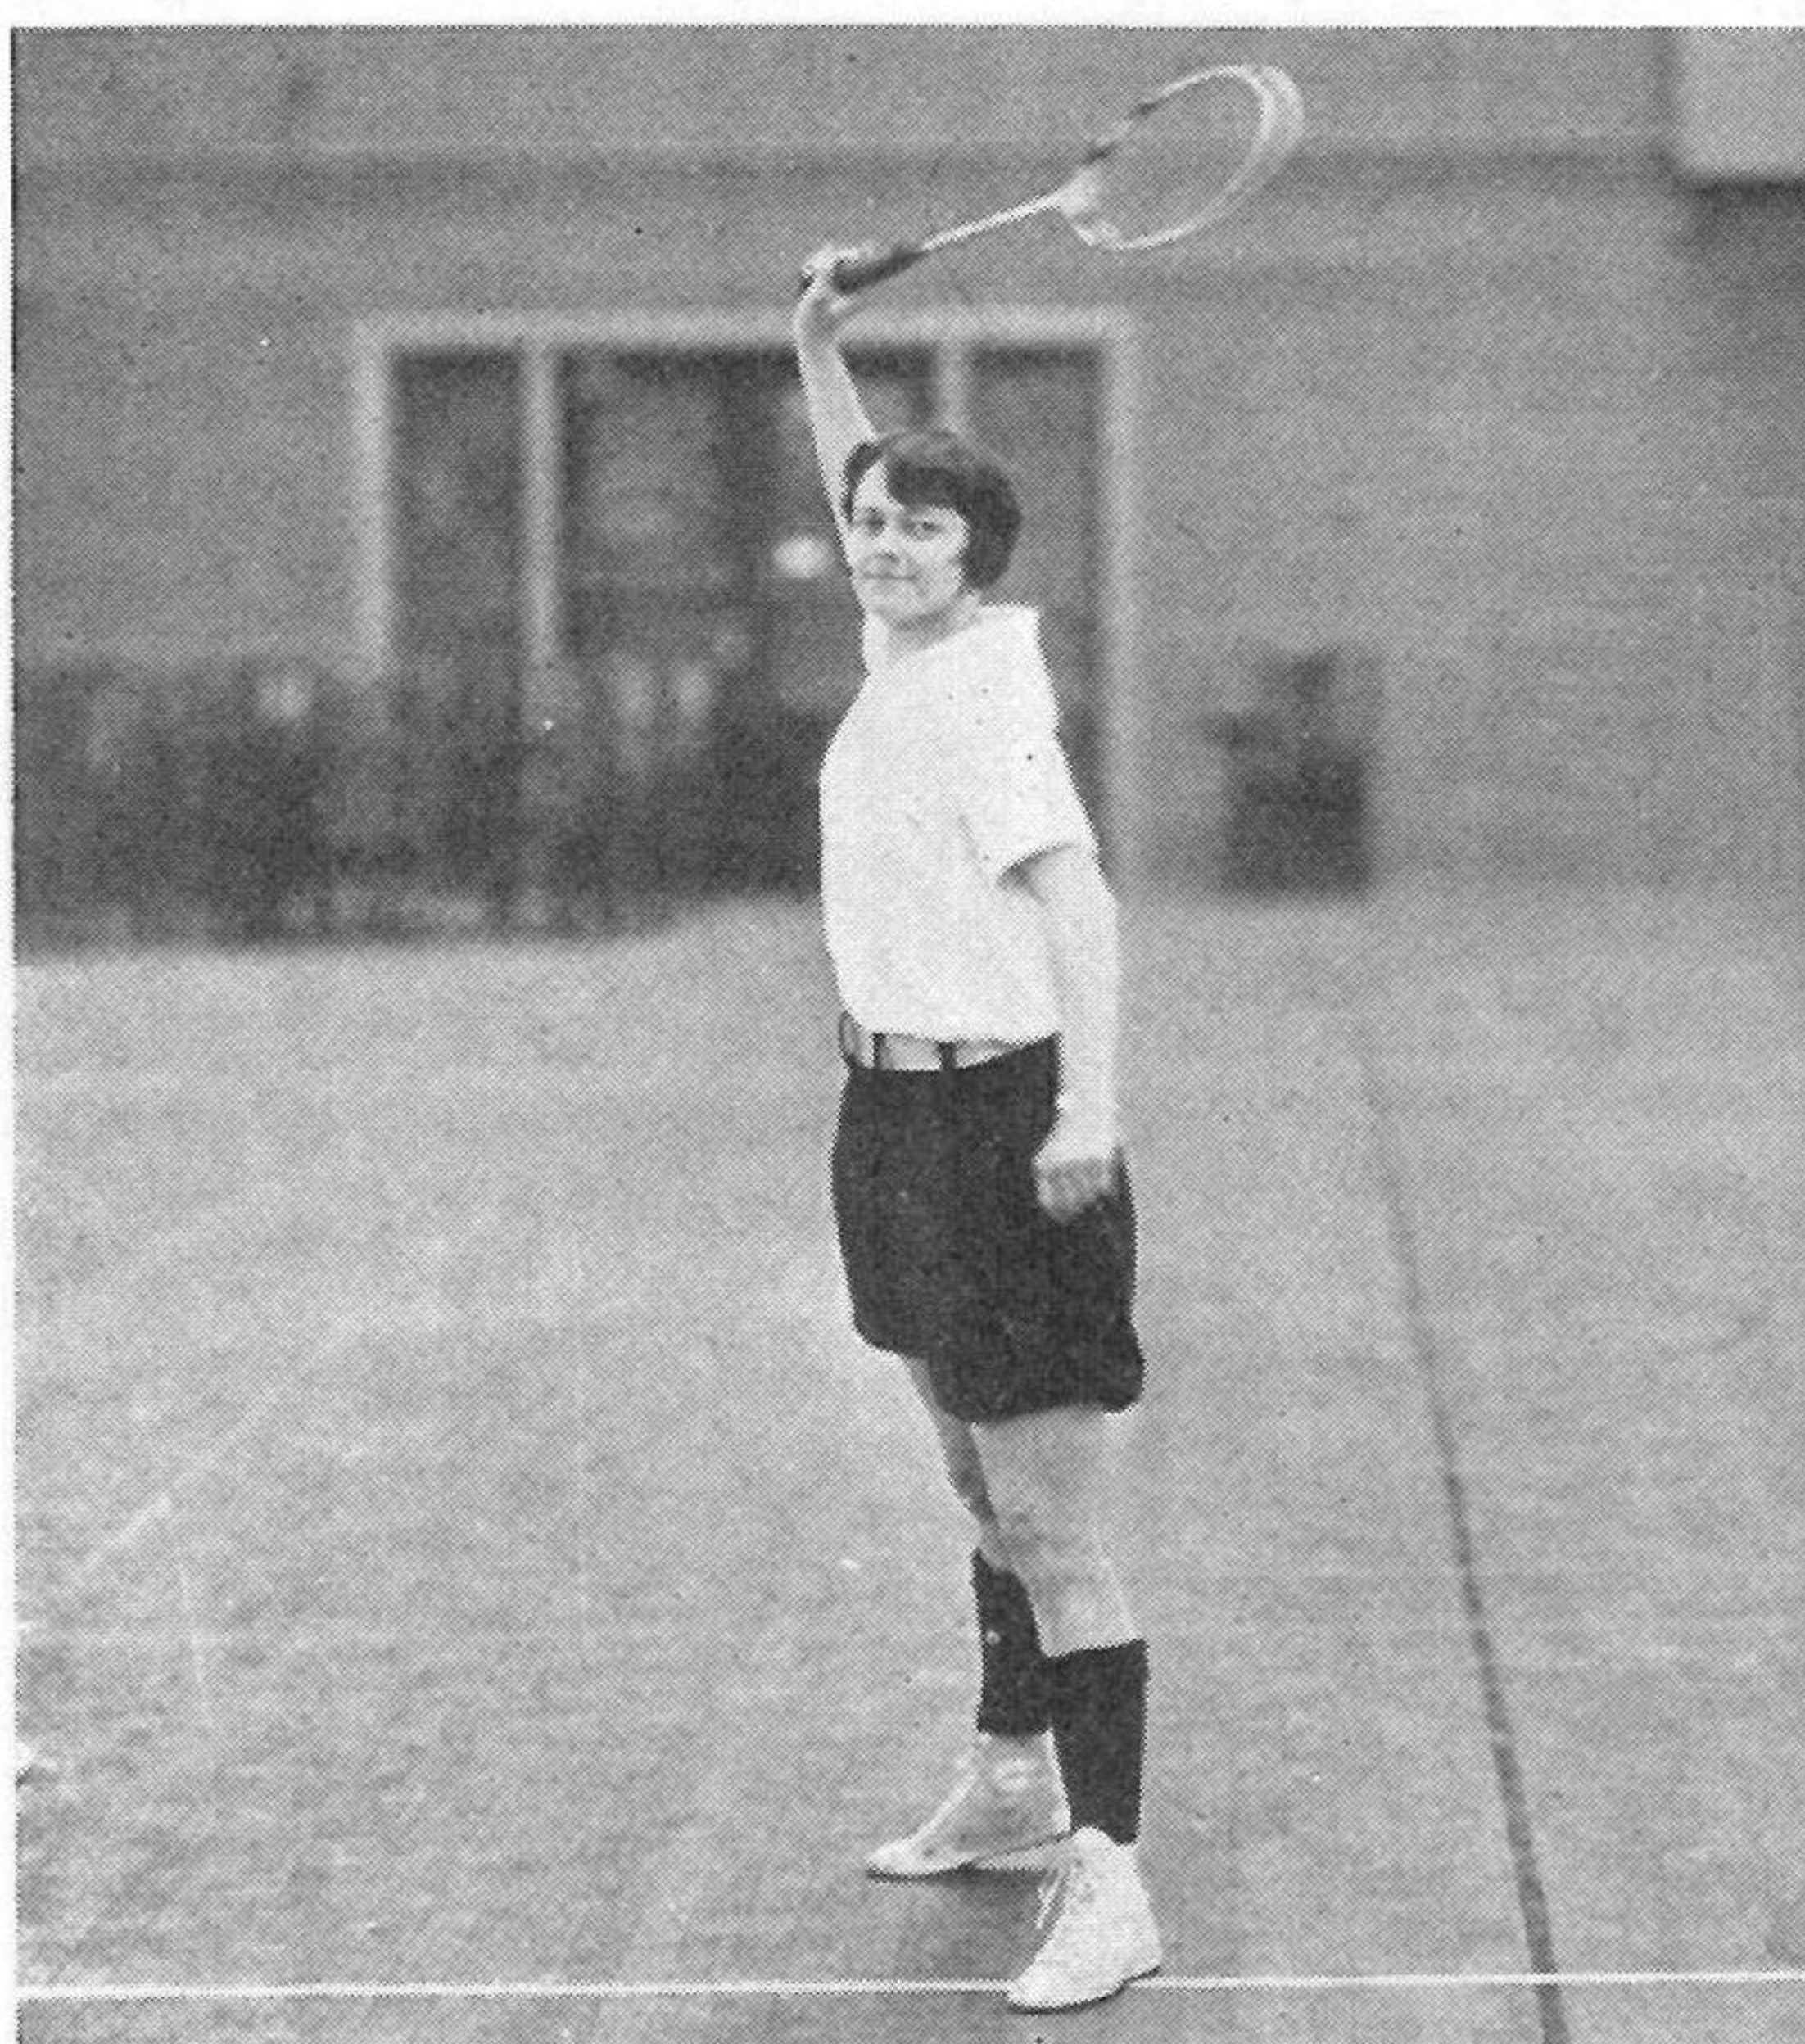

Doris Stratton is the volleyball manager.

Volleyball

Badminton

Soccer

Badminton

IF you are thoroughly skilled in the art of playing tennis and swatting flies you should hurry and register for Badminton. It is a Canadian game in which you use a small, light racquet similar to a tennis racquet, but instead of a ball you must hit a small feathered shuttle. The sport requires speed and accuracy in placement.

The Badminton Club, organized by girls interested and skilled in the sport, plays games with girls from Vancouver, B. C.

Margaret Cooper is chairman of the Club.

Soccer

SOCCER is the one sport in which you are not allowed to use your hands. The ball must be kept in motion by the use of your feet, your hips or your head. Yes, it is often necessary to use your head, which is considered unusual for college students.

This sport is taught only in registered sections, there being no sport classes or interclass competition.

Swimming

Swimming

THE women's swimming pool is a most magnetic spot, attracting alike the timid Freshman and the assured Senior.

Competition is keen in the swimming classes and teams are chosen each winter quarter to compete against each other. The events scheduled include contests in back crawl, free style, side stroke, dashes, relay, diving, and so on.

Marjorie Anderson, Diantha McKay and Pauline Strang composed the All-Star team chosen last spring. Patricia Kane and Bethene Burch received honorable mention on this team.

Under the management of Katherine Gerum, coed swimmers have been kept busy. Play day and open house demonstrations, individual contests and a telegraphic meet with the University of Montana filled the swimming program.

Canoeing

SPECIAL inducements, of which no other sport can boast, are offered by Canoeing. There is that lovely long walk down to the canoe house, sunny days and rainy days alike, and then there is always the possibility of a nice, cooling dip in the waters of Lake Washington. Can you blame the coeds for flooding the registrar with requests to enroll?

Just to make sure you will enjoy your dip, a 400-yard swimming test is required of all "would be" canoers. Miss M. Martin is the instructor.

Canoeing

Archery

Archery

HISTORY and fiction, or if you like, William Tell and Robin Hood, have made archery the most romantic of sports. No wonder that University of Washington coeds fall for the bows and arrows!

In the archery classes, records of individual scores are kept each day. At the end of the quarter, the six women having the highest scores compete for the University championship. Last year Lenore Smith won the laurels.

Class teams compete for group championships.

Irma Zintheo is manager of the sport.

Riflery

SHOOTING stars—many of them are disguised as fair coeds on our own campus. They streak across the Intercollegiate Sports horizon with a brilliant string of victories. Last year the Women's Riflery team won the Pacific Coast championship and lost the National championship to George Washington University by only a few points. This year, with most of their scheduled matches completed, they stand undefeated, with all matches won by a decisive margin.

Alice Charland is manager of the sport.

Clogging

Clogging

CLOGGING has not only become popular on the stage but also as a University activity. Large numbers enroll for these instructions each quarter. Miss Marion M. Martin conducts the classes.

Clogging Club, organized two years ago, gives girls particularly talented an opportunity to receive further instructions than are offered at the University. The presentation the Club is offering this season is "Une Fantasia Francaise."

Horseshoes

NOTHING short of "ringers" content the University Horseshoe tossers when competing in the annual tournament between houses. Two players from each organization are chosen to participate in this contest.

Twelve houses entered teams last spring. Lewis Hall was awarded first place when their tossers, Bernice Johnston and Hazel Gillespie won from Helen Moldstad and Margaret Anne Olson of Gamma Phi Beta. Third place was taken by Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Horseshoes

Riding

SHADED bridle paths on lovely afternoons, lure scores of University girls to enroll in riding classes conducted by Captain Harry Niblet, every quarter, at the Washington Riding Academy. Classes for both beginners and skilled riders are offered, and various competitive games add zest to the sport.

During rainy weather classes are held in the indoor riding ring.

Hiking

COEDS like to step out—in the open. Hiking has a strong appeal to them. Last year more than ninety women turned out for this sport.

Points toward big “W’s” are awarded to all girls who participate. A five-mile hike each week and two ten-mile hikes during the quarter are required to earn one hundred points. These “pleasure jaunts” often wind up with outdoor suppers.

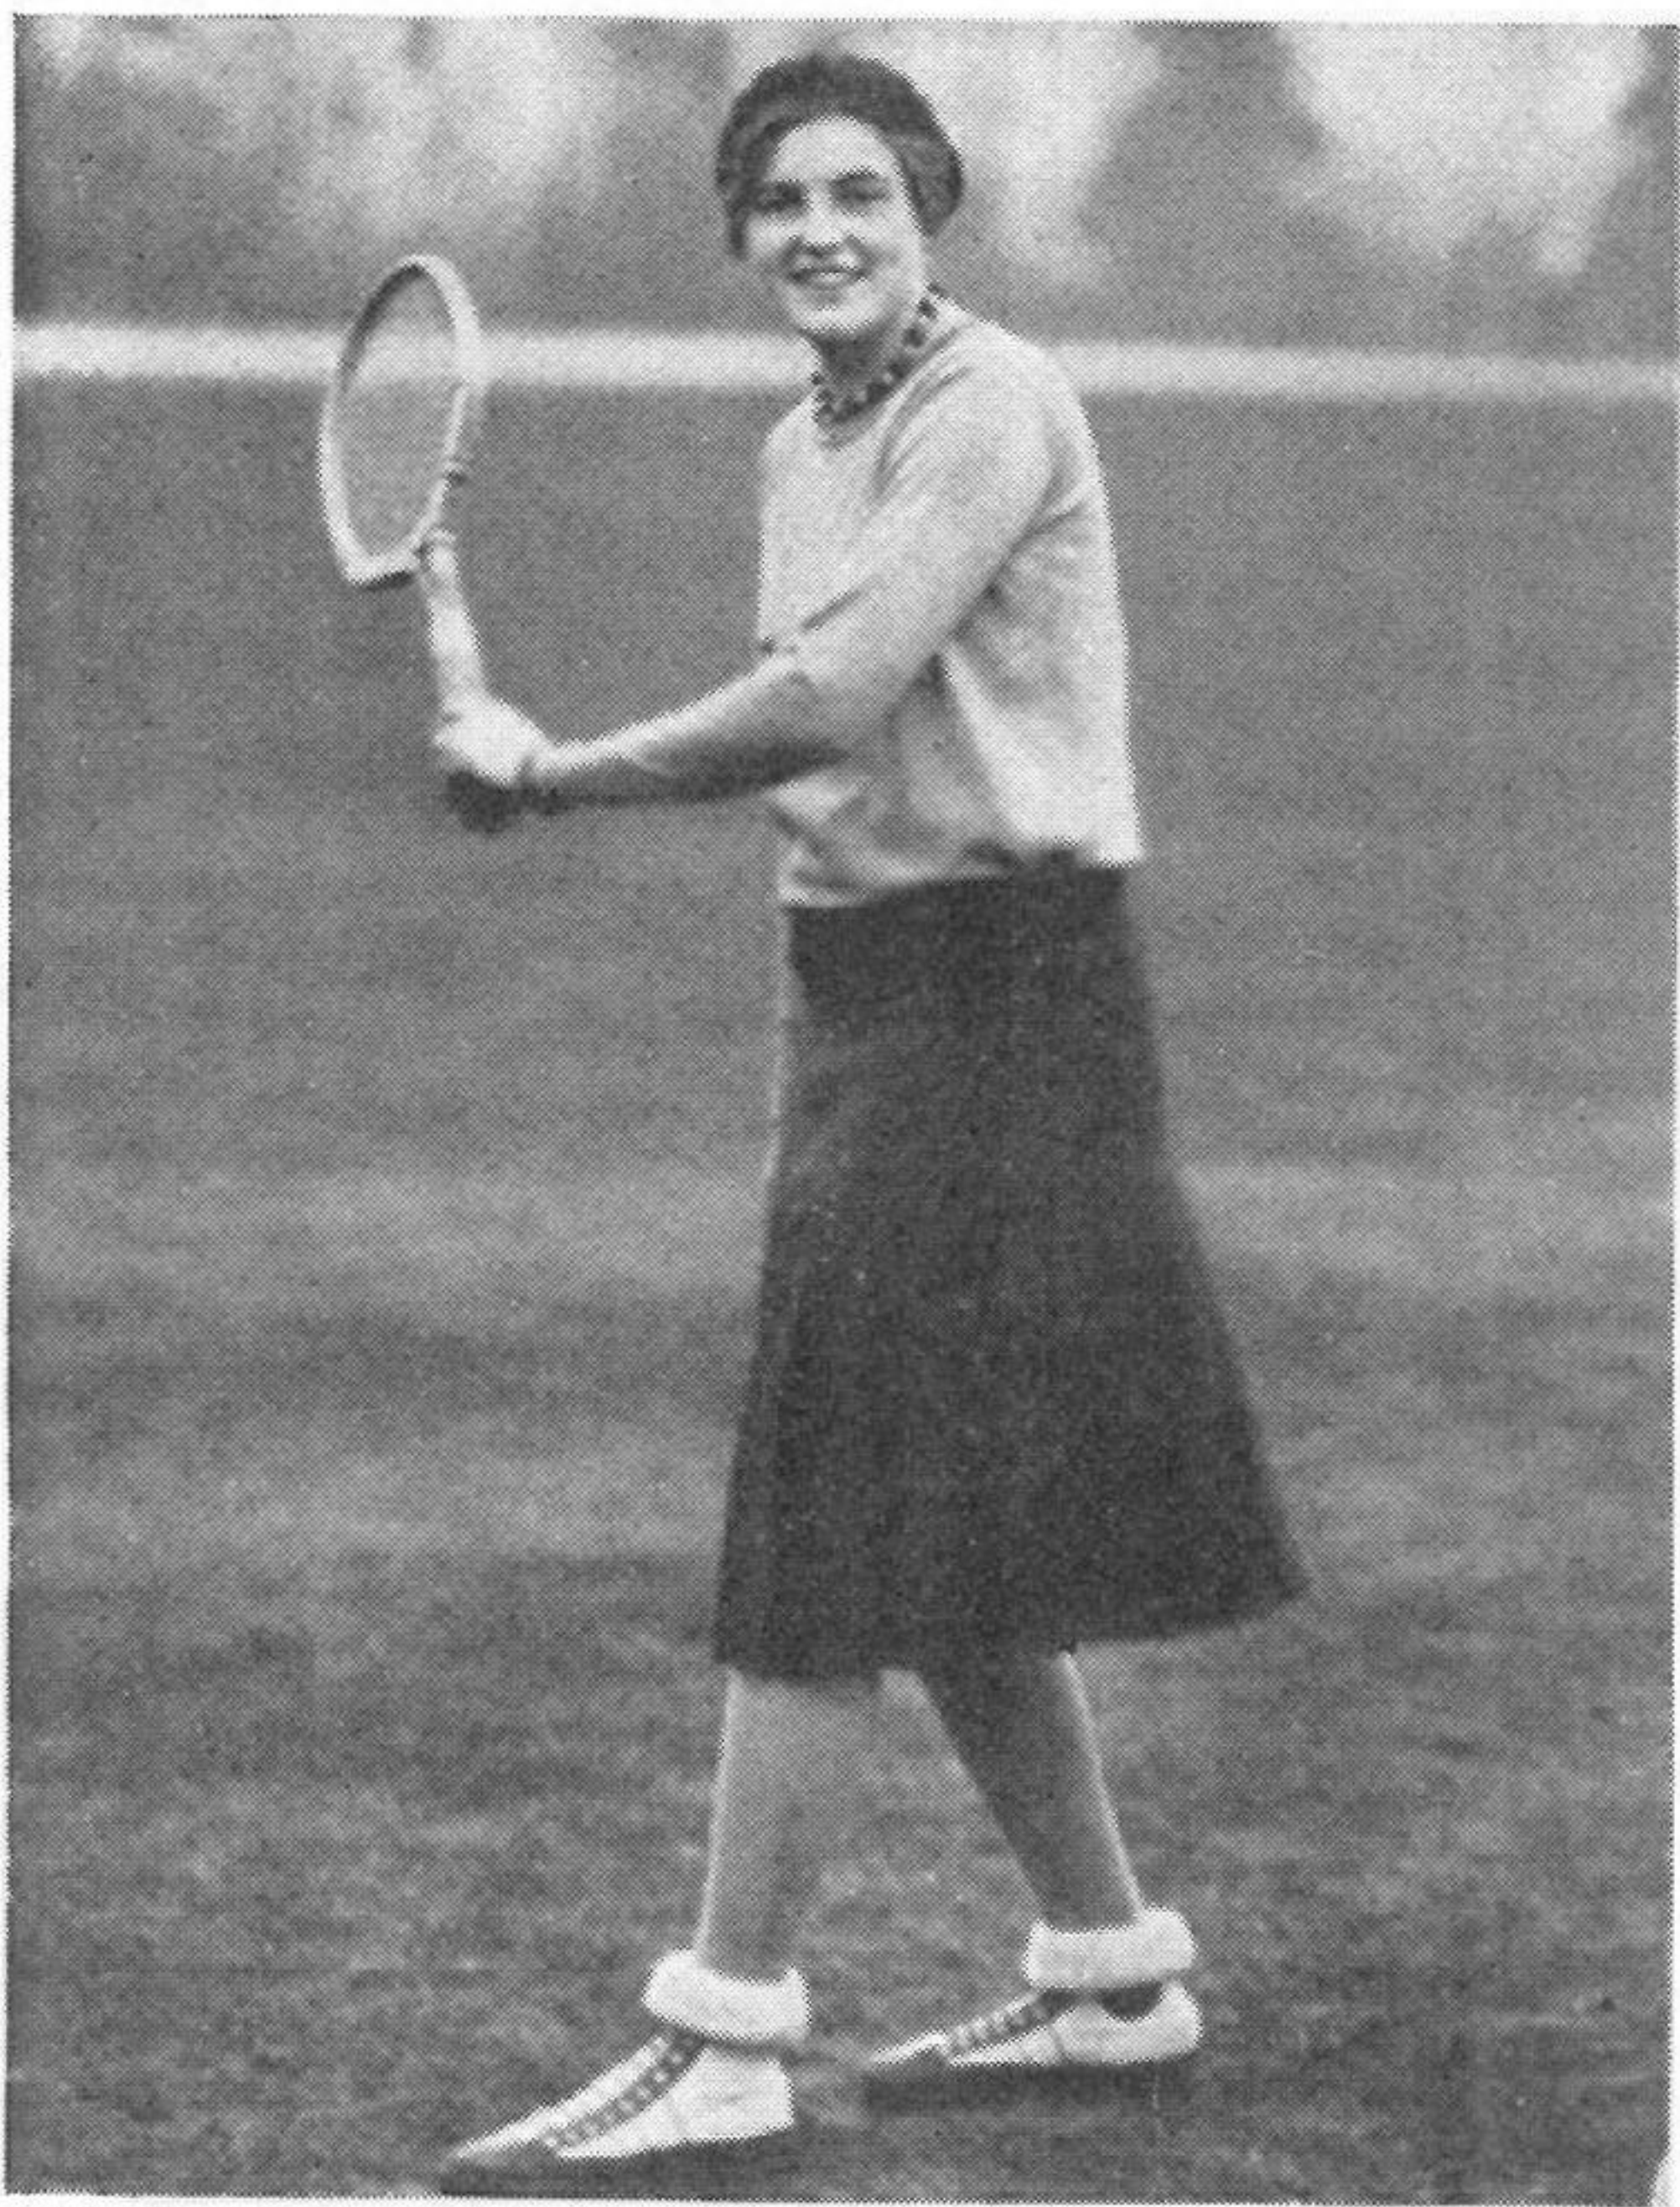

University hikers exhibit, at times, a somewhat amphibious nature. Come rain, come snow, they hike!

Jennie Kenyon is manager this year.

Hiking

Tennis

PLAY tennis and grow slim! Can it be that this is the magnet that draws so many women to the courts? Last year more than one hundred girls took part in the women's tennis tournament. Phyllis Berry was manager of the sport.

Florence Tennant won the singles championship, defeating Margaret Bowen. The trophy was a tennis racquet given by the Book Store.

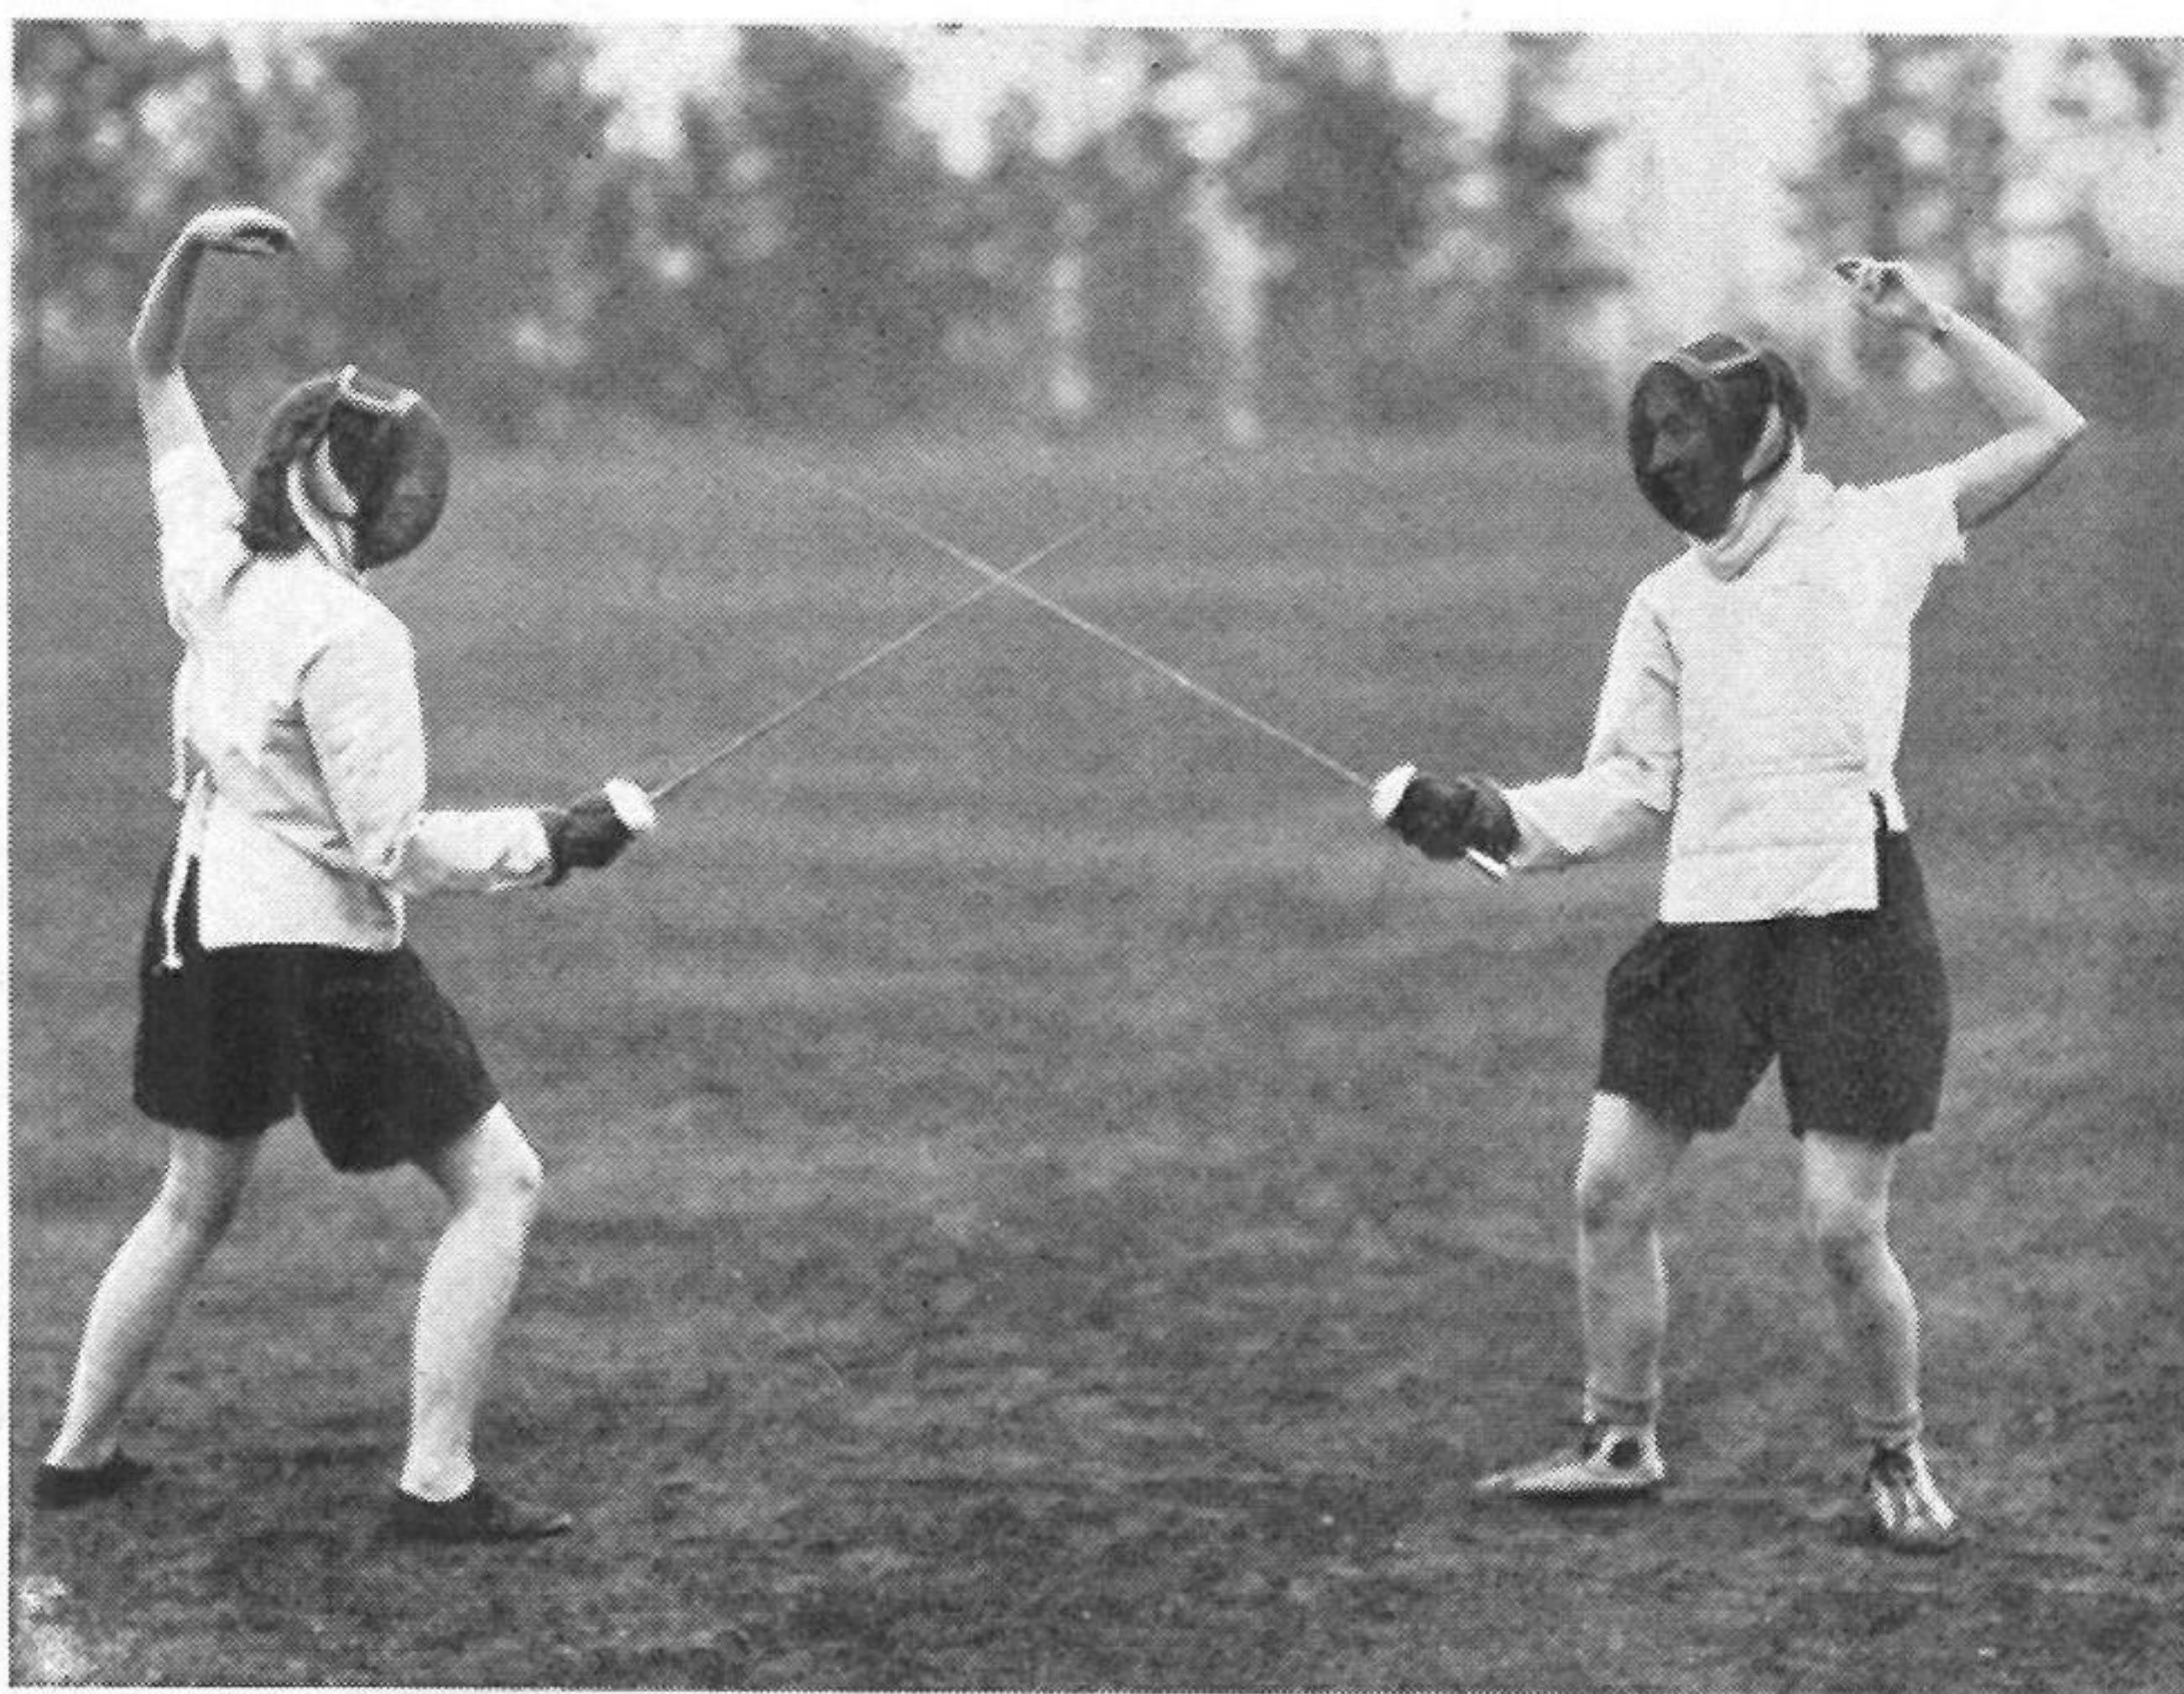

After a series of close and exciting games, Dulcie Angus and Clara Kelly won the doubles contest. They defeated Verna McDonald and Florence Tennant. They were awarded a silver cup donated by Spaldings.

Fencing

FOILS flashing!—it's the women fencers learning to be as quick in movement as in sight. One should be very careful not to arouse the disfavor of any of these pretty coeds for their revenge might be fatal.

This is the first year that Fencing has been offered in credit classes, and a great interest and enthusiasm has been stimulated for this type of sport. Mr. August Aurenheimer is conducting the classes.

Fencing

Scene from "Deirdre"

DANCE DRAMA

AN adaptation of Deirdre, a beautiful Irish legend, was the inspiration for the interpretations in this year's annual Dance Drama presented at Meany Hall Friday evening, February 28, 1930, by the students of Mary Aid DeVries, assistant professor in the department of Physical Education.

The freshness and vitality of the dancers was genuinely impressive and their grace and ability to enter into the lovely spirit of the drama created a truly professional atmosphere.

The Prologue was an effective piece of staging and set the supremely artistic tempo of the whole production. The peak of the performance, however, was reserved for the last scene, the scene of agony, separation and death, which was executed with perfect subtlety and dramatic feeling.

Leading roles were taken by Jeanne Miller, as Deirdre; Rosamond Wentworth, who was Naoise; Ruth Stwalley and Helen Klock, Naoise's brothers; and Ruth Anderson, Deirdre's companion.

Play Day

Play Day

FOR the purpose of giving high school girls an opportunity to visit our campus, to play with other high school girls and to meet University women, Sports Days are held each year by the Women's Athletic Association.

The first Sports Day included high schools from within a 60-mile radius of Seattle while the second one only Seattle girls attended. In addition to the posture parade, mass and exhibition games, the swimming pool was opened to the visitors for the first time this year.

The chairman in charge of the event is Margaret Kenyon, assisted by Phyllis Berry. Miss Bergete Maydahl is faculty adviser.

Field Week

CUPS are lost and records broken during Field Week, which is held the last of each Spring quarter. During this week all championship games are played and exhibitions held in all non-competitive sports. The week is concluded by the Women's Athletic Association's annual banquet, at which time awards are presented and all star teams announced.

Hildur Grevstad was general chairman of the event and Miss Leone Helmich Rulifson was faculty adviser. Honorary judges were Mrs. Arthur S. Haggett, Miss Mary Bash, Miss May Ward, Miss Mary E. Gross, Miss Jane McGownd and Dean Henry Landes.

Intramural Captains

INTRAMURALS

GREAT interest and enthusiasm has been shown in the new Intramural program which has been introduced in the past year. This new field of sports was opened upon the presentation to the Women's Athletic Association of an Intramural Trophy by Mrs. Manch Garhart. The trophy was awarded for the first time at the Spring banquet of the Association, to the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, with Kappa Kappa Gamma second, and Kappa Alpha Theta, third.

The first place in the Fall Volley Ball tournament was won by Gamma Phi Beta with Zeta Tau Alpha placing second and Alpha Delta Pi and Delta Gamma tying for third. During winter quarters Swimming and Basketball tournaments were run off. Gamma Phi Beta taking first place in Basketball, Kappa Kappa Gamma second, with Kappa Alpha Theta and Delta Gamma tying for third. The Alpha Phi's swam their way to first honors while Gamma Phi Beta took second and Delta Gamma third. Tournaments in Baseball, Horseshoes and Tennis will be held during Spring quarter, the culmination of which will determine the winner of the trophy for this season.

Helen Moldstad is Intramural chairman and Miss Bergete Maydahl is faculty adviser.

REVIEW OF THE DRAMATIC SEASON

1929-1930

JOHN ASHBY CONWAY and Alpha Roth Conway, the new heads of the Dramatic Art department, organized a new group of players during the Fall quarter of 1929. The Washington Players, which is the only dramatic organization on the campus, having taken the place of all former organizations, sponsor the production of plays on the campus, presenting one original play each month.

"Black Flamingo," a melodrama laid in the eighteenth century at the time of the French Revolution, was given November 15 and 16 under the direction of Alpha Roth Conway. The Winter quarter play, "The Inspector General," was presented by the Washington Players, January 24 and 25, 1930. "The Vegetable," a satire on politics, written by F. Scott Fitzgerald, was presented March 7 and 8. A three-act tragedy, "The Wife of Jonaac," written by Mrs. Esther Sheperd of the dramatic department, was presented at Meany Hall on Friday evening, March 21.

B. Iden Payne, who is considered the greatest Shakespearian director in the world, will be guest director during the summer quarter of 1930. He will do two Shakespearian plays on the Elizabethan stage.

A Dramatic Incident in the Play

THE BLACK FLAMINGO

THE BLACK FLAMINGO," a melodrama produced by Alpha Roth and John Ashby Conway, was given November 15th and 16th of the Fall quarter.

The story is laid in the eighteenth century during the time of the French Revolution, just after the fall of the Bastille. A ruined castle, which had been transformed into an inn, provides the setting. At this inn gather a group of aristocrats who are fleeing Paris, as well as a group of crooks all of whom are searching for some treasure. Only two of the characters know what the treasure is. One is the famous Count Cagliostro, well known to history. The treasure, which turns out to be a diamond necklace bought by Marie Antoinette, is found at last in the violin of the old creature who lives up the chimney. True to form it is presented to the leading lady by the gallant hero.

Count Cagliostro was portrayed by Dan Rosenburg; Count de Tussac by George Bolton and Alex Winston; Francois, Trevor Evans and Ross Farley; Diane, Marion Cheney; Charlotte, Jean Little and Elizabeth McGee; Trigand, August Pantages; Bodier, John Kerr; Mme. Bodier, Alyene Miller; Bourienne, Rodger Joseph and George Bolton; Gauroche, Alton Philips and Ted Millgard; and Clothilde, Madge Dunn and Catherine Austin.

Learning the Folly of Graft

THE INSPECTOR GENERAL

"THE INSPECTOR GENERAL," Nikolay Gogol's biting satire on the dishonesty arising from the Russian system of bureaucratic irresponsibility, was presented January 24th and 25th, under the direction of Alpha Roth Conway with costumes and scenery designed by John Ashby Conway. The music was directed especially for this play by Francis McKay.

The play, the setting of which is in a provincial Russian village, takes for its subject matter that time-honored institution, Graft. It revolves around a group of parasitical officials who, having heard that a government officer is coming incognito to inspect the town, seize on the first likely subject, fete him, flatter him, intoxicate him, and finally bribe him, much to the surprise of the victim. At the end of the play the announcement is made that the real inspector has arrived.

The Mayor was portrayed by John Kerr; his wife, Kathleen Hoyt and Thelma Packard; his daughter, Sally Sue White; School Inspector, William Robertson; his wife, Catherine Austin and Bonita Palmer; Judge, George T. Bolton; Charity Commissioner, Ross Farley; Postmistress, Jean Little and Muriel Irving; Landowner, Trevor Evans and Joe Pearson; Clerk, Robert Anderson; Servant, Harry Kempel; District Doctor, Ted Millgard and Roger Joseph; Servant, Virginia Opsvig.

Eleanore Plamondon, chairman

JUNIOR GIRLS' VODVIL

TWO full hours of splendid entertainment were offered University audiences by J. G. V. on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 2 and 3, in Meany Auditorium. The show, directed by Alpha Roth Conway, was under the chairmanship of Eleanore Plamondon.

The curtain was lowered but four times, once after each act. First came the Circus with its tinsel curtain on which played a color wheel. A feature of this act was the orchestra in a merry-go-round. Will Green and Ken McCoy performed as tumblers while Donahue and Sheldon supplied the comedy.

A typical "Hula" atmosphere was supplied in the second act, the Hawaiian, with its palm trees, ocean, moonlight, and grass huts. Every participant in this act was a native of the Islands.

The Black idea came in the third act aided by the Mississippi Triad, a black-faced trio of girls, who sang old songs. The brilliantly colored costumes and clever lighting were particularly effective.

Modernistic was the motif of the finale with its huge futuristic cut-outs and tinsel curtain in the background.

Of course, the "home talent" chorus of both men and women danced all the way through. They were trained by Maxine Blakemore and Eddie Eaton.

Cossacks in Concert

THE GLEE CLUB

WASHINGTON'S Glee Club gave Canada its first concert ever presented by an American college glee club. The program was given at the University of British Columbia at Vancouver, B. C., on January 27, 1930.

After returning from trips to Northwestern and Southwestern Washington, the Glee Club presented its 30th annual concert in Meany Auditorium, Thursday, February 13, under the direction of Charles W. Lawrence of the Music department.

From ballet dancing to horseback riding, the entire program carried out an exclusively Russian motif. The Slavic costumes were a delightful departure from the conventional full dress attire.

Frank Hayes, tenor soloist, sang "Down on Mother Volga" and Lauren Rhodes, violin soloist, presented several Russian selections. An interpretation of the Russian waltz was led by Bradford Hall and George Cloud. "The Four Cossacks," a specialty act, was presented by the Varsity quartet.

Loyd Simpson and John Rarig were accompanists.

Settings, lighting effects and costumes were designed by John Ashby Conway in the theatre workshop of the Dramatic Art department.

Lawrence, Mabon, Welke

MID-WINTER CONCERT

MUSIC lovers who attended the premiere performance of "Atsumori" on Wednesday evening, December 11, 1929, heard a composition of unusual interest written by Prof. Charles Wilson Lawrence of the Music department. The text of the music drama is an English translation of a Japanese "No Play" written by Seami. The English version is by Arthur Waley, who is possibly the greatest student of Japanese drama and folklore in America.

The whole story centers around the retelling of the combat and killing of Atsumori by his enemy, Kumagai; the remorse of Kumagai and the virtue of forgiveness. As Kumagai bends over the body of Atsumori to examine it, the ghost of Atsumiro appears as a reaper and meets Kumagai, who is later known as the priest.

Miss Edna Mabon, soprano, of the Music department, sang the part of Atsumori, the ghost. The role of the priest was interpreted by Mr. Charles W. Lawrence. The ensemble numbers were sung by the University Chorus and the Women's Ensemble, who took the part of the Reapers.

Chorus and orchestra were capably directed by Mr. Walter Welke of the Music department. A Chinese suite, "Po-Ling and Ming Toy" by Friml, was played by the orchestra preceding the music drama.

Douglas, Hayes

ROBIN HOOD

THE comic opera, "Robin Hood," was presented by the University Chorus on Thursday, April 24. The three-act opera was directed by C. W. Lawrence of the Music department.

At the beginning of the opera, merrymaking is in process at the market-place in Nottingham. Little John, Will Scarlett, and Friar Tuck enter and sing of their free life in the Forest of Sherwood. Finally the handsome, dashing Robin Hood appears, declaring that he is the Earl of Huttington and demanding that the Sheriff shall so proclaim him. Lady Marian, being in love with Robin Hood, protests her marriage to Sir Guy. Robin Hood joins the outlaws and in the end brings a message which saves Maid Marian from the hated marriage.

Frank Hayes, tenor, sang the role of Robin Hood; Sheriff of Nottingham, John Kerr, baritone; Maid Marian, Marjorie Douglas, soprano; Guy of Gisborne, Richard Carpenter; Little John, Frank Kernohan, baritone; Will Scarlett, Donald Craig, bass; Allan-a-Dale, Dorothy Towne, contralto; Friar Tuck, August Pantages, bass; Dame Durden, Aileen Miller, soprano; Annabel, Marianna Bartlett, soprano.

John Ashby Conway was responsible for the effective staging and costumes. The accompaniment was played by Eslie Hermans.

Cortot, Enters

WOMEN'S FEDERATION CONCERTS

SEATTLE and University audiences were again fortunate this year in having brought to them by the Women's Federation a concert series featuring artists of international reputation. As a result of an effort to offer a well-rounded program, representatives from three fields of artistic endeavor were presented.

The concerts were made highly successful through the efforts of the two chairmen, Irene Nicholson and Margaret von Alvensleben.

An American baritone, John Charles Thomas, who has delighted audiences both in the United States and abroad, gave the initial concert of the season. His splendid, sonorous voice won much praise from his listeners, who were well pleased with his engaging personality, the depth of his musical feeling, and his generosity in responding to encores.

An excellent complement to the artistry of Mr. Thomas was the skillful accompaniment played by Lester Hodges.

Admirers of Alfred Cortot were again given the pleasure of hearing his interpretations of the twenty-four Preludes of Chopin. The perfect poise, subtlety, and completeness of his performance were characteristic of this greatest of French pianists. With great brilliance he also played the

Thomas, Martinelli

Sonata in B flat Minor, Opus 35, and twelve etudes, Opus 10 and Opus 25 of Chopin, and showed that he is unsurpassed an an interpreter of that famous composer.

The "Episodes" of that unique and curiously fascinating dancer, Angna Enters, made an unforgettable impression on all those who had the pleasure of seeing her. It is somewhat difficult to characterize the type of Miss Enters' work—she herself calls her interpretations "compositions in dance forms." One cannot help entering completely into the mood of the dancer, who is able to create the most vivid, exotic, and satirical impressions. The titles of some of her numbers, such as "Feline," "Aphrodisiac," "Green Hour," "The Queen of Heaven," give an indication of their bizarre and brilliant nature.

As a fitting climax to the series came the performance of the renowned tenor, Martinelli. With perfect technique he displayed the power, the vigor, the richness, and resonance of his golden voice. Coming first to the Metropolitan Opera as a colleague of Caruso, the fame of Martinelli has spread widely; and this year marks the nineteenth year of his appearance before the public.

Varsity Ball

THE social season? Why yes, Lou, all pretty and frilly and fluffy as usual. But I'll tell you from the very beginning, for that's where Varsity Ball enters.

Honestly, Lou, when I walked through that entrance I wanted to personally congratulate every member of the committee, headed by Joe Herron. They called it "The Palace of the Gods," a modern Valhalla. Modern speed and progress was manifested by flashing air beacons which swept over a huge Zeppelin of silver cloth suspended above the orchestra. The soft jets of light from the beacons singled out rainbow formals as they swirled across the floor.

The ball was dedicated to Washington's grand old man, Professor Edmond S. Meany, and the Big W men. During intermission the following pledges to Oval Club, upperclassmen's activity honorary were named: Henry Bacon, Charles Batelle, John Cartano, Nat Davis, Toney Delmas, Gordon Dodds, William Ferguson, Ernest Gritsch, Charles Guernsey, Alfred Hagist, Edgar Hagist, Dick Hergert, Reed Ingham, Stanley Jaloff, Donn Lawwill, Wallace Litchfield, George Oistad, Harold Pebbles, Art Peterson, Harold Philbrick, Elliott Pulver, Roy Squires, William Sweet, Rudolph Tollefson, Ross Van Woert, Laurence Westerweller and Douglas Willix.

Margaret Emery

TOLO

YOU'VE heard everyone talking about Tolo, haven't you, Lou? It isn't any wonder. In the first place, it is the only chance we girls get to select our own dates, and our own entertainment. In the second place, Mortar Board—our own women's upperclass activity honorary—sponsors it.

This year, Mortar Board decided to use an Indian idea in decorations for their dance, which was held in Eagles Auditorium, January 17. Indian blankets, tall tepees and tomahawks gave atmosphere and carried out the "Club your Chief" motif. Milt Link's orchestra furnished the music.

A large black Mortar Board pin hung up where everyone could see it, added the finishing touches, or bit of modernism to the scene.

Margaret Emery, chairman of the dance, and the committee composed strictly of Mortar Board members, were instrumental in making the entire affair one to be long remembered by those fortunate individuals who "rated" dates. After all, Lou, the position of a man is somewhat precarious at times.

Webster Anderson

JUNIOR PROM

WELL, Lou, I did a lot of traveling through places I've always wanted to see at the Junior Prom, January 31. From the minute I went up the gangplank and saw that huge white ship sailing out of the black night, I knew I was going to have an enchanting evening.

Japan, Ceylon, Honolulu, and the Mediterranean—it seemed as if all the exotic spots of the world were in one place—right before my very eyes.

During the intermission, Sallie Sue White danced a cleverly twinkling tap step. The precious moments slipped by so rapidly, that I had circumnavigated the globe before I realized it. I found myself in the Port of Seattle, again.

Before I stepped down from the gangplank, I snatched a few seconds to congratulate Webster Anderson, general chairman, for his splendid seamanship in piloting me safely to unknown ports. The orchestra, the soft lights that flickered from far away waters, the rhythmic glide of nimble pumps across the polished floor—well, Lou, you can imagine why I am still marveling at one of the loveliest formals I have ever attended.

Wally Howe

ENGINEERS' INFORMAL

NO sooner had Junior Prom slipped into the background than the glare of "Sha-Sha" flashed upon the campus. Upon my word, Lou, the engineers certainly proved that they are masters of esthetics as well as of construction for the "Sha-Sha" passed into "Shanghai Shadows" and the dance was on.

No less than six hundred couples were seen as weird music drifted through an Oriental atmosphere and announced the opening of the Engineers' All-University informal at Eagles Auditorium, February 14, under the direction of Wally Howe, chairman.

A Japanese "tou-i" overgrown with cherry blossoms formed the entrance to the ballroom and paved the roof of the hall with a carpet of pink flowers.

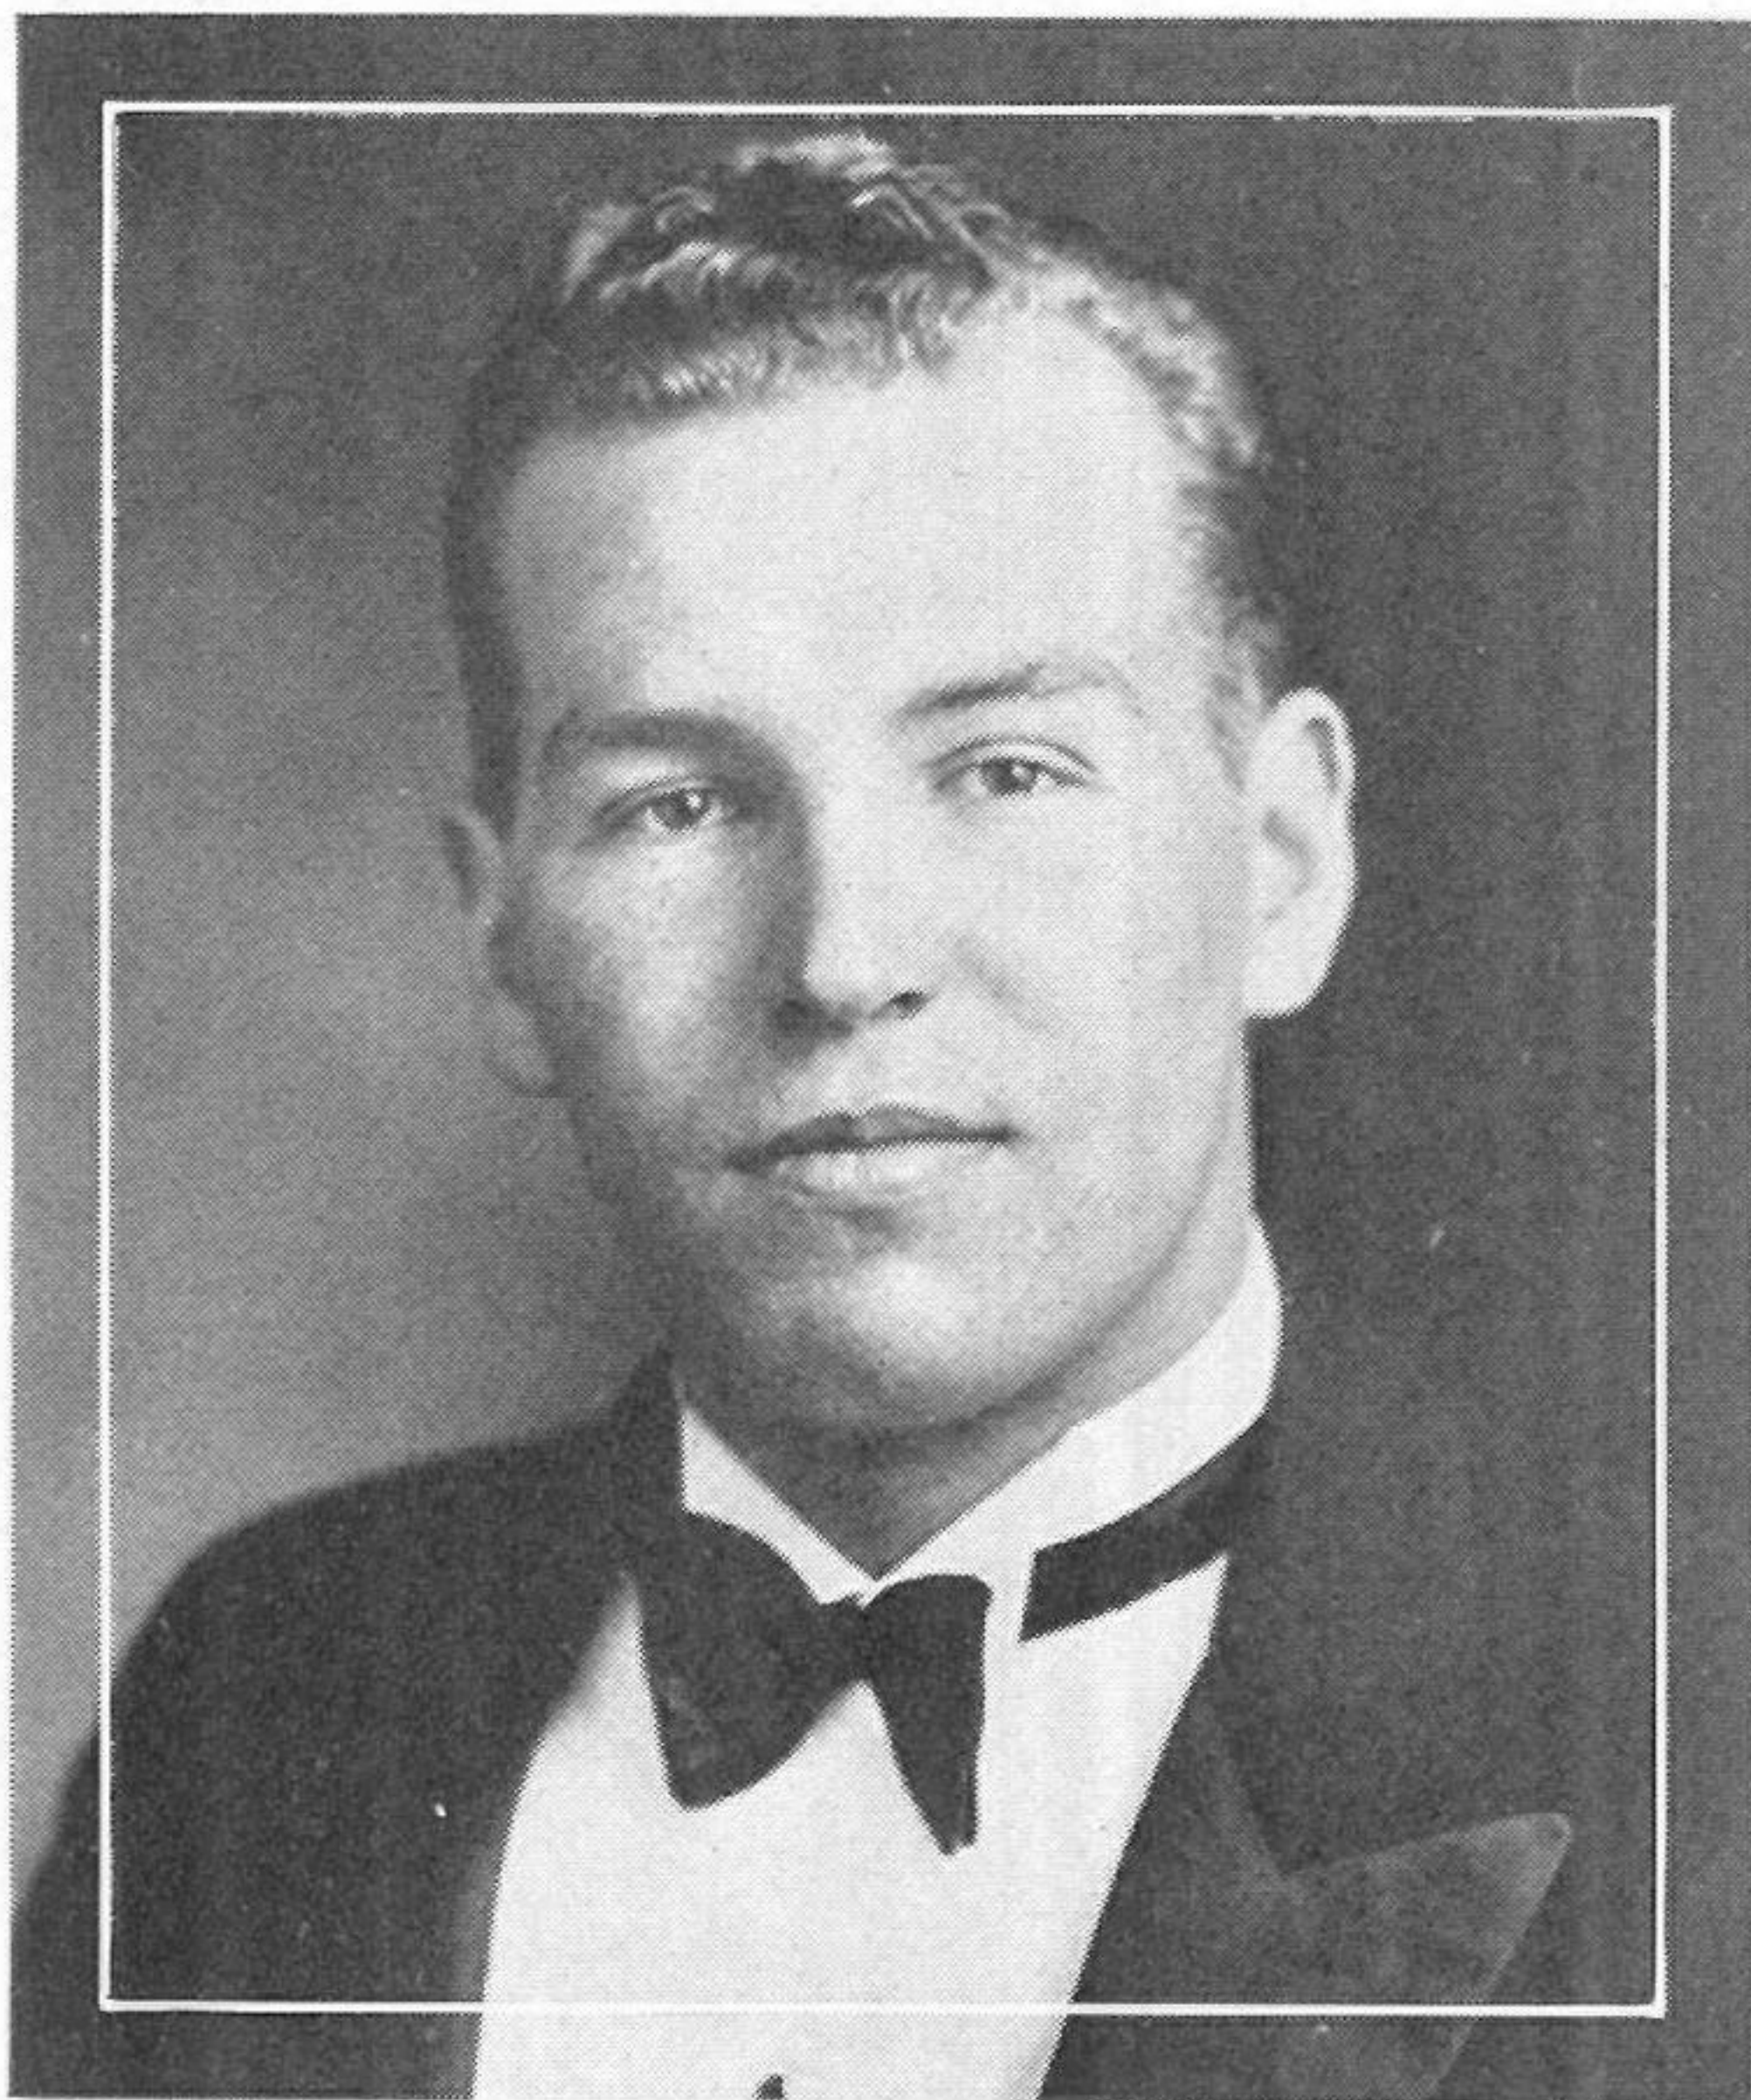

But, oh Lou, the supreme thrill came in a flash when Dan Ranney was crowned "Most Handsome Engineer!"

Eight Juniors were granted the highest scholastic honor attainable in the engineering profession by being pledged to Tau Beta Pi: Bartlett Burns, Angelo Ghiglione, William Hadley, Jack Mackey, George Martin, Edwin Martinson, Francis Myers and Otto Sangder.

By twelve-thirty I had left the Orient behind, Lou, and again was snug within a typical sorority scene.

Dan Ranney

CADET BALL

LOU, the Freshmen certainly got a break at Cadet Ball this year, and what's more they seemed to appreciate it. From now on, I'm all in favor of spring formals.

Dan Ranney, general chairman, and his committee carried out a foreign service motif with the scene laid in the tropic lands of sunshine and siestas. Cadet Ball is given for the pledges to Scabbard and Blade, military honorary. All of the members wore white uniforms. I still maintain, Lou, that I could fall for anything in a uniform.

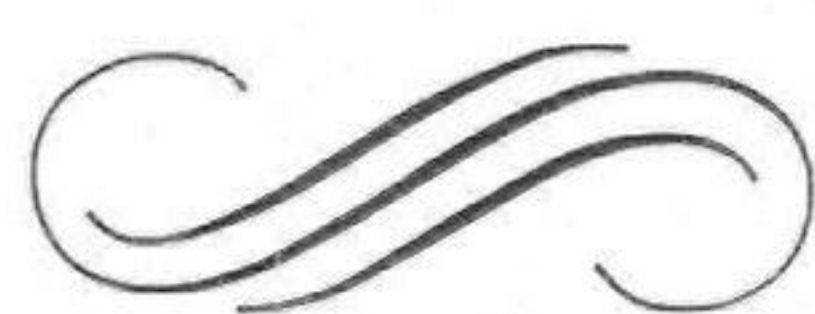

It was so inspiring when they arched their swords for the pledges to walk under that I immediately decided upon a military wedding to go with my European honeymoon. Army customs are plenty picturesque.

With the men in tuxedo jackets and white flannels and the girls in lovely spring formals of pastel hues, it wasn't at all hard to imagine one's self at Waikiki. Not until the last strains of music had died away into the far corners of Eagles Auditorium did I realize that I was actually in Seattle instead of on some tropic isle.

Review of Social Season

IT was a brilliantly artistic thing, that last dance, Lou. Something that enthralled one with its flood of color and yet left a tinge of regret that it was so soon over. For with it, Washington carefully folded away its tuxedos and satins until next year.

In a rush of memory I recall the various affairs of the season. It does not seem eight months ago, Lou, that several hundred pledges, half proudly, half shyly, displayed crisp new ribbons at a dance given by Oval Club at the Wilsonian. But it has been!

On October 25, the Knights of the Hook, under the joint chairmanship of Ken Cosby and Knox Woodruff gave the first All-University informal at the New Washington Hotel. Characteristically, decorations were in the collegiate purple and gold with Hook emblems adding to the atmosphere.

"We're in the Navy now," became the sea cry of the Sophomore informal committee headed by John Forkner as guests were enlisted, November 2, in the Spanish Ballroom of the Olympic Hotel. All Sophomores turned sailors for the occasion and cruised until near midnight.

Virginia Friese

And what do you think, Lou? I actually have my name registered on the police blotter—at the Tennis Club. With Bill Joiner brandishing a dangerous revolver, a crowd of us were herded in to the Junior-Senior Jail dance on the evening of November 22.

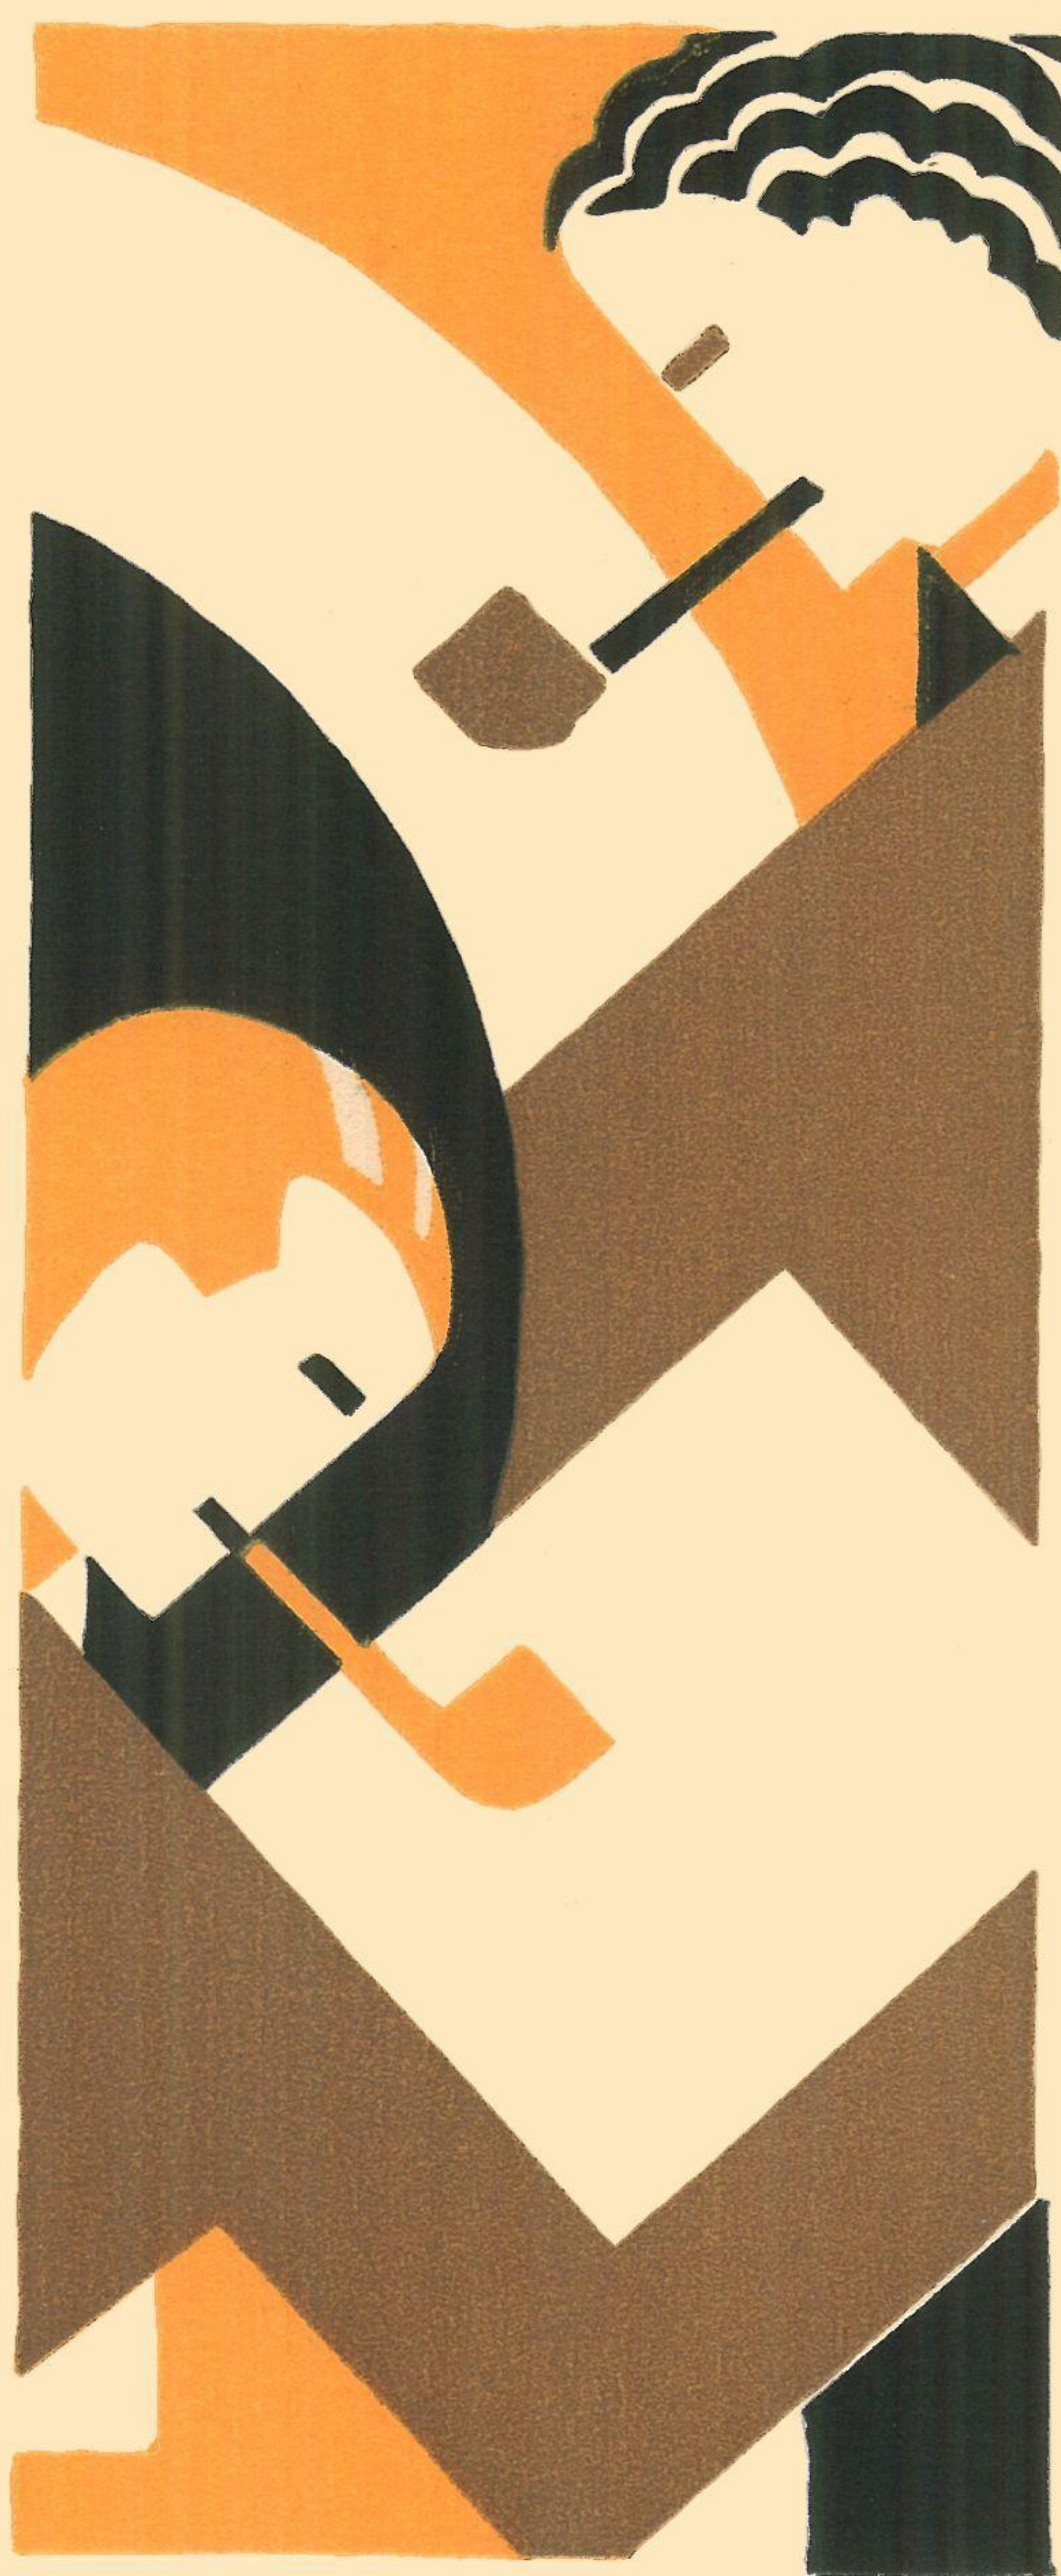

From what I heard, Lou, the Frosh Frolic held at Sand Point Country Club, December 6, was quite an event for the youngsters. Allen Bird, chairman, used a nautical motif both in the fish net decorations and lime water punch.

But the song has ended and the last dance is over. Lights that cast balls of fire and slithering showers of silver against the pale gleam of silks have faded. Not until next year will they awaken, and although I'm leaving, I hope that you'll be here to greet them when they do, Lou.

Your Opportunity and Ours

At this great University with its many and varied educational facilities stands open to you the door of greater service to mankind and benefit to yourself.

Your coming gives us the opportunity of offering the services of a National Bank that has enjoyed for over twenty years the confidence and friendship of the student body

Starting

NOW—you simply press a button. Instantly your motor whirles—ten times faster than strongest human hands could spin it. Starting is immediate, positive—precisely what you expect from finest motor cases. Current is generated abundantly. Stop and start as often as you wish; no electric lighting frills. No today the outboard motor is all that you have forevisioned in it. Its final perfection achieved by those who created it.

Beyond Tomorrow's Dawn

There lies the future, fraught with new concepts of human relations. Fruition rests in the hands of the youth of this new generation. A portion of the responsibility for the development of these men and women belongs to the University, but the greater part devolves upon the business world. Frederick & Nelson, looking beyond tomorrow's dawn, accepts its share in the task of training the leaders for the new day.

Clay Shingles*

THE puff of steam shovels, the rattle of concrete mixers, the whir of truck motors, the clanging of steel, the rap of carpenter's hammer, the click of brick layer's trowel, the whistling of busy men . . . . . all tell the world that men, material and machinery are busily engaged in building monuments to a non-stopping era of growth and progress in our great State of Washington . . . . . a progress in which . . . . .

WA CO Clay Building Products Play an Important Part

In a building program of ever-increasing magnitude, Wa Co Brick, Tile and Terra Cotta are playing no small part. Their matchless qualities of colorful beauty and time-defying durability have won the preference of architect, contractor and builder on almost countless construction jobs among which the following University of Washington buildings are among the outstanding:

SERVING TYEE

Continuously, since 1923, and for many years previous to that, we have been printers to Tyee ❖ ❖ To have so assisted in the creation of a beautiful

1924

1925 series of Memory Volumes, notable among the College Year Books of 1926

America, has been a privilege and "labor amoris" to the craftsmen of the 1927

Lowman & Hanford Company ❖ ❖ Few are the volumes, in these days, issuing from the printer's presses which are predestined to be treasured by every owner, as is the College Year Book, ten, twenty, or fifty years

1928

1929

hence ❖ ❖ To bring to such a work, therefore, the best of the printer's and the book-binder's craft, has been our perennial ambition ❖ ❖
